In the Halstad half of the 4th inning, with two men out, Wally Olen doubled, Froseth walked, and Anderson singled to center, scoring Olen. With men on first and third, coach Ralph Skjod called Sid Vraa to the mound to take over the Prowler hurling duties. On a passed ball, Forseth attempted to score and was thrown out, Hoppe to Sid Vraa, retiring the side. The Prowlers, giving Sid Vraa perfect support, shut out the Pirates over the last three innings. In the 6th, first baseman Cal Vraa speared Don Hanson's line drive, and in the 7th inning, a neatly-executed double play, Sid Vraa to Joey Poole to Cal Vraa, snuffed out a Halstad threat.

Golf's Event-of-the-Year

Local golfing's event-of-the-year will be the Thief River Falls Invitational tournament that will be played over the local course on Saturday and Sunday. The tourney, which is formally called the Thief River Invitational, is better known as the "Pat Sawyer Special," for it is one of the few tournaments that Charles "Pat" Sawyer, the many-time Minnesota state amateur champion, enters. Pat, the winner of the tourney last year, has notified tournament chairman Bob Bredeson that he will be on hand to defend his title.

In addition to Sawyer, the Twin Cities will send up such golfers as Dick Evenson, Gordy Peterson, and several other championship flight contenders.

Bob Bredeson is in hopes that Fargo's Chuck Beyers, last year's medalist, can make arrangements to participate in this year's event. Beyers would add considerable prestige to the tourney for, since he played here last year, he has won the North Dakota state amateur title. There had been a possibility that Keith Jorde, the local club's gift to the University of Minnesota golf team, could get up here for the tourney, but Keith is playing in the NCAA tourney in Colorado this week.

Golfers intending to play in the championship flight on Sunday must play two nine-hole qualifying rounds on Saturday. All other scores, for the flight pairings, must be reported by 9:00 p. m. on Saturday. The championship flight will move off the first tee at 8:30 a. m. on Sunday.

A pre-tournament dinner and get-acquainted gathering will be held at the club house on Saturday evening.

The tournament committee states that spectators will be welcome, and local golf enthusiasts should avail themselves of the opportunity of witnessing the qualifying rounds on Saturday, and the match play on Sunday. It will be golf at a state-best level.

Loren Sid

Sid Vraa, righthanded hurler for the Legion's junior baseball team, turned in "Hal' of Fame" performance last Thursday evening when, in a game played on the Fair Grounds diamond, he pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Fritz Engel's Grand Forks juniors. The game, which ended in a scoreless tie, was called at the end of the 7th inning because of darkness. Joe Bach, the Grand Forks pitcher, nearly matched Sid's performance, for Joe gave up but two hits, with Evan Jones and Duane Glass getting the bingles.

A number of local fans have been confused by the names Loren Vraa and Sid Vraa, believing those names designate a couple of individuals. Loren and Sid are one and the same. Loren is the youngster's given name, but he is becoming better known by his nickname Sid. And he received that monicker from his older brother Cal in this manner. Some years ago Lincoln high school had a student by the name of Sidney Roy, and those of us who can recall Sid will remember that he was a bow-tie addict, and the more flamboyant the tie the better. Well, young Loren, in the grades in those days, obtained a highly-colored bow-tie. When brother Cal got a look at that loud tie, he immediately dubbed Loren the "Vraa family's Sid Roy." Since that time Loren has been called "Sid". In fact, so common has the "Sid" name become in the Vraa family that Ole Vraa, Loren's dad, says that many folks think that he, Ole, has three boys, Cal, Loren and "Sid."

Incidentally, Sid's older brother, Cal is more familiarly known as Mel-Jab. But that is another story.

The Best in Legion Ball

The local Legion's junior baseball team, which gives indications of developing into a district contender, will meet its most dangerous opponent on Thursday evening when, on the Fair Grounds, Coach Darrold King brings his power-packed Red Lake Falls juniors here. Red Lake Falls will have such experienced players as Ken Bombardier, Bozo Emard, and Dick Williams in their lineup, and with that trio as a nucleus, it's a cinch that the Lakers will put a strong team on the field.

On Tuesday evening, June 30th, Irv Wilson has scheduled a return game with Warren, with Coach Ralph Skjod taking the local club to the Marshall county seat.

'53 Tent Caterpillar Season Is Now Ended

Northern Minnesotas' tent caterpillar season is over, T. L. Aamodt, state entomologist, said Friday after completing a survey.

All signs point to a lesser infestation next year.

Sprayed areas escaped damage he said, and tent caterpillars appeared in large numbers only in a few small areas.

"The tent caterpillars now are spinning their cocoons and have practically stopped other activity," he said.

"At the same time, parasite flies have appeared in exceptional abundance.

"These flies are natural enemies of the caterpillars. They lay their grubs on the cocoons. The grubs enter the cocoons and kill the caterpillars.

"This means no moths will emerge from cocoons so attacked and also means fewer caterpillars next season."

Although the flies are so numerous they are temporarily unpleasant, he added, they will complete their work in another two or three weeks and disappear. They do not bite.

Aamodt said the actual damage done by caterpillars — defoliation of trees—was somewhat less than last year and the defoliation had "little if any damaging effect on trees."

Trees which lost their leaves to the tent caterpillars quickly grew new crops because of favorable weather.

Svenskarnas Dag Is Set for Sunday

To Be Held in Minnehaha Park in Minneapolis

The 20th annual Svenskarnas Dag celebration will be held at Minnehaha Park in Minneapolis on Sunday June 28. This event is sponsored by 50 Swedish-American organizations of Minneapolis & St. Paul.

Swedish Day celebration will begin with an open air religious service at 10:30 a. m. conducted by Dr. Oscar A. Benson, president Augustana Lutheran Church of America. There will be Bible reading by Major Anton Olson of the Salvation Army.

During the afternoon program, Montana's Swedish born Governor, the Honorable Hugo Aronson, will be the main speaker. Madam Silas Lindqvist of Stockholm, Sweden, will be featured vocalist, and Gloria Burkhardt, the former Miss Minnesota, will be violin soloist. There will also be songs by the Wennerberg chorus.

A Midsummer Queen will be chosen from the five finalists who were picked in a contest that closed June 6th. All girls of Swedish descent residing in the Upper Midwest, between the ages of 19 and 25, were eligible. These finalists, chosen for their poise, personality, charm, and beauty, were selected by a judging committee composed of Mrs. Dorothy Atkinson Rood, wife of sculptor John Rood, Kenneth Wright, St. Paul photographer, Charles McCuen, WCCO TV newscaster, and Forrest Janstad, editor of the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune. The Governor of Minnesota, E. Elmer Anderson, will crown the most typical young woman of Swedish descent as Midsummer Queen. She will represent Svenskarnas Dag as its entrant in the Minneapolis Aquatennial Queen of the Lakes Contest.

Swedish song, music, and folk dancing will be featured in both the afternoon and evening. The festivities will be climaxed by the traditional dance around the Maypole.

Gov. C. E. Anderson Reviews National Guard at Ripley

Co. F. is One of Units That Passes in Review Last Saturday Morning

Minnesota's 47th division, including Company F of Thief River Falls, stepped off at 10 a. m. to march in review before Gov. C. Elmer Anderson.

South Dakotans of the 19th regional combat team were reviewed by Gov. Sigurd Anderson of South Dakota, who flew to Camp Ripley.

Medals of merit were awarded to four Minnesota national guard officers during the review for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service."

Recipients were Col. Robert M. Douglass, Anoka, executive officer of the 47th division artillery, and one-time Pennington county agent; Col. Harlan D. Bynell, Minneapolis, chief of staff of the 47th; Col. Clyde C. Colwell, St. Paul, and Lt. Col. Gustaf P. Olson, St. Cloud.

North Central Airline Pilots Win Safety Tribute

The pilots of North Central Airlines and Northwest Airlines Monday received Holiday Magazine's 1953 travel citation for "their skill and imposing safety records."

The airline has flown nearly 70 million revenue-passenger miles in its five-year history and has maintained a perfect safety record.

Parcel Post Rates to Rise Shortly

The cost of shipping packages by mail will be raised 36 per cent about Aug. 1, to wipe out one-fourth of a 600-million-dollar annual postal deficit. The inter-state commerce commission authorized the parcel post boost, leaving the effective date to postoffice officials. The increase is expected to add about 150 million dollars a year to postal revenues.

2,500 Forfeited Drivers Licenses in State in May

Drivers licenses of 726 Minnesota motorists were revoked during May and permits of an additional 1,782 were suspended, to bring the total of revocations and suspensions for 1953 to 3,695 and 9,000, respectively. License revocations, according to the Highway Department, are running 45 per cent above last year, while suspensions are 38 per cent ahead of last year's figures.

Conviction of drunken driving charges remains as the chief cause for revocation, with 671 losing their driving rights during May for this reason. For the five-month period, a total of 3,477 permits were revoked following conviction for drunken driving.

Violation of the financial responsibility law brought suspension to 584 drivers during May, with violation of safety responsibility and speeding laws following in close order.

Examinations for Welfare Jobs Open

To be Given in July and Following Months

Examinations for case work and accounting positions with the rural county welfare boards were announced today by G. Warren Peterson, supervisor of the county welfare merit system.

Examinations will be held for social work I, child welfare worker I and accounting officer. These jobs are common to many county welfare offices throughout the state.

Applications for the social worker and child welfare worker examinations will be accepted until January 15, 1954, while applications for accounting officer will be accepted indefinitely. Examinations will be given in July and periodically thereafter.

Beginning salaries for social worker I positions vary from $264 to $288 per month; for child welfare worker I, from $276 to $300 per month; and for accounting officer from $210 to $230 per month.

Applicants for the social worker I examination should be college graduates but social case work experience may be substituted for a part of the college training. Candidates for the position of child welfare worker I must have social case work experience or graduate training in social work in addition to undergraduate college training.

Peterson urged that persons interested in these examinations apply immediately. Application forms and additional information can be obtained at any county welfare board office or local state employment service office.

DOING VERY WELL

Still obedient to the parental directives of our youth to be ever sympathetic to the problems of the needy we dedicated ourselves this past week-end to visiting one of the backward sections of the state, observing first hand how our poor are getting along. After traveling up and down and over and back across the state's Arrowhead country we are happy to report to the good citizens of our rich community that our neighbors to the east of us are doing very well thank you.

A few miles this side of Duluth an oil refinery is now operating. It is the overhead evidence of an underground current of oil that now flows across our northern half of the state. And for most practical purposes a man-made stream of crude oil is just as good as one provided by nature. Northeastern Minnesota is now in the oil business.

On the other side of Duluth, a few miles up the North Shore drive, we marvelled at the magnitude of a development now in the starting stages. At Beaver Bay will be one of several new plants for the processing of low grade ore, tranforming heretofore worthless minerals into a marketable product. Hundreds of millions of dollars are being invested in this type of development and new cities will be built around bigger and more dependable payrolls.

Eastward and northward we passed through great forests that produce a crop of raw materials for our paper mills and wood processing plants. Here was the base for another giant industry, one that is providing increasing returns from the sales of the products of a natural resource that is growing, and with this growth increased employment.

Thruout an enormous wilderness area are marvelous lakes and streams and well developed and well managed tourist facilities, providing well for an endless stream of vacationing guests. As the guests move on their dollars remain to pay for the services that have been provided for them. Here too is a hefty payroll.

Returning along the crest of the state's iron ranges we found activity everywhere. Trainloads of ore were being rushed to the docks for lake shipment and empty trains were being hustled back to be reloaded. In the cities and villages new homes were being built and there were many other evidences of prosperity.

And so, we came home better pleased than ever before with the northern half of this state of ours. We have always had confidence in the future of the western portion of this northern area. Now we know that the future of the eastern portion is also secure. We are very happy.

If we now could figure out a way to give Southern Minnesota and the Twin Cities back to Wisconsin we would have a great state.

BE FIT, BE FIT

A Minnesota man, safely back from a North Korean red army prison, told St. Paul Jaycees recently that American soldiers did not survive the rigors of prison life as well as did the soldiers of other nations. "Fifty per cent of our boys died," he said, "but hardly any of the Turks. Why didn't the Turks die? Because they were tough. Our boys were not tough."

This is the sort of thing we do not like to hear. That of course may be a good reason why we should hear it. Certainly it's an effective argument against putting unprepared men into fighting units. It is an effective argument in favor of properly training and conditioning our men before they go into battle. It is an effective argument in favor of effective military training.

In the world of today, when we know that we probably are going to be forced to maintain a large civilian army over a period of many years, and that that civilian army may be forced into combat with the professional soldiers of militaristic nations, we know that to give our young men effective military training is to improve their chances, and ours, of survival.

Rudyard Kipling, the rhyming reporter of a hundred campaigns, told his people the same thing a half a century ago. Here is one of his appeals:

Nations have passed away and left no traces,
And History gives the naked cause of it —
One single, simple reason in all cases,
They fell because their people were not fit.

Nothing on earth—no Arts, no Gifts nor Graces—
No Fame, no Wealth—outweighs the want of it:
This is the Law which every law embraces —
Be fit—be fit! In mind and body be fit.

There is one lesson at all Times and Places—
One changeless Truth on all things changing writ,
For boys and girls, men, women, nations, races—

To Cut Dependency

A program is being developed here in Minnesota which very likely may have some surprising results in relieving our greatest social problem.

Jarle Leirfallom, our state commissioner of welfare, started it some two years ago. He said:

"Our biggest social problem is not crime, or juvenile delinquency, ill health or mental illness, but dependency. Dependency has grown until we have more than 100,000 persons in Minnesota who must rely upon public agencies for support. We have spent a billion dollars in a generation to care for dependency. Yet, we have carried on no real research to ascertain the causes of this huge problem or to seek an adequate remedy."

Jarle proposed to find the answers. He organized an extensive research program and investigators soon were digging into records and family histories to ascertain the extent and nature of dependency and determine what might be done about it. Importance of the study and reasonableness of the approach attracted national attention to the Minnesota effort. Community Research Associates of New York, an organization engaged in surveys for community betterment, interested itself in the Minnesota plan in co-operation with the Hill Family Foundation.

Steps in Program

Step by step, the inquiry expanded. Our welfare department and the agencies co-operating with it in the project agreed upon a plan of study, and development of this plan now is well under way.

1. It was decided that Community Research Associates should make a study of a typical Minnesota community to ascertain all factors causing or affecting dependency. Winona was selected for this study.

2. The survey of Winona has been completed, and the experts now are engaged on the second step—custom' building' a community plan that will reduce dependency in Winona.

3. In a few months, it is planned, there will begin a test of the effectiveness of the program in combating dependency.

4. If the plan works, detailed reports of the program and experience with it will be forwarded to communities throughout the country for possible assistance in organizing their resources to combat dependency.

Jobs For the Handicapped

I was pleased to get reports of the progress being made in employment of handicapped workers at the recent meeting of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Employment Service placed qualified handicapped workers in 7,000 non-agricultural and 1,500 agricultural jobs in 1952 and the first five months of this year—The State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation trained and equipped 746 handicapped persons, living in 76 counties, to take regular employment last year, with estimated earnings of $1,717,065 annually—The State Services for the Blind reported 600 Minnesota blind persons are employed in industrial jobs and 110 more in sheltered shops for the blind.—During the past year, the Veterans' Administration trained 875 Minnesota disabled veterans in new jobs that offer gainful employment and, with the help of the State Employment Service, found work for many.

"When Convalescence Isn't Quick"

Ordinarily it is agreed that a person, when ill, is likely to follow his usual personality patterns. The adolescent, though, may be caught by an illness at a time when he is feeling anxious about his place in his group, because most adolescents do feel such anxiety during the growing-up years. Then an illness which requires prolonged quiet and rest may be more disturbing. Generally it is not the illness itself which worries him as much as it is the limitations of his activities, his actual physical confinement, and the risk of losing his identity in his group of friends.

Depending on his previous patterns of adjustment, the young adolescent who is ill may accept the fact of his illness in a variety of ways. He may enjoy it for the undivided attention which it brings him; he may become so preoccupied with himself that he loses interest in other things. This is a danger that can be counteracted by helping him appreciate the actual place that he still has in family life, while still restricting the amount of time that he occupies the center of the stage.

Perhaps the adolescent will be sensitive and self-conscious about his illness or physical handicap—It will help here if his parents can encourage continued contacts with his school mates and friends. There may be a short time when he is too ill to be allowed visitors, but notes and phone calls will help here. Even if he is not allowed to talk to a friend on the telephone, just knowing that the friend has called and asked about him is a lift to his morale.

The illness can be a real learning experience if he takes part in the planning process. With sensible explanation of the restrictions, the adolescent can make reasonable decisions about his activities; he can help plan his schedule and reach agreement with his parents as to which things he can do independently and which must for a time be done for him. He can not only participate in planning his diet, but will be more cooperative in sticking to it, if he understands how the restrictions work to benefit him. Throughout the convalescent period, the understanding of others will help him maintain the "give and take" essentials of a normal life.

The chemical industry, which depends upon coal for a large portion of its source materials, will have to increase today's output by three-and-a-half times in order to meet demands in the coming quarter-century.

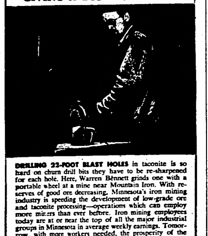
GIVING A BIT MORE BITE



DRILLING 22-FOOT BLAST HOLES in taconite is so hard on churn drill bits they have to be re-sharpened for each hole. Here, Warren Bennett grinds one with a portable wheel at a mine near Mountain Iron. With reserves of good ore decreasing, Minnesota's iron mining industry is speeding the development of low-grade ore and taconite processing—operations which can employ more miners than ever before. Iron mining employees today are at or near the top of all the major industrial groups in Minnesota in average weekly earnings. Tomorrow, with more workers needed, the prosperity of the iron ranges can become even greater—with more benefits for the entire state. A fair deal for Minnesota's iron mining industry means a good deal for you.

A Letter to Cedric Adams

Listening to a Cedric Adams' radio show prompted one woman to write recently, "I thought you might be interested in what happened to us—and can happen to anyone."

The letter went on to say, "My husband had to be taken to a hospital where his condition was critical for weeks. The hospital bill alone was over $600.00.

"Now, without any income, but with the bills steadily mounting, no one knows better than I what a wonderful thing it would have been if we had been protected by Blue Cross."

Cedric Adams is the WCCO radio representative for Blue Cross. On the program which prompted this letter, Cedric had told his audience about the new Blue Cross $25 Deductible plan.

"This new plan," Cedric said, "pays all board and room costs in a hospital room with two or more beds. It also covers all important hospital expenses such as all operating room costs, approved drugs, laboratory services, and many more.

"Subscribers to this new plan pay only the first $25 of the total allowances on their hospital statement whatever the amount," Cedric said.

Complete free details on this $25 Deductible plan that provides such complete protection at such a low cost may be obtained by writing directly to Minnesota Blue Cross, Dept. WP-8, 2610 University Ave., St. Paul 14, Minn. Postcard will do.

In Memoriam

"Thy word have I hid in my heart."
We search the world for truth.
We cull the good, the true, the beautiful,
From graven stone and written scroll,
And all the flower fields of the soul;
And, weary seekers of the best,
We come back laden from our quest,
To find that all the sages said
Is in the book our mothers read.

Tribute to Nurses

In God's beautiful garden,
There is a band of helpful maids,
That had sacrificed home and comfort,
To give the suffering aid.
And when at break of day,
They greet you with a smile,
You'll find that all night some knew,
They've cooled your fevered brow.
So let who'er be
Mindful of this band of helpful maids,
And say real often,
God bless these that give the suffering aid. — Mrs. Helen Sunday Curtis LaFleur. 25p

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

THE VETERAN ASKS:

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: I work on a farm that's owned and operated by my uncle. As a Korean veteran, would I be allowed to take institutional on-farm training under the Korean GI Bill?

A: Under your present arrangement, you would not be permitted to take the training. The law requires that you be assured of control of your farm either by ownership, lease or some other arrangement—so that you'll be free to put into practice what you learn in school.

Q: I served in the WAC since Korea. I'm planning to go to school under the Korean GI Bill. Would I be permitted to claim my husband as a dependent, in order to get a higher monthly education and training allowance?

A: Under the law, you may claim your husband as a dependent only if he is actually dependent on you. You may not claim him if he is earning a livelihood.

Q: I served in the Commissioned Corps of the U. S. Public Health Service. Would my service entitle me to the education benefits of the Korean GI Bill?

A: You would be entitled to the benefits so long as you were a Public Health Service officer on active duty since Korea, under detail by proper authority, with any branch of the armed forces.

Q: I am an accountant. I've just been released from service after two years in the Army. Could I take a refresher course in accounting under the Korean GI Bill?

A: The Korean GI Bill prohibits veterans from taking courses leading to objectives for which they already are qualified. For that reason, you would not be permitted to take a refresher course in accounting.

'Mrs. Minnesota' to Be Picked in Contest at Detroit Lakes July 10

Married women of the Thief River Falls Community have been invited to participate in the "Mrs. Minnesota" contest at Detroit Lakes July 10 during the 18th Annual Northwest Water Carnival. Minnesota's outstanding homemaker and prettiest married woman will be selected by competent judges.

The winner will get a trip to Asbury Park, N. J., all expenses paid, to compete in the national "Mrs. America" finals September 13.

Numerous other prizes will be awarded to "Mrs. Minnesota," according to Northwest Water Carnival officials.

In addition to the coveted title, the national winner will receive $10,000 worth of prizes for herself and her home, and a four-week victory tour of the country immediately after her selection.

Contestants at Detroit Lakes will be judged 50 per cent on the basis of homemaker skill and 50 per cent on beauty. All contest entrants must answer a homemaking quiz, and finalists will have to display an article they have sewn on a family sewing machine.

Every married woman residing in this area, regardless of age, is eligible to compete for the "Mrs. Minnesota" title at Detroit Lakes. Entry blank may be obtained by writing to Robert Irvine or Duane Carlson, Mrs. Minnesota Contest Directors, Northwest Water Carnival, Detroit Lakes, Minnesota. Entry form gives full instructions and must be returned before July 6.

The spirit of beloved childhood tales rather than a biography of Andersen provides the basis of the $4,000,000 Technicolor production, "Hans Christian Andersen." In this scene Danny Kaye is dreaming up the entrancing song-and-story number, "The King's New Clothes," one of eight Frank Loesser songs in the melodic score. Starring Kaye and Farley Granger, the film introduces Paris-born ballerina, Jeanmaire, as the new screen star. Starting at the Avalon Friday for 5 days.

Schenkey Is Low Bidder on Big Job

Marshall County Plans to Rebuild Great Eastern

Oscar Schenkey, Middle River contractor, was the low bidder for the rebuilding of the 10.9 miles of State Aid Road 3, commonly known as the Great Eastern highway, when bids were opened by the Marshall county board in special session at Warren recently.

Schenkey's bid for the project which includes grading, and surfacing with crushed and screened gravel totaled $77,424.10. His bid was accepted subject to final approval by the Minnesota state highway department and the federal bureau of public roads. This approval is expected within 10 days, which will permit work to start before July 1.

There were seven bidders for the contract which is the largest single road construcion job that has been let in the county.

The project located northeast of Warren will extend from the Burnside school corner to the Old Mill State Park road. Specifications call for 246,405 cubic yards of excavation for the grade and 13,149 cubic yards of gravel.

Legion Auxiliary

With our new president, Mrs. Edor Anderson, presiding, the regular meeting of the Newfolden American Legion Auxiliary was held in the clubhouse June 18.

After the ceremonial service, the audience sang "America". The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Anderson gave a brief report of the district convention held at Crookston. Our club contributed $5 to the fund to send 9th district band to this year's national convention to be held in St. Louis, Mo.

A motion was made and carried to send a representative to Girls' State next year. This has proved to be a most worthwhile cause. The delegate is chosen from the junior class in high school, with citizenship qualities such as leadership determining the selection.

It was also decided to hold a poppy poster contest next year. Mrs. Anderson appointed Mrs. Irv. Tvedt as chairman.

Saturday, June 27, was chosen as the date for our first bake sale this summer. Items will be on sale in the Smeby Hardware Store beginning at 7 p. m. All members are asked to bring baked goods equivalent to approximately one dollar. Mrs. Howard Wergeland, Mrs. Evonne Olson, and Mrs. Tvedt will have charge of this sale. We plan to have several more sales throughout the summer.

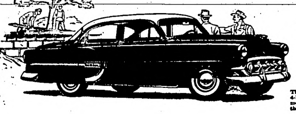
This advertisement is the third in a special series which began over a year ago, and which is designed to give you, as a prospective buyer, detailed and helpful information. We'd be happy to have your comments about this type of advertising.



This is the 1953 Chevrolet Bel Air 4-Door Sedan. It's one of 16 Chevrolet models in 3 series, which add up to the widest choice in the low-price field.

Some Chevrolet advantages worth considering when you're ready to choose a car...

Next to a new house, a car is probably your most important purchase. Here are some facts to help you make up your mind about which make to buy.

Don't you agree that it's well worthwhile to weigh all the factors carefully before you buy any new car? Let's consider the major reasons why people choose one make over another and see how the 1953 Chevrolet stands in those respects.

Styling You Can Stay Proud Of

Styling, of course, is a matter of personal taste. Because we think Chevrolet is the best-looking car in its field, doesn't necessarily mean you'll think so, too. But we can tell you that the majority of our showroom visitors prefer Chevrolet styling and compare its appearance most favorably with cars costing a great deal more.

And you might consider this: Chevrolet styling is the newest in its field. It's the kind of styling that stays new, too. For it is based, not on fads or extremes, but on the fundamentals of good, modern design.

The One Automobile Body Almost Everybody Knows

It's not really surprising that so many people prefer Chevrolet's appearance. For Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. And Fisher, as you know, is the only automobile body manufacturer with a world-wide reputation for styling, craftsmanship and quality.

The Many Benefits of High-Compression Power

When you drive a new Chevrolet (and we hope you'll do that soon), you'll notice these things: faster acceleration from a standing start; greater passing ability in traffic and on the highway; the new ease with which you climb steep hills.

These are just some of the benefits of Chevrolet's new high-compression power. In gearshift models, there is an advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine with a 7.1 to 1 compression ratio. Teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission* is an entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. It is the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field.

A Great Gain in Gasoline Economy

Along with remarkable new performance, Chevrolet's advanced engines give you far greater gasoline mileage. In fact, this year marks the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And that includes substantial savings on over-all upkeep, as well as on gasoline.

New Getaway in the New Powerglide*

The new Powerglide automatically drops into "Low" range for starting and for passing in city traffic. Then, as you glide along, it slips smoothly and almost imperceptibly into cruising range. The results are much faster and more positive acceleration, and much lower fuel consumption.

The First Power Steering in a Low-Priced Car

This year's Chevrolet is the only car in its field to offer you the extra ease and convenience of Power Steering, optional at extra cost. With it, you can spin the wheel with the strength of one finger. You can seesaw in and out of tight parking places without the slightest strain. You get an additional cushion against road shocks and jars. Driving is easier, safer.

A Smoother and a Safer Ride

Chevrolet is the heaviest low-priced car. Model for model, a Chevrolet will weigh as much as 200 pounds more than the other makes. You often hear people say they buy high-priced cars because they're heavier, hold the road better and ride better. Well, isn't it logical, then, that Chevrolet's extra weight (which comes from extra strength of body and frame) would result in a better ride?

Chevrolet is the Lowest-Priced Line

Certainly, price is one of the most important factors of all. We're glad to be able to tell you that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field.

Now, you might well ask, "How can Chevrolet offer me more and still cost less?" There is a simple, logical answer to that.

Remember that Chevrolet builds more cars than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet, along with General Motors, has greater facilities for research, for engineering and production. So, isn't it reasonable that these greater facilities bring manufacturing advantages and economies which Chevrolet can pass on to you in terms of higher quality at lower price?

An Endorsement Given No Other Car

Again this year, more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. Obviously that wouldn't be true unless people liked Chevrolet better. Unless Chevrolet offered more things people want—more value.

So, when you're ready to choose your new car, wouldn't you agree that Chevrolet merits your careful consideration? We welcome your visit at any time, so that you can look the car over yourself and try it out on the road.

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

Much of the research work is of a "classified" nature hence not always open to visitors.

Broad-leaved lawn weeds are easily killed at this time of year. Wait until a still day when temperatures are above 60 degrees F. Then spray with a preparation of 2,4-D that is recommended for lawns. Some of the preparations for field use are highly volatile and might cause serious injury to nearby shrubbery or flowers.

Use a knapsack-type pressure sprayer or an attachment that fits the end of the garden hose. It's best to use one sprayer for 2,4-D alone. If you find it necessary to use the sprayer to control insects or diseases on garden crops, rinse the sprayer well with soapy water and a little household ammonia.

Killing broad-leaved weeds like dandelions and broad-leaved plantain will not prevent a reinfestation unless the fertility of the soil is improved and thin spots are reseeded. A dense growth of grass is the best permanent control for lawn weeds.

In addition to the dandelions and plantain, there are certain other broad-leaved weeds like chickweed and creeping charlie. These may require several applications, as they are harder to kill. Potassium cyanate, recommended for crab grass, does a good job on the chickweed.

In using 2,4-D be careful of flowers and shrubbery. A little spray on these may kill them. That's why it's so important to spray only on a quiet day.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics industry has been moving west since the end of World War II. California and Texas have benefited largely by this redistribution of factories, although New York still leads in total industrial employment with 5,800,000 workers.

EXTENSION HORTICULTURISTS
UNIVERSITY FARM, ST. PAUL 1, MINN.

Broad-leaved lawn weeds are easily killed at this time of year. Wait until a still day when temperatures are above 60 degrees F. Then spray with a preparation of 2,4-D that is recommended for lawns. Some of the preparations for field use are highly volatile and might cause serious injury to nearby shrubbery or flowers.

Use a knapsack-type pressure sprayer or an attachment that fits the end of the garden hose. It's best to use one sprayer for 2,4-D alone. If you find it necessary to use the sprayer to control insects or diseases on garden crops, rinse the sprayer well with soapy water and a little household ammonia.

Killing broad-leaved weeds like dandelions and broad-leaved plantain will not prevent a reinfestation unless the fertility of the soil is improved and thin spots are reseeded. A dense growth of grass is the best permanent control for lawn weeds.

In addition to the dandelions and plantain, there are certain other broad-leaved weeds like chickweed and creeping charlie. These may require several applications, as they are harder to kill. Potassium cyanate, recommended for crab grass, does a good job on the chickweed.

In using 2,4-D be careful of flowers and shrubbery. A little spray on these may kill them. That's why it's so important to spray only on a quiet day.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics industry has been moving west since the end of World War II. California and Texas have benefited largely by this redistribution of factories, although New York still leads in total industrial employment with 5,800,000 workers.

Waterfowl, Big Game Attract Attention at Mud Lake Refuge

Waterfowl and big game young on Mud Lake refuge are attracting the attention of refuge personnel and visitors. Ducklings, goslings, fawns and moose calves are appearing in ever increasing numbers.

Refuge personnel are looking forward to a productive year in spite of cold, rainy weather which slowed down the start of the nesting season. Broods of mallard ducklings were the first to appear because of the adult's early arrival and nesting. Substantial numbers of other ducks—blue-winged teal, gadwell, baldpate and ring-neck—give promise of a large hatch.

Many breeding pairs of Canada geese have been observed this spring in addition to the 125 birds held captive in the 150 acre goose pen. These wild pairs are from broods of previous years which have returned to Mud Lake to nest. This summer's young, plus the migrating birds that are decoyed into the refuge by the captive goose flock, should add up to excellent goose hunting this fall.

Big game animals attempt to protect their young. The doe white-tailed deer, a very cautious mother, keeps her fawn well hidden from the time of its birth in early June until it is several weeks old. The spotted fawn then begins to follow his mother around. Most fawns stay with their mother until they are about one year old.

In contrast to the cautious deer, the cow moose is sometimes quite bold in defending her calf. While on a routine survey, two refuge employees came upon a day-old moose calf. When they tried to get near enough to take pictures of the calf, the enraged cow rushed out of the brush at them.

The only protection available was some small saplings which bent under their weight. Fortunately, the cow stopped her charge just short of the trees when she caught the human scent. She shook her head angrily in the men's direction, then wheeled and retreated to heavy cover. Both men heaved a sigh of relief.

Farm Equipment Threat to Driving After Nightfall

Motorists driving on rural roads and highways were warned today by the Minnesota Safety Council to be on the look-out for farm equipment which might be on the roadways after dark as it is being moved in the course of cultivating or harvesting operations.

Many farmers are cultivating corn and beginning haying and are often forced to use the roadways after sundown in moving their equipment from one field to another. Their equipment may not be properly lighted because it may on the roadway for only a brief time. This time, however, can be enough to cause a serious accident. Motorists are therefore cautioned to drive with extra care in rural areas during this busy time of year and take extra precautions against these seasonal hazards to safe driving.

Mill City Firms Buy $125,000 Bond Issue at Warren

Three Minneapolis financial firms purchased the city of Warren revenue bond issue of $125,000, funds from which will be used to finance the purchase and installation of the new diesel powered generating unit at the Warren municipal power plant. The successful bidder, J. M. Dain & Co., associated with Allison-Williams Company and Piper, Jaffray and Hopwood, took the issue at 3.20 per cent interest with a premium of $125. With the premium off for the bonds, the interest rate will be a net of 3.19 per cent, said Chas. J. Carlson, city clerk.

East Grand Forks Girl, in Coma for a Year, Back Home

Mary Patricia Enright returned to her farm home near East Grand Forks, Wednesday—still in a daze.

The 12-year-old youngster has been in a semi-coma since Mar. 1952. She was in Minneapolis for a month undergoing examination at University of Minnesota hospitals.

While in Minneapolis, Mary Patricia celebrated her 12th birthday.

"She smiled a little bit when we gave her the birthday presents," said her father, James Enright, who operates a 160-acre stock farm.

On March 4, 1952, Mary Patricia was struck by a truck while walking home from school.

At first, Mary Patricia was in a deep coma. In recent months, however, she has regained a little muscular control and her eyes are open.

"She recognizes her mother and me, now," Enright said. "And she knows the nurse who's been taking care of her."

Enright said doctors at University hospitals do not believe surgery will help Mary Patricia. "They think if Mary Pat can receive loving care and rest, she may recover," he added.

Waterfowl, Big Game Attract Attention at Mud Lake Refuge

Waterfowl and big game young on Mud Lake refuge are attracting the attention of refuge personnel and visitors. Ducklings, goslings, fawns and moose calves are appearing in ever increasing numbers.

Refuge personnel are looking forward to a productive year in spite of cold, rainy weather which slowed down the start of the nesting season. Broods of mallard ducklings were the first to appear because of the adult's early arrival and nesting. Substantial numbers of other ducks—blue-winged teal, gadwell, baldpate and ring-neck—give promise of a large hatch.

Many breeding pairs of Canada geese have been observed this spring, in addition to the 125 birds held captive in the 150 acre goose pen. These wild pairs are from broods of previous years which have returned to Mud Lake to nest. This summer's young, plus the migrating birds that are decoyed into the refuge by the captive goose flock, should add up to excellent goose hunting this fall.

Big game animals attempt to protect their young. The doe white-tailed deer, a very cautious mother, keeps her fawn well hidden, from the time of its birth in early June until it is several weeks old. The spotted fawn then begins to follow his mother around. Most fawns stay with their mother until they are about one year old.

In contrast to the cautious doe, the cow moose is sometimes quite bold in defending her calf. While on a routine survey, two refuge employees came upon a day-old moose calf. When they tried to get near enough to take pictures of the calf, the enraged cow rushed out of the brush at them.

The only protection available was some small saplings which bent under their weight. Fortunately, the cow stopped her charge just short of the trees when she caught the human scent. She shook her head angrily in the men's direction, then wheeled and retreated to heavy cover. Both men heaved a sigh of relief.

Farm Equipment Threat to Driving After Nightfall

Motorists driving on rural roads and highways were warned today by the Minnesota Safety Council to be on the look-out for farm equipment which might be on the roadways after dark as it is being moved in the course of cultivating or harvesting operations.

Many farmers are cultivating corn and beginning haying and are often forced to use the roadways after sundown in moving their equipment from one field to another. Their equipment may not be properly lighted because it may on the roadway for only a brief time. This time, however, can be enough to cause a serious accident. Motorists are therefore cautioned to drive with extra care in rural areas during this busy time of year and take extra precautions against these seasonal hazards to safe driving.

Mill City Firms Buy $125,000 Bond Issue at Warren

Three Minneapolis financial firms purchased the city of Warren revenue bond issue of $125,000, funds from which will be used to finance the purchase and installation of the new diesel powered generating unit at the Warren municipal power plant. The successful bidder, J. M. Dain & Co. associated with Allison-Williams Company and Piper, Jaffray and Hopwood, took the issue at 3.20 per cent interest with a premium of $125. With the premium off for the bonds, the interest rate will be a net of 3.19 per cent, said Chas. J. Carlson, city clerk.

This is the largest single shipment of coffee ever made in Minnesota, and is enough to make 69,000,000 cups of coffee for Minnesota coffee drinkers.

East Grand Forks Girl, in Coma for a Year, Back Home

Mary Patricia Enright returned to her farm home near East Grand Forks, Wednesday—still in a daze.

The 12 year-old youngster has been in a semi-coma since Mar. 1952. She was in Minneapolis for a month undergoing examination at University of Minnesota hospitals.

While in Minneapolis, Mary Patricia celebrated her 12th birthday.

"She smiled a little bit when we gave her the birthday presents," said her father, James Enright, who operates a 160-acre stock farm.

On March 4, 1952, Mary Patricia was struck by a truck while walking home from school.

At first, Mary Patricia was in a deep coma. In recent months, however, she has regained a little muscular control and her eyes are open.

"She recognizes her mother and me, now," Enright said. "And she knows the nurse who's been taking care of her."

Enright said doctors at University hospitals do not believe surgery will help Mary Patricia. "They think if Mary Pat can receive loving care and rest, she may recover," he added.

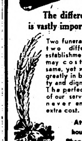
SPOTLIGHT ON BANKERS

Fifty-one Minnesota bankers are now in proud possession of the 50-year plaque awarded for half a century of banking service.—Wallace L. Boss of St. Paul, new president Minnesota Bankers, succeeds S. J. Kryzsko and G. S. Bacon—a search of the records failed to reveal a "Spry" but clearly indicated that most MBA members qualify for that title.—Earliest living president MBA is O. W. Lundstep who served from Hutchinson 1915-16, and now lives at Excelsior.

NATURE NOTES . . .

Fall and winter fence-row burning is said to accomplish little but fence damage and unnecessary hardship on small game.—Frank R. Bergren died last winter after 40 years as depot agent at Lafayette—this spring his pet robin that had been around the depot the last twelve years, did not show up. Friends wonder if there is a connection.—Two apricot trees in beautiful bloom were the pride and joy of Springfield this spring.



The difference is vastly important

Two funerals at two different establishments may cost the same, yet vary greatly in beauty and dignity. The perfection of our services never entails extra cost.

THE LUTHERAN TENT MISSION invites you to ATTEND THE
EVANGELISTIC TENT MEETINGS
Beginning June 28 at the Thief River Falls Gospel Tent
8:00 P. M. NIGHTLY
Meeting Sunday Afternoons at 2:30

Not everyone in Thief River Falls likes Tent Meetings

In a recent article found in Trinity Lutheran Church "Tidings" is found the following words concerning Tent Meetings of the Lutheran Tent Mission. "The pastors of the Three Churches mentioned above (Trinity, Zion and First Lutheran) decided that participation would imply approval of methods and teachings which were outside of the Lutheran tradition and doctrine."

Thus they charge irresponsibility without proof to the pastors and laymen on the board of the Lutheran Tent Mission which board is made up completely of pastors and members in good standing in at least three Lutheran Synods which incidently, are the same synodical groups of which Trinity, Zion and First Lutheran are a part. This propaganda was sent through the United States Mails.

Since this information was put into the hands of a great many persons and since the reputation of many of us pastors and evangelists is at stake, we have a right to know if these three pastors who accuse us can prove by the Word of God and the Augsburg Confession that we are guilty of false teaching or false methods in the Christian Church Universal and more specifically in this case, in the Lutheran Church. Let the proof, I say, come from the Word of God and not from twentieth century practice or heretical tradition.

The forthcoming meetings, I believe, shall declare the purpose of the Church of Christ in the world, the individual churches of this city, and the need for an evangelistic tent mission. They all have their place. Souls need Christ or they shall be forever lost in the pit of Hell. There are many persons in our churches today, though they have been baptized and confirmed or have had an emotional experience at some time in some church meeting or evangelistic rally, yet they need to be Saved and Know it with assurance. The whole new Testament verifies this. The writings of Martin Luther, John Wesley, John Knox, and others plus a host of contemporary writers and preachers in both Lutheran and Reformed Churches sustain me in this.

Let us in these closing years of America's freedom under the Stars and Stripes make full use of our freedom to win the lost to Jesus Christ who healed us with "His Stripes" making us His "stars" forever and ever.

With love and impartiality, and in the capacity of being in charge of this advertising piece in the absence of the pastor in charge, I want to invite you all—Pastors and laymen of ALL the churches in the Thief River Falls area and all those without any church affiliation whatsoever to participate in the Lutheran Tent Meetings June 28 through July 12, to sing together the songs of the Gospel and to Hear the Word of God and to pray for Revival and Awakening so tragically needed in Thief River Falls.

Sincerely,

RAYMOND B. MARTIN, EVANGELIST
PRESIDENT OF TRUMPETSOUND INSTITUTE

How to make and keep good hay . . .

First . . . cut your hay crop at the right stage of growth . . . when it's leafy, green in color, fine-stemmed and high in protein.

You can get the job done fast . . . ahead of weather—with an Allis-Chalmers No. 5 Mower. It's side-mounted, with hydraulic lift and double V-belt drive.

Second . . . bale your hay as quickly as windrows cure, with your own ROTO-BALER. It saves the leaves and big capacity turns out fast tonnage. One-man operation saves labor.

Third . . . store your ROLLED bales as time permits. Why ROLLED bales? Leaf loss is reduced to a minimum . . . stem and leaves are rolled in with smooth roll-up compression. ROLLED bales resist moisture and rain and are the only bales that give "thatched-roof" protection. Twine wrapped, they will not buckle or come apart, and are easy to handle . . . easy to feed . . . easy to stack . . . easy to ship.

Make highest quality hay at lowest cost with your own equipment. See us about the ROTO-BALER and other haying machinery built by Allis-Chalmers.

ROTO-BALER is an Allis-Chalmers trademark.

How to be a Better Cook ...and save money too! by Mary Blake

Here's a New "FLAVOR TRICK" with Soup —as advertised in LIFE

More than half of all American families have canned soup at least once a week... and it's equally popular for lunch or dinner! Tomato, chicken, chicken noodle and vegetable lead the popularity list. But don't forget that there are more than 20 wonderful flavors for you to choose from. Here's the flavor trick with soup... it's one that has my Homemakers' Test Panel cheering. With 1 can of your favorite canned soup (such as tomato, chicken, green pea, or vegetable) use ½ cup of undiluted Carnation and ½ cup water. For an even richer, creamier soup, use an equal amount of undiluted Carnation for each can of soup. Crisp crackers, whole wheat wafers, or toasted buns are so delicious with hot soup. Look for them on your grocer's shelf!

Hospital Fund Drive Passes $50,000 Mark

Hospital drive officials were happy with the results of the soliciting during the past week, their objective of $50,000 having been reached shortly before the Times went to press. Signed pledges turned in at headquarters at that time totalled $50,020.81. A lot of last minute pushing was required to achieve this objective with several of the soliciting teams completing their assignments under the pressure of high command prodding. The final objective of the campaign has been set at $97,000.

With only two weeks to go before the letting of the contract for the nearly a million dollar expansion of Northwestern Hospital, the pressure must continue, Judge Paul A. Lundgren, general chairman of the fund raising organization, stated yesterday. Frank Tunberg, city chairman, and Hilmer Lunke, in charge of the solicitation in the rural areas, agreed that extra effort would be needed to complete the job within the allotted time. The response from contributors is excellent, they stated. The problem is to get the volunteer solicitors to make the calls.

Tunberg was especially pleased with the results of a five-man team of Soo Line employees who are making the solicitation of railroad men. Because of the irregular schedules of train crews this is necessarily a slow procedure and requires both day and night calls. Members of this team are Alfred Johnson, A. B Stenberg, Alex Cloutier, C. E Hellquist and Ole Engelstad.

There is no lack of confidence among the drive officials as to their ability to raise the sum of money required to match the federal grant. The remaining prospect list includes many individuals and organizations that are expected to make substantial contributions. Organization work in the rural area has dragged because of the seasonal work on the farms and Mr. Lunke plans a more extended campaign covering the townships in which little work has been done.

Three-dimension Movie Coming to Avalon on Friday

Two Projectors Required, In Addition to Polarized Glasses for Spectators

A new era for theatre-goers will begin in Thief River Falls area Friday, July 3, when the public will have an opportunity to view their first three-dimensional movie at the Avalon Theatre.

The revolutionary film, entitled "The House of Wax" is the first 3-D picture produced by a major film company according to Ward Nichols, local manager. The film will open on Friday, July 3rd, and run for one week. Patrons will receive polarized glasses which they must wear to get the three-dimensional effect.

The Avalon will use two projectors at one time to bring out the 3-D version of the film. At present, only a single projector is in use at any one time for the presentation of 2-D films. With the new equipment that is being installed, both 2-D and 3-D moives can be shown with very little interruption. Projectors are equipped with polarized filters, and the revamping of the large screen is also necessary. It is also necessary to supply a new source of power used in the operation of both lamps at the same time and at much higher voltage.

It is also revealed that plans have been completed to install a cinemascope 3-D system with stereophonic sound in the Falls Theatre at a future date. This calls for a giant new screen and a new type of lens for which an order has already been placed. This system will not require the use of polarized glasses. Installation of this system will require major remodeling of the auditorium.

Soil Conservation Tour Set for Monday

Business men of Thief River Falls and farmers will leave the Central school parking lot Monday July 6, at 8 a. m. on a soil conservation tour that will cover the eastern part of Pennington county.

All business men and farmers are invited to make the trip. The group will be headed by Ray Mitteness, county agent, and Don Lawrence, S.C.S. farm planner.

The first stop will be made at the oats and flax variety trial plots just south of Goodridge at 8:30.

Second stop will be the Harry Solberg farm in Section 24 Highlanding township, where a completely modern dairy set up will be seen. This includes the milking parlor, barn and pipe line milking equipment.

Other stops will be made in the Southeastern part of the county where a large tract of once swamp and brush land has been cleared and is now in crop. Also stops will be made where ditching operations are in progress, with farmers working together with the Pennington county soil conservation district, the county commissioners, county engineer and the Red Lake drainage and conservancy district, have taken steps to improve their drainage.

Paul Engelstad, chairman of the board of supervisors, points out that good drainage is a first step in good land management.

Plans call for completion of the tour at noon.

Driver of Car is Held by Oregon Authorities on Charge of Armed Robbery

The truck is scheduled to leave Thief River Falls at 5 a. m., arriving at Warroad in three hours, and leaving there on the return trip at 3:30 p. m.

Drilling Started for Oil in West Marshall

Using a portable rotary drilling rig with a 60-foot derrick, a Wichita, Kansas, firm Saturday afternoon started drilling a wildcat test oil well on the Emery Poitras farm seven miles west of Argyle and a mile and one-half north.

Several hundred Red River Valley residents, including some from Thief River Falls, visited the scene last week-end to see the rig in operation. Drilling continued Sunday, and by the end of the afternoon had reached a depth of almost 300 feet. The Kimball Development Co. of Kimball, Nebraska, is making the test.

Drillers plan to set 7-inch surface casing to 350 feet and then complete the hole with a 6-inch bit. Surface casing is set as a base for the rest of the well and to protect ground water deposits against any fluids which might flow up through the hole.

The rig is rated capable of drilling down to a 3,000 foot depth.

"If we get anything, we'll know around 1,500 feet," L. L. Graff, geologist with Kimball said shortly before the well was spudded in.

Granite, beyond which oil has never been found, is known to be close to the surface of the Red River Valley.

Granite was encountered at 642 feet at a well drilled in October 1945, near Hallock, about 30 miles north of Argyle in Kittson County. Records of the Minnesota Geological Survey show granite or similar rock struck at depths ranging from 235 to 400 feet in Marshall County.

It is Kimball's theory that there exists an open pocket surrounded by granite, that underlies this area, that dates back to a geologic age when oil was formed. On this basis, Kimball has named its devlopment the "Argyle Reef."

Whether or not Kimball will do any more drilling in this area "all depends on what we get in this test," Graff said. Kimball has a block of 38,000 acres under lease in the area.

North Dakota Picnic Draws 400 on Sunday

Ideal Weather Helps to Draw Large Attendance at First Event of Kind

One hundred twenty-eight individuals and families were registered at the North Dakota picnic held in Riverside Park on Sunday, June 28, which was attended by nearly 400 persons. Former North Dakotans attending were from Fargo, Grand Forks, Thompson, Park River, Fordville, Walhalla, Cavalier, Hillsboro, Wahpeton, Devils Lake, Dickinson, Grafton, New England, Hoople, Garrison, Minot, Ardeck, Dahlen, Parshall, McVille, Lakota, Cando, Clyde, Mayville, Hensel, Kindred, and Valley City.

Sunshine and ideal temperature for picnicking, no doubt, helped bring out the large number that attended the event, which was sponsored by the agricultural committee of the Civic and Commerce association.

Following a concert by the Legion municipal band was a short program introduced by Jim Parkins. Ray Mitteness spoke for the Civic and Commerce association welcoming the group to the picnic. Mayor Simons responded as a former resident of North Dakota. A humorous poem on the advantages of North Dakota was read by Mrs. Frank Hible, also a former North Dakotan now living in Pennington county, and W. E. Dahlquist gave a short talk.

Parkins then presented $5 merchandise certificates to the following: To Gunder Stromme, formerly from Thompson, North Dakota, as the earliest resident to come to this area. Mr. Stromme came on April 4, 1882. For the largest family from North Dakota there was a tie between Mrs. Martin Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Walsberg, both of Thief River Falls. There are 14 in both families. The most recent residents moving to this area from North Dakota were Mr. and Mrs. John Skjerven coming from Park River to Plummer on June 6, 1953. Clifford Erickson, coming from New England, North Dakota, to Thief River Falls, moved the greatest distance.

Coffee and ice cream was served to the group at noon by the Civic and Cimmerce association.

Gulbranson Is Renamed Polio Chapter Head

Mrs. A. Cloutier Named Secretary at '53 Annual Meeting Last Wednesday

M. C. Gulbranson was reelected chairman of the Pennington county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at its annual meeting in the Rex Cafe last Wednesday evening.

Others reelected were Roy J. Oen, vice president, and Oscar A. Nelson, treasurer; while Mrs. Alex Cloutier was named secretary to succeed Lucian Krause, who has moved to Grand Forks.

Named members of the executive committee, in addition to the officers, were A. F. Berge, Mrs. Orris Johnson and Kenneth E. Lindbergh. Mrs. Wm. Gilbertson was appointed chairman of the women's committee, and Alvin Christofferson, Roy Oen and Gordon Reierson were given the duty of selecting a chairman of the 1954 fund-raising campaign.

Larry Rieder of St. Cloud, Northern Minnesota director for the national foundation, addressed the meeting, complimenting the local chapter on the excellent manner in which it has carried out its functions, and thanking Christofferson for assistance rendered in neighboring counties.

Rieder brought the encouraging news that researchers financed by the national foundation have now succeeded in developing vaccines for treating all three of the known types of polio, and that these are being tested on a national scale this year.

He also told of the use of gamma globulin to prevent the crippling effects of polio, but added that the supply is extremely limited. He showed a sound motion picture showing the research being done with gamma globulin.

Mrs. Wm. Gilbertson reported briefly on a statewide polio conference she had attended June 4 in Minneapolis as a representative of the Pennington county chapter.

Oscar A. Nelson, treasurer of the chapter, submitted the annual financial report, revealing that receipts during the past fiscal year aggregated $12,030.47, the major items being $2,989.71 from the 1953 fund drive and an advance of $7,875 in May from the national foundation.

Disbursements during the year for care of patients and other expenses totaled $10,739.22, one case alone involving an outlay of more than $6,000, Nelson reported. The year ended with cash on hand of $1,515.70, including $3,222.12 carried over from the preceding year.

No Band Concert Friday, July 3d

Harmon, director, announced that there will be no concert Friday night, July 3, but that the series will be resumed July 10, with the final concert scheduled for July 17.

DFL District Parley Is Held Here Saturday

Tentative Plans Made for District Picnic at Detroit Lakes July 19

With seven of 15 counties represented, nearly 50 Democratic-Farmer-Labor party workers attended a Ninth district conference Saturday evening in the Civic and Commerce room. L. J. Lee of Bagley, district chairman, presided, along with Louis Murray of East Grand Forks, secretary.

Byron Allen of Detroit Lakes, Democratic national committeeman, who had been scheduled to give the main address, was unable to be present.

Left in the hands of a committee was the matter of arranging for a Ninth district DFL picnic in Detroit Lakes Sunday, July 19, at which Senator Hubert Humphrey is expected to be the principal speaker.

Gene Larson, of Minneapolis, state DFL finance chairman, discussed organizational activity about the state, and also dealt with national politics.

Roy E. Wiseth, chairman of the DFL farm committee, said the farmers are confronted by a drop in grain prices, and said there is no available storage space for the crop to be harvested shortly. He added that farmers must be politically minded.

Mrs. Coya Knutson, state representative from the 65th district, stated that she expects the sales tax to be a big issue in the 1955 session of the legislature.

67 Entries Compete in Bike Parade Here: Stephens Girl First

With the "Bridgemans Half pints drum and bugle corps heading the procession, a total of 67 boys and girls with their bikes participated in the bicycle parade held in Thief River Falls last Thursday afternoon under the sponsorship of the Montgomery Ward store in cooperation with 15 other local business places, which supplied a wide variety of prizes.

The entry list would have been even larger, had it not been for an extremely high wind prevailing during the afternoon.

Frank Riley, manager of the Ward store, announced that the judges awarded the first prize, a new-model bicycle, to Terry Ann Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Stephens, whose bike was handsomely decorated. Terry Ann and members of her family also were guests at dinner at the Rex Cafe.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Carnegie Public Library will be open for the rest of the summer, each day from 12 noon until 7 p. m. excepting Saturday and Sunday when it will be closed.

Coya Knutson, of Oklee, state representative and known as a good friend of libraries in the recent legislative session became one of our out of town borrowers early this month.

From our guest book so far this month, we take the following names. Some of these have become borrowers, others have come for information or to browse among the books and magazines, making use of the reading room.

Mrs. Winifred M. Waldron of Minneapolis, the former Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, resident for some time of Thief River Falls was a trustee of the library for several years.

Mrs. W. C. Edmiston of Ralston, Nebraska from her summer place on Monument Bay, Lake of the Woods called to bring greetings from the Angle Inlet people and to secure information. She is internationally known as a judge of dogs and enjoys her interesting hobby as well as her musky fishing in Lake of the Woods.

Miss Effie Hamry of Fort Yates, North Dakota, Home of Sitting Bull and Grey Eagle. Miss Hamry, who served for many years as assistant city clerk, is renewing old acquaintances and is a house guest of Mrs. Halgrim. She reports that she drove from Bismarck to Fort Yates with Grey Eagle and his interpreter as he was returning to Fort Yates after a visit to the governor in regard to moving the remains of his uncle Sitting Bull.

Choice iris from the gardens of Mrs. Adolph Nyhaugen brought forth many exclamations. Mrs. Hilda Vik of Minneapolis, mother of Mrs. Nyhaugen, made us a pleasant call. Mr. and Mrs. Vik settled in Pennington County many years ago and operated an outstanding dairy farm just south of St. Hilaire. Corinne Thorkildsen of San Francisco, cousin of Mrs. Nyhaugen accompanied Mrs. Vik. She has traveled extensively and has made many interesting contacts. Among them well known authors.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

ELMER L. ANDERSON, 20 West Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois, found what he declares the most effective way to banish worry. He was so worried about thirty years ago that he almost had a nervous breakdown. His father had creeping paralysis and palsy and had been sick for a year. He had been to a specialist and was advised that the medical profession could do nothing to relieve him of his pain and misery. Elmer was then 23 years of age. He sat with his father and mother in the kitchen one evening as his father repeatedly said, "What shall we do? What shall we do?" Elmer promised that he would stay with his parents and help in every way possible. His father in relief shook his hand and thanked him profusely; then placed his other hand on top of Elmer's and his wife's and thanked Elmer again.

CARNEGIE

The next three years of his illness that father was helpless and slept only fifteen to thirty minutes at a time during a twenty-four hour period. Elmer and his mother took care of him day and night until the last year when they had to hire a woman to help them.

They overcame their worry by doing the best that they could each day, putting in approximately nineteen hours of work out of every twenty-four. By doing this, worry seemed to disappear and they agreed that God took care of them, for their income was small. Their money seemed to stretch far enough to provide for necessities and even at his father's death they still had their property clear of any encumbrance and had to ask for no outside financial help.

His bulwark now if worry rears its ugly head is to pitch in and work the best he can and he has learned that if he does his worries always disappear.

1.16 Inches of Rain in City Past Week

Weather Favorable for Crops in TRF District

This locality during the past week continued to receive an ample supply of moisture to promote rapid progress of grain crops and pastures, altho the rain hampered haying operations.

A total of 1.16 inches was recorded on the KTRF gauge, including .60 inch last Wednesday evening, .10 inch Saturday, .03 inch early Sunday and .43 inch in a hard shower Monday.

Temperatures the past week were moderately cool; the maximum readings ranging from 64 to 75, with a minimum of 43 being recorded Sunday and Monday mornings.

Except in low-lying areas in eastern Marshall and Pennington counties, where too much rain has been received, the crop outlook at this stage of the season is highly promising.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

THE VETERAN ASKS:

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration Offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: May I take institutional on-farm training under the Korean GI Bill on a part-time basis? I want to get a job in a factory in a nearby town the rest of the time.

A: Under the law, institutional on-farm training must occupy your full time.

Q: I was totally disabled in an automobile accident over six months ago, and my National Service Life Insurance premiums are under waiver. I have a permanent plan policy. Will my policy continue to build up guaranteed values, like it did while I was paying my own premiums?

A: Yes. A permanent plan policy under waiver of premiums provides increasing guaranteed values—including the loan privilege and the right to dividends—just as though you were paying premiums.

Q: I'm getting a VA pension for a total and permanent disability, and I live in a house that I received through an inheritance. If I sell the house, how much of the proceeds must be considered as income, in figuring whether I come under the income limitations for a pension?

A: In the case of a house that came into your possession through inheritance, all the proceeds will be considered as income for pension purposes.

Q: I was released from service in July, 1952. By what date must I start training under the Korean GI Bill?

A: Veterans such as yourself, released from service before August 20, 1952, must begin their training under the Korean GI Bill by August 20, 1954. Those released after August 20, 1952, have two years from date of separation in which to begin.

Not All Vacations 'Happy'

The time is rolling around when 75 million Americans pack up the wife, kids and sunburn lotion and head for "distant scenes," according to a national trade magazine. But, the happy, carefree vacation most people envision may be marred suddenly by illness or accident.

Recent figures show that approximately 1 out of 7 Minnesotans are hospitalized each year, many of them while traveling. Drive safely, play safely, make your vacation a "happy" trip, not a "hospital" trip.

Last year, 7,250 Minnesotans who needed medical and hospital care when traveling out-of-state, received over one-half million dollars in benefits through Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Minnesota Blue Cross has a national agreement with over 3,500 Blue Cross hospitals in the United States. If you require doctor's care while away from home, you are entitled to full Blue Shield contract benefits. Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection is extended to you and your family the year 'round, at home or away.

Complete, free information on the Blue Cross $25 Deductible plan and the Blue Shield medical care plan may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-4, 2610 University Ave., St. Paul 14, Minnesota. A postcard will do.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

Is Minnesota a high-tax state? Do we compare unfavorably with other states in the burdens our various classes of taxpayers carry? Are fundamental readjustments in our tax structure warranted?

These questions, which go to the heart of Minnesota's continuing problem of adequate public money, are being given serious study by the interim commission on taxation established by the last session of the legislature. The findings of this commission may have wide-ranging effect upon the future of our tax program, and should, therefore, command the serious attention of the public.

Questions concerning tax policy are extremely difficult to answer. For one thing, it is not simply a question of how much money is collected and how much money is spent. An adequate answer also involves such tricky matters as how the amount of taxes collected relates to the per capita income of the state residents and the "incidence" of taxation, that is the respective burdens of different groups of taxpayers.

Study Offers Clues

A recent study of Minnesota taxation by Arthur M. Borak, associate professor of economics at the University of Minnesota presents some important basic data, concerning how our state compares with 10 other states in taxes collected and money spent by state and local governments.

Mr. Borak found that, when all state and local taxes (excluding unemployment compensation taxes) are totaled, Minnesota ranks No. 1 in the group of 11 states studied. With a per capita total of $140.81, Minnesota exceeds the national average for all 48 states by more than $30 per capita.

The other states in the group in order of total tax loads, are Wisconsin, Washington, North Dakota, Michigan, South Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Missouri.

Per Capita Income Low

This, however, does not tell the whole story, because, as Mr. Borak points out, the total tax load must be related to per capita income. And on this point Minnesota ranks low, with per capita income payments of $1,474, which places the state tenth from the top.

When total taxes are related to per capita income Minnesota ranks third, exceeded by only North and South Dakota. We pay 10.52 per cent of our income, on the average, in state and local taxes.

Tax Structure 'Progressive'

There is still another part of the story. In Comparison with the other states, Minnesota's tax structure is "progressive." By this is meant that there is a heavy reliance on personal and corporate income taxes, which place a progressively larger burden as the size of the tax source increases. "Regressive" taxes are those which are levied uniformly without regard for size of the source and are usually in straight percentages. In the latter category are sales taxes (including cigaret and gasoline taxes, such as we have in Minnesota), property taxes, license and privilege taxes, and the unemployment tax.

The Borak study found that Minnesota has, within the group of 11 states, the second most "progressive" tax structure, surpassed only on this point by Wisconsin.

High on Government Costs

As would be expected, Minnesota also ranks high on total per capita expenditures for state and local governments. Spending $73.54 (in 1941) it was second to Wisconsin, although it ranked ninth in per capita income payments that year.

The figures of government cost must, however, be closely examined before any judgments can be made. For example, in the matter of education Minnesota in 1950 ranked sixth out of the 11 states, although in relation to per capita income was third on the list. Similarly, in 1951, in expenditures for public assistance the state was seventh, but again with respect to per capita income was third.

Cautious About Conclusions

Professor Borak is extremely cautious about any conclusions as to what his data prove. He points out that the state's "comparatively high taxes per person and relative to income is in part accounted for by: (1) the feeding of one-half of the revenues from the iron ore occupational tax (about $12 million in 1952) and various other receipts from sales of lands, timber, leases, etc. into four growing trust funds; (2) diverting its income tax revenues into a growing (until recently) school fund; and (3) accumulation of various tax and non-tax revenues into a growing (until recently) general fund."

Other states, he points out, have been "operating on more of a hand-to-mouth basis without making such accumulations."

An Unanswered Question

Whether Minnesota business is at a comparative disadvantage with business in other states is a question which is not given a definitive answer in this study. Mr. Borak emphasizes that this is a larger question that involves a study of many related factors, such as climate, population density, tax administration policies, transportation differentials, labor costs, etc., and the evidence concerning the effect of tax policies is still too inconclusive to justify any final judgments.

CONGRESSIONAL Quiz

Q—How far back in American history does tariff sentiment extend?

A—Way back. To encourage his fellow-citizens to "buy American" and protect "infant industries," George Washington wore New England home-spun broadcloth at his first inauguration. (Later, President Jackson's wife wore a grass bonnet "as an evidence of the perfection which our domestic manufacturers may hereafter acquire, if properly fostered and protected," according to Old Hickory.) The second law ever passed by Congress was an import tariff act, designed primarily to raise revenue, not to protect American industry. The first protective tariff was enacted in 1828.

Q—What is a "most-favored-nation" agreement?

A—Secretary of State Cordell Hull explained it thus: "I won't treat you any worse than the person I treat the best of all, provided you don't treat me any worse than the person you treat the best of all." When the U. S. signs a "most-favored-nation" agreement with Nation A, we promise not to impose higher import duties on Nation A's products than are levied on similar goods sold here by any other nation. In return, Nation A gives the same assurance.

Q—What is the continental shelf I've read so much about in connection with "tidelands" oil?

A—The House Judiciary Committee defines the shelf as the slightly submerged areas of the continent up to the point where ocean depth falls off abruptly to 600 feet. The U. S. continental shelf is estimated at 290,000 square miles, of which about 27,000 square miles are within the states' historic boundaries under the recently enacted offshore lands law.

Q—Has any official action been taken recently to lower the voting age below 21?

A—Yes, a Senate subcommittee concluded hearings June 3 on a resolution to allow 18-year-olds the right to vote through a Constitutional amendment. Leonard W. Hall, Republican National Chairman, said May 25 that he, President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon favor lowering the voting age to 18, as Georgia did in 1943.

Ken Adams of G. Forks Wins TRF Invitational; 90 Golfers Take Part

Ninety golfers, favored by near-perfect weather, participated in the fifth annual Thief River Falls invitational golf tournament played over the local course on Saturday and Sunday. Grand Forks' Ken Adams, champion in 1951, defeated Minneapolis' Gordy Peterson, 1-up, in an eleven-hole finals match to win the 1953 title.

The championship flight contenders played eighteen holes of qualifying golf on Saturday, and Dick Evenson, of Minneapolis, shooting a 31 and 36, won the medalist honors. Evenson's 31 established a competitive course record.

To win the tournament championship, Adams defeated Ray Swanberg in a first round match, then edged out the local club's Stan Larson in a quarter-finals encounter. Adams, by a 1-up score, defeated the defending champion, Pat Sawyer, in a semi-finals match. Peterson, playing in the lower bracket, eliminated Grand Forks' Cliff Yagla in a first round match, ousted Lloyd Harney in a second round match, and took Jimmy Nordine out of the tourney in a semi-finals match.

In the championship finals, Adams, holding a 1-up lead, had an opportunity to close out the match on the 9th green, having a two-foot putt for a five, which would have halved the hole. Adams' putt rolled around the cup, giving Peterson the hole, and forcing the match into extra holes. The 10th hole was halved with bogie five's. On the 11th, Peterson, after slamming out a long drive, overshot the green on a nine iron shot, and was forced to take a five. Adams carded a par four to win the match.

Nielsville Wins over Thieves Sunday 5 to 4

Fielders' Errors and Weak Batting Share in Defeat on Fair Grounds

The Thieves, committing a couple of costly errors in the field and appearing futile at the plate against Stan Brekke's assortment of flutter balls, dropped a 5 to 4 decision to Nielsville in a Red River Valley league game played here on Sunday afternoon.

Manager Phil LeGault's club will be "on the road" this weekend, playing an exhibition game against the Red Lake Falls at Red Lake Falls on July 4th, with game-time slated for 8:00 p. m. On Sunday, July 5th, the Thieves will meet the Warren-Argyle Twins in a Red River Valley loop game at Argyle.

Nielsville, after giving up a pair of runs in the 1st inning, on a double by Wayne Gothe, a base on balls, a single by Swede Lund, and an error, came back to rack up four runs in the 2nd inning. With one out, LeRoy Aasland, nicked Lowell Vettel with a pitched ball; Brekke scratched a hit into left field; Stan Paularud singled to left field, scoring Vettel. A passed ball moved Brekke to third and Paularud to second.

Dennis Ambuehl sent a ground ball to first base, and when Shorty Perkins overthrew home plate on a play to erase Brekke, both Brekke and Paularud came in with scores. Bruce Burd drew a walk; Ray Abentroth was called out on strikes; but Ben Voeller punched out a hit, scoring Ambuehl with Nielsville's fourth run of the inning. Aasland whiffed McDonald for the third out.

In the 4th, Dave Rognlie opened with a single to right field; Abentroth grounded out, sending Rognlie to second base; Voller skied to centerfielder Al Williamson; McDonald poled out a double to right-center, scoring Rognlie. Righthander Gene Leslie came in to hurl for the locals, forcing Les Jevning to ground out, short to first.

Three Nielsville errors and Perkins' double gave the Thieves a pair of runs in the bottom of the 4th inning. Phil LeGault sent a ground ball to the first baseman, and when Jevning booted the ball, LeGault scampered around to second base. A wide throw to second permitted the Thieves' chunky manager to gain third base, and when Rognlie made a wild throw to third base, Phil trudged on home with a breath-taking score. Perkins followed with a double, moved to second on an infield out, and scored on an error.

The Thieves had a rally under way in the 5th inning when Al Williamson led off by drawing a walk; Gothe whiffed; Williamson stole second base, and Joe Poole was given a base on balls. Lund infield out, pitch to first, sent Williamson to third and Poole to second. LeGault ended the inning by recording his first strikeout of the season.

In the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th innings, righthander Brekke retired the Thieves in order, with a double play erasing the singling Lund in the 8th inning.

Leslie, taking over the hurling chore for the Thieves in the 4th frame, nearly matched Brekke's performance over the last four innings, with the local righthander giving up but two hits and no runs.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

The Event of the Tournament

There were a number of fine golfers and golf shots on exhibit at the Invitational tourney played hereon Saturday and Sunday, but the most spectacular was the hole-in-one scored by Fosston's Hilding Carlin on Sunday. Carlin, a fifth flight player, came to the fourth tee in a first round match and, using a number five iron, made a 143-yard ace. The ball landed about ten feet short of the pin, took one bounce and then rolled up to the cup and dropped in for an eagle.

There were plenty of witnesses clustered around the fourth tee, and we were fortunate enough to be in the cluster. After extending our congratulations to Carlin, we watched the foursome, as they made their way to the fourth green and it was a thrill, even though it was "second hand," to see Hilding reach into the cup for his ball. That ball was "out of play" for the balance of the tournament, for Carlin carried it around in his pocket.

A New Course Record

Closing pressing Fosston's Carlin for tournament scoring honors, was the 31 that Minneapolis' Dick Evenson carded while playing his qualifying rounds on Saturday. Evenson, playing in a foursome that included Gordy Peterson, Ray Swanberg, and Vic Jung, marked up five pars and four birdies in shooting that 31 for a new course record. The previous low score, in tournament competition, was a 32, and that figure had been reached by Pat Sawyer and Chuck Beyers.

Evenson, whose gainful occupation is as a Brown & Bigelow employee, has been a "regular" at the tournament here, and has always been a championship flight contender. Dick's card was 443 343 424, for a 31, and it reveals birdies on the 3rd, 6th, 8th, and 9th holes.

Evenson's course-record score was made during his first round of qualifying play, and on his second round he scored a 36, giving him an 18-hole score of 67 and two-stroke lead for medalist honors over Pat Sawyer, who had a 69.

In the tournament match play on Sunday, Evenson, after winning his first round match, was eliminated in the quarter-finals by Jim Nordine. Nordine shot a sub-par 33 to defeat the medalist.

Divots

For the tournament's best three consecutive golf shots, we'll place in nomination the drive, the three wood, and the putt that Jim Nordine made on number nine to score an eagle three. Jim's eagle was carded on Sunday during match play, and it wasn't a "fluke" for in his qualifying round on Saturday afternoon, after the rain shower, Jim was on the 9th green in two, but missed his twenty-five putt for the eagle three.

Jim's drive carried out to about the 280-yard mark, and his three wood shots landed about a foot inside the green. Jim agreed that those two shots were well hit.

The weekend's golfing endurance contest was won, hands down, by Billy Bye. Bill, enroute to Winnipeg where he is to play football with the Blue Bombers this fall, made a layover here on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. On Friday evening Bill played 18 holes of golf, and then spent an hour on the practice tee. On Saturday morning Bill turned in 36 holes of golf before lunch, and after that recess he joined Pat Sawyer in eighteen holes of qualifying play. Following that qualifying golf, Bill tapered off by making a solo round to complete 63 holes of golf. On Sunday, playing in the first flight, Bill played 27 holes of match play and that all adds up to about 108 holes of golf.

It Happens to the Best

The New York Yankees lose seven straight, the Milwaukee Braves lose seven straight, and the Thief River Falls Thieves lose two straight. It happens to the best of them.

The Thieves, although losing their last two games, are still in a first place tie in the Red River Valley loop standings, being deadlocked with Ken Dupuis' Crookston Pirates.

With Nielsville's Archie Mjelde, their no-hit pitching ace, out of action because of a broken toe, the hurling assignment for Sunday's game was given to big Stan Brekke. Brekke, a powerful righthander who doesn't know his own strength, started in a shaky manner, being touched for a couple hits in the 1st inning and giving up two runs. The Thieves added a pair runs in the 4th inning, but from then on, Brekke was the master, allowing but one hit, a scratch off the first baseman's glove by Swede Lund.

The Thieves, in the 5th, had the tying and go-ahead runs on second and third with two men out and Phil LeGault at bat. Phil, who hadn't struck out all year, tried to outguess Brekke on a three-and-two pitch, and swung at a high outside fast ball for a whiff.

Hear Talks by Two Men from State Department

Approximately 150 Pennington county school officers turned out for their annual conference last Wednesday, June 24, in the Auditorium, Mrs. Martha Mathieson, county superintendent of schools, announced.

At the morning session, W. E. Hanson of the state department of education discussed new laws affecting the schools that were enacted at the 1953 session of the state legislature.

Bert Hendrickson, also of the state department, explained the new accounting system for school clerks and treasurers.

Judge Paul A. Lundgren spoke briefly on the current drive for funds to complete the financing of the new hospital addition, and solicited the cooperation of the rural residents in providing workers in the campaign.

Modern Methods Aid Forest Industries

Modern methods of cutting and processing the products of one of Minnesota's greatest resources, the forests, has created modern business worth many times the pioneer logging and lumbering industry.

The Forest Industries Information Committee says that in 1952 wood products from the forests total worth of more than $162,674,000 and other miscellaneous products such as maple syrup, cones, nuts and such will add another $1,500,000. The forest products industry is third largest in the state.

The wide variety of products vary from lumber and pulpwood to Christmas trees and chemical by-products. Whereas lumber was the backbone of the pioneer industry, pulpwood now leads with lumber and fuelwood second and third. The amount of pulpwood processed each year increases; in 1951 the value of paper-pulp was $95,000,000 while in 1952 the value jumped 17,000,000 to $112,000,000. Meanwhile lumber and fuelwood volume and value decreased in money value about $5,000,000 from 1951 to 1952.

An estimated 5,500,000 Christmas trees were cut, 6,000,000 posts, 212,000 telephone poles, 600,000 railroad ties and 18,000,000 board feet of mining timbers, 41,000 cords of wood were manufactured into matches.

A considerable amount of wood products are sold from state lands by auction sales of the timber "on the stump." In one year the Division of Forestry, Department of Conservation, sells about 132,200,000 board feet of wood for an income of 819,000. The timber sales are made to loggers and wood-using industries and when the wood is converted into paper pulp, veneer materials, chemical goods, and other manufactured products, the value multiplies considerably.

Forestry officials state that the annual value of forest products, $164,000,000, represents the wages and income of many thousand people, annual taxes, and products to supply the consumer demands. Modern forest management recognizes that trees are a crop from land, and from the time of planting to the final harvest, the forests must be managed and protected much the same as annual farm crops.

Forest fires, disease, and insect attack cause tremendous destruction and loss each year. That's why the forester says "Everybody loses when forests are destroyed."

Minnesota 4-H'ers Go Overseas

Four young people from Minnesota, all 4-H club members, will be spending the coming months as "grass root ambassadors" to Finland, Australia and India.

The four have been selected as delegates under the International Farm Youth Exchange program which seeks to promote international understanding among rural people. They will live and work with farm families in the countries to which they are assigned for four to six months. Under the two-way exchange Minnesota rural families are acting as hosts this summer to IFYE delegates from Australia, India, Nigeria and the Netherlands.

Miss Mattila sailed on June 16 for Finland. Pedersen and Kvasnicka will leave August 21 for India. Miss Hebrink is scheduled to go to Australia in September.

Tells How to Raise Cornfield Yields

County Agent Advises Nitrogen Side-dressing

Corn yields can be increased and profits multiplied by side-dressing with nitrogen at cultivating time, according to University of Minnesota figures reported this week by County Agent Ray Mittness.

He cites reports gathered by Harold E. Jones, extension soils specialist, from agricultural agents in 42 counties where corn was side-dressed last year at the time of the second cultivation.

In analyzing these reports, Jones comments that the average response from nitrogen side-dressing was best on sandy soils, which generally are more deficient in this plant nutrient than other soils. As expected, corn after legumes on both sandy and heavy soils yielded higher than corn at least one year removed from the legumes.

Dollarwise, side-dressing is a good investment, says Jones. The cost of 120 pounds of ammonium nitrate was $5.10 last year. With corn at $1.50 per bushel, it took only 3.4 bushels to pay for the fertilizer. Since the average increase was 10 bushels per acre, the return over fertilizer cost from sidedressing was $9.90 per acre.

Based on University of Minnesota tests, the use of nitrogen for side-dressing can be recommended on all but the very highest fertility level soils.

The University soils specialist cautions that a high level of phosphorus and potassium must be maintained when side-dressing, since too high a level of nitrogen can delay maturity and reduce yields.

Higher Benefits for Jobless Are Effective July 1

Commr. Victor Christgau Announces New Schedule of Pay to Unemployed

A new and higher benefit schedule for unemployment compensation payments becomes effective July 1, it was announced this week by Victor Christgau, commissioner of the department of employment security.

Weekly benefits on claims filed after June 30 will range from $11 to $30. The old schedule ranged from $10 to $25. The increase was adopted by the 1953 legislature.

There is also a change in the minimum qualifying earnings. Now, workers will have to have earned either $500 in wage credits during their base period or $400, if at least $300 is in one calendar quarter and $100 is in another calendar quarter. The old qualifying earnings were $300.

The base period during which wage credits are earned and on which the amount of the weekly benefits is determined is the first four of the last five completed calendar quarters prior to the date on which the claim is filed.

New schedules apply to claims filed on or after July 1. Claims filed prior to that date will be paid on the basis of the old schedule until such claimant's benefit year expires.

The increased benefits [illegible] reflect the advance in the cost of living since 1949. The increase in the minimum qualifying earnings is due to the general advance in wage rates.

Ken Adams of G. Forks Wins TRF Invitational; 90 Golfers Take Part

Ninety golfers, favored by near-perfect weather, participated in the fifth annual Thief River Falls invitational golf tournament played over the local course on Saturday and Sunday. Grand Forks' Ken Adams, champion in 1951, defeated Minneapolis' Gordy Peterson, 1-up, in an eleven-hole finals match to win the 1953 title.

The championship flight contenders played eighteen holes of qualifying golf on Saturday, and Dick Evenson, of Minneapolis, shooting a 31 and 36, won the medalist honors. Evenson's 31 established a competitive course record.

To win the tournament championship, Adams defeated Ray Swanberg in a first round match, then edged out the local club's Stan Larson in a quarter-finals encounter. Adams, by a 1-up score, defeated the defending champion, Pat Sawyer, in a semi-finals match. Peterson, playing in the lower bracket, eliminated Grand Forks' Cliff Yagla in a first round match, ousted Lloyd Harney in a second round match, and took Jimmy Nordine out of the tourney in a semi-finals match.

In the championship finals, Adams, holding a 1-up lead, had an opportunity to close out the match on the 9th green, having a two-foot putt for a five, which would have halved the hole. Adams' putt rolled around the cup, giving Peterson the hole, and forcing the match into extra holes. The 10th hole was halved with bogie five's. On the 11th, Peterson, after slamming out a long drive, overshot the green on a nine iron shot, and was forced to take a five. Adams carded a par four to win the match.

The Red River Valley loop, which at one time appeared headed for a one-two chase between the Thieves and the Crookston Pirates for the league title, is becoming a scramble. The Thieves, losing a 5 to 4 decision to Nielsville here on Sunday, dropped their second game in a row; and the Crookston Pirates, playing a double header with the Alvarado Farmers, lost the first game, 5 to 2, and then won the night game, 11 to 3. The Thieves and the Pirates are deadlocked for the league lead.

Three important tilts are on this week's schedule, with the Thieves playing the Warren-Argyle Twins at Argyle, the Crookston Pirates meeting Nielsville at Nielsville, and Red Lake Falls playing at Alvarado. The fourth game will find Shelly attempting to get into the win column by defeating Viking at Viking.

18-pound Northern Caught by Zavoral Winner in Contest

Gordon Johnson of the Sportsmen's store today announced the names of winners in the June fishing contest sponsored by the store. Bud Zavoral, who landed an 18 pound 10 ounce Northern, won a fishing rod as first prize in that division, while Mrs. Leonard Brekke won a similar prize in the walleye division with a nine pound 14 ounce specimen. A 12-pound walleye caught Monday night by Mrs. Gordon Johnson was not entered in the contest. A similar contest will be held in July, Johnson stated.

Nielsville Wins over Thieves Sunday 5 to 4

Fielders' Errors and Weak Batting Share in Defeat on Fair Grounds

The Thieves, committing a couple of costly errors in the field and appearing futile at the plate against Stan Brekke's assortment of flutter balls, dropped a 5 to 4 decision to Nielsville in a Red River Valley league game played here on Sunday afternoon.

Manager Phil LeGault's club will be "on the road" this weekend, playing an exhibition game against the Red Lake Falls at Red Lake Falls on July 4th, with game-time slated for 8:00 p. m. On Sunday, July 5th, the Thieves will meet the Warren-Argyle Twins in a Red River Valley loop game at Argyle.

Nielsville, after giving up a pair of runs in the 1st inning, on a double by Wayne Gothe, a base on balls, a single by Swede Lund, and an error, came back to rack up four runs in the 2nd inning. With one out, LeRoy Aasland, nicked Lowell Vettel with a pitched ball; Brekke scratched a hit into left field; Stan Paularud singled to left field, scoring Vettel. A passed ball moved Brekke to third and Paularud to second.

Dennis Ambuehl sent a ground ball to first base, and when Shorty Perkins overthrew home plate on a play to erase Brekke, both Brekke and Paularud came in with scores. Bruce Burd drew a walk; Ray Abenroth was called out on strikes; but Ben Voeller punched out a hit, scoring Ambuehl with Nielsville's fourth run of the inning. Aasland whiffed McDonald for the third out.

In the 4th, Dave Rognlie opened with a single to right field; Abentroth grounded out, sending Rognlie to second base; Voller skied to centerfielder Al Williamson; McDonald poled out a double to right-center, scoring Rognlie. Righthander Gene Leslie came in to hurl for the locals, forcing Lee Jevning to ground out, short to first.

Three Nielsville errors and Perkins' double gave the Thieves a pair of runs in the bottom of the 4th inning. Phil LeGault sent a ground ball to the first baseman, and when Jevning booted the ball, LeGault scampered around to second base. A wide throw to second permitted the Thieves' chunky manager to gain third base, and when Rognlie made a wild throw to third base, Phil trudged on home with a breath-taking score. Perkins followed with a double, moved to second on an infield out, and scored on an error.

The Thieves had a rally under way in the 5th inning when Al Williamson led off by drawing a walk; Gothe whiffed; Williamson stole second base, and Joe Poole was given a base on balls. Lund infield out, pitch to first, sent Williamson to third and Poole to second. LeGault ended the inning by recording his first strikeout of the season.

In the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th innings, righthander Brekke retired the Thieves in order, with a double play erasing the singling Lund in the 8th inning.

Leslie, taking over the hurling chore for the Thieves in the 4th frame, nearly matched Brekke's performance over the last four innings, with the local righthander giving up but two hits and no runs.

In last week's matches, the S & L team, playing the Bredeson Cleaners, were edged out by a 19 to 17 score. The KTRF team, gaining the benefit of several forfeited matches, defeated Sid Lieberman's team 23 to 13.

The individual play was spotlighted by Lloyd Bennes' gross 36, which gave him a 6 to 3 win over Jerry Tygeson, playing as Bridgeman's number one player. Bennes, the number one player on the Lincoln Life team, posted the evening's low net score, having, with a seven stroke handicap, a 29.

This week's play in the National league will be featured by the encounter between the S & L and the Union State Bank teams. The S & L squad holds a six-point lead over the runner-up Union State Bank team.

The Event of the Tournament

There were a number of fine golfers and golf shots on exhibit at this invitational tourney played hereon Saturday and Sunday, but the most spectacular was the hole-in-one scored by Fosston's Hilding Carlin on Sunday. Carlin, a fifth flight player, came to the fourth tee in a first round match and, using a number five iron, made a 143-yard ace. The ball landed about ten feet short of the pin, took one bounce and then rolled up to the cup and dropped in for an eagle.

There were plenty of witnesses clustered around the fourth tee, and we were fortunate enough to be in the cluster. After extending our congratulations to Carlin, we watched the foursome as they made their way to the fourth green and it was a thrill, even though it was "second hand," to see Hilding reach into the cup for his ball. That ball was "out of play" for the balance of the tournament, for Carlin carried it around in his pocket.

A New Course Record

Closing pressing Fosston's Carlin [illegible] tournament scoring honors, was the 31 that Minneapolis' Dick Evenson carded while playing his qualifying rounds on Saturday. Evenson, playing in a foursome that included Gordy Peterson, Ray Swanberg, and Vic Jung, marked up five pars and four birdies in shooting that 31 for a new course record. The previous low score, in tournament competition, was a 32, and that figure had been reached by Pat Sawyer and Chuck Beyers.

Evenson, whose gainful occupation is as a Brown & Bigelow employee, has been a "regular" at the tournament here, and has always been a championship flight contender. Dick's card was 443 343 424, for a 31, and it reveals birdies on the 3rd, 6th, 8th, and 9th holes.

Evenson's course-record score was made during his first round of qualifying play, and on his second round he scored a 36, giving him an 18-hole score of 67 and two-stroke lead for medalist honors over Pat Sawyer, who had a 69.

In the tournament match play on Sunday, Evenson, after winning his first round match, was eliminated in the quarter-finals by Jim Nordine. Nordine shot a sub-par 33 to defeat the medalist.

Divots

For the tournament's best three consecutive golf shots, we'll place in nomination the drive, the three wood, and the putt that Jim Nordine made on number nine to score an eagle three. Jim's eagle was carded on Sunday during match play, and it wasn't a "fluke" for in his qualifying round on Saturday afternoon, after the rain shower, Jim was on the 9th green in two, but missed his twenty-five putt for the eagle three.

Jim's drive carried out to about the 280-yard mark, and his three wood shots landed about a foot inside the green. Jim agreed that those two shots were well hit.

The weekend's golfing endurance contest was won, hands down, by Billy Bye. Bill, en route to Winnipeg where he is to play football with the Blue Bombers this fall, made a layover here on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. On Friday evening Bill played 18 holes of golf, and then spent an hour on the practice tee. On Saturday morning Bill turned in 36 holes of golf before lunch, and after that recess, he joined Pat Sawyer in eighteen holes of qualifying play. Following that qualifying golf, Bill tapered off by making a solo round to complete 63 holes of golf. On Sunday, playing in the first flight, Bill played 27 holes of match play and that all adds up to about 108 holes of golf.

It Happens to the Best

The New York Yankees lose seven straight, the Milwaukee Braves lose seven straight, and the Thief River Falls Thieves lose two straight. It happens to the best of them.

The Thieves, although losing their last two games, are still in a first place tie in the Red River Valley loop standings, being deadlocked with Ken Dupuis' Crookston Pirates.

With Nielsville's Archie Mjelde, their no-hit pitching ace, out of action because of a broken toe, the hurling assignment for Sunday's game was given to big Stan Brekke. Brekke, a powerful righthander who doesn't know his own strength, started in a shaky manner, being touched for a couple hits in the 1st inning and giving up two runs. The Thieves added a pair runs in the 4th inning, but from then on, Brekke was the master, allowing but one hit, a scratch off the first baseman's glove by Swede Lund.

The Thieves, in the 5th, had the tying and go-ahead runs on second and third with two men out and Phil LeGault at bat. Phil, who hadn't struck out all year, tried to outguess Brekke on a three-and-two pitch, and swung at a high outside fast ball for a whiff.

Modern Methods Aid Forest Industries

Modern methods of cutting and processing the products of one of Minnesota's greatest resources, the forests, has created modern business worth many times the pioneer logging and lumbering industry.

The Forest Industries Information Committee says that in 1952 wood products from the forests total worth of more than $162,674,000 and other miscellaneous products such as maple syrup, cones, nuts and such will add another $1,500,000. The forest products industry is third largest in the state.

The wide variety of products vary from lumber and pulpwood to Christmas trees and chemical by-products. Whereas lumber was the backbone of the pioneer industry, pulpwood now leads with lumber and fuelwood second and third. The amount of pulpwood processed each year increases; in 1951 the value of paper-pulp was $95,000,000 while in 1952 the value jumped 17,000,000 to $112,000,000. Meanwhile lumber and fuelwood volume and value decreased in money value about $5,000,000 from 1951 to 1952.

An estimated 5,500,000 Christmas trees were cut, 6,000,000 posts, 212,000 telephone poles, 600,000 railroad ties and 18,000,000 board feet of mining timbers. 41,000 cords of wood were manufactured into matches.

A considerable amount of wood products are sold from state lands by auction sales of the timber "on the stump." In one year the Division of Forestry, Department of Conservation, sells about 132,200,000 board feet of wood for an income of 819,000. The timber sales are made to loggers and wood-using industries and when the wood is converted into paper pulp, veneer materials, chemical goods, and other manufactured products, the value multiplies considerably.

Forestry officials state that the annual value of forest products, $164,000,000, represents the wages and income of many thousand people, annual taxes, and products to supply the consumer demands. Modern forest management recognizes that trees are a crop from land, and from the time of planting to the final harvest, the forests must be managed and protected much the same as annual farm crops.

Forest fires, disease, and insect attack cause tremendous destruction and loss each year. That is why the forester says "Everybody loses when forests are destroyed."

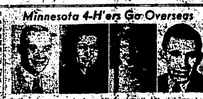
Minnesota 4-H'ers Go Overseas



Four young people from Minnesota, all 4-H club members, will be spending the coming months as "grass root ambassadors" to Finland, Australia and India.

The four have been selected as delegates under the International Farm Youth Exchange program which seeks to promote international understanding among rural people. They will live and work with farm families in the countries to which they are assigned for four to six months. Under the two-way exchange Minnesota rural families are acting as hosts this summer to IFYE delegates from Australia, India, Nigeria and the Netherlands.

Higher Benefits for Jobless Are Effective July 1

Commr. Victor Christgau Announces New Schedule of Pay to Unemployed

A new and higher benefit schedule for unemployment compensation payments becomes effective July 1, it was announced this week by Victor Christgau, commissioner of the department of employment security.

Weekly benefits on claims filed after June 30 will range from $11 to $30. The old schedule ranged from $10 to $25. The increase was adopted by the 1953 legislature.

There is also a change in the minimum qualifying earnings. Now, workers will have to have earned either $500 in wage credits during their base period or $400, if at least $300 is in one calendar quarter and $100 is in another calendar quarter. The old qualifying earnings were $300.

The base period during which wage credits are earned and on which the amount of the weekly benefits is determined is the first four of the last five completed calendar quarters prior to the date on which the claim is filed.

New schedules apply to claims filed on or after July 1. Claims filed prior to that date will be paid on the basis of the old schedule until such claimant's benefit year expires.

The increased bene[illegible] reflect the advance in [illegible] living since 1949. The increase [illegible] the minimum qualifying earnings is due to the general advance in wage rates.

Tells How to Raise Cornfield Yields

County Agent Advises Nitrogen Side-dressing

Corn yields can be increased and profits multiplied by side-dressing with nitrogen at cultivating time, according to University of Minnesota figures reported this week by County Agent Ray Miltenga.

He cites reports gathered by Harold E. Jones, extension soils specialist, from agricultural agents in 42 counties where corn was side-dressed last year at the time of the second cultivation.

In analyzing these reports, Jones comments that the average response from nitrogen side-dressing was best on sandy soils, which generally are more deficient in this plant nutrient than other soils. As expected, corn after legumes on both sandy and heavy soils yielded higher than corn at least one year removed from the legumes.

Dollarwise, side-dressing is a good investment, says Jones. The cost of 120 pounds of ammonium nitrate was $5.10 last year. With corn at $1.50 per bushel, it took only 3.4 bushels to pay for the fertilizer. Since the average increase was 10 bushels per acre, the return over fertilizer cost from sidedressing was $9.90 per acre.

Based on University of Minnesota tests, the use of nitrogen for side-dressing can be recommended on all but the very highest fertility level soils.

The University soils specialist cautions that a high level of phosphorus and potassium must be maintained when side-dressing, since too high a level of nitrogen can delay maturity and reduce yields.

"Fire in the Hole!"

THE MASTER'S CRY OF WARNING will soon ring out at this taconite mine near Mountain Iron where Anthony Kokal (left) and Virgil Lemire are loading a blast-hole. The blast from 28 such holes, each loaded with 350 pounds of powder, will loosen 10,000 tons of hard taconite rock. With reserves of good ore decreasing, Minnesota's iron mining industry is speeding the development of low-grade ore and taconite processing—operations which can employ more miners than ever before. Iron mining employees today are at or near the top of all the major industrial groups in Minnesota in average weekly earnings. Tomorrow, with more workers needed, the prosperity of the iron ranges can become even greater. And there will be still more benefits for the entire state.

Report on Viking News of the Week

By Mrs. Orville Peters, Phone 4F20

The Zion Evangelical Lutheran church of Viking held their Mission Fest June 28, starting at 11:00 o'clock. The choir sang one song and Rev. Conrad Halverson, missionary from Madagascar gave a very soul touching sermon. The rest of the meeting was as usual, we went down to the church parlors for our dinner. Thanks to the ladies who worked in getting the dinner for the splendid way of serving so many in so short a time. At 2:30 the meeting was sponsored by the ladies aid. Mrs. Carl Gustafson led in scriptural reading and prayer; the choir sang "The Morning Light is Breaking"; after that pastor Halvorson told about the Mission field of Madagascar; after speaking he answered some very interesting questions. I think the most of us could have listened to him the rest of the afternoon. Everybody was invited down to the parlors for lunch.

The evening session was sponsored by the Luther League, scripture reading and prayer by LeRoy Gustafson, the music was two solo numbers by David Gustafson and Glenn Halvorson. Pastor Halvorson gave the evening message and showed slides in Kodacolor from the Madagascar Mission. Lunch was served by the Luther League. There were many visitors from the many churches around us. Thanks for coming. "Say among the Heathen that the Lord Reigneth" Psalms 96:10.

Cpl. William Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Peterson was one of five members of Battery A. 450th AAA A. W. Bn. who made a trip to Circle Hot Springs. (This is a clipping from the Regimental Daily News Summary from Seattle, Wash.)

Fishing for the "Big Ones" was the order of the day for five members of Battery A. Because of a recent service practice firing during which they achieved the highest score, they received a three day pass with permission to go to Circle Hot Springs on a fishing trip. S.F.C. Robert Creau was the N.C.O. in charge. The others were Cpl. Kenneth Maddox, who acted as driver, Cpl. William Peterson, Pfc. Orval D. Pennington and Pfc. Kenneth W. Dickenson. The trip was made in a government ¾-ton truck and trailer. The trailer was used to carry extra camping gear. The men found that sleeping out in Alaska was cool, but at this time of the year no darkness.

The group camped on the bank of the Yukon River, and tried their luck angling for the big pike that inhabit the river. Enough pike were soon caught to fill the hungry stomachs of the artillerymen. As the time came to return to their unit it was easy to see why the men were going to try to remain "top dog" gunners of the unit, as Capt. Maddox remarked, "Man, and streams of North Carolina. I and streams of North Carolina. I might even extend for some more of this."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Bad Case of the "Ztutters"

Our copyboy is out sick. So the editor (me) is taking over some of his chores—which include running the addressing machine on "mailing-out night."

Last week I didn't have the usual number of papers left over for sale at the office. Couldn't figure what had happened—until Chub Zimmer called to ask why he'd gotten 48 copies.

Then I realized—"Zimmer" is the last name the machine prints. Guess I forgot to turn it off . . . and it just kept grinding out Chub's name on all the remaining copies. That machine just didn't know when to stop.

From where I sit, people are like that sometimes. They often don't know when to stop. Like those who are prejudiced against someone with an accent, perhaps . . . or against someone who likes a cool bottle of beer with his supper. So, in these columns I try to persuade everyone to "throw the switch" on prejudice so it won't get repeated.

Butter Consumption Taking Upward Turn

Some encouraging observations on the dairy picture were cited this week by Frank Stone, general manager of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., who is a member of Secretary of Agriculture Benson's 20-man task force that is attempting to work out a solution to the surplus problem. Among facts listed by Stone were these:

• The first report by the task force indicated a genuine attempt to develop a "self-help" program and was hailed by Secretary Benson as a realistic approach to the problem. The second report is due in August.

• Butter consumption is taking an upward turn. In April, for instance, consumption was 114,235,000 pounds, compared to 100,103,000 pounds in April, 1952. The first five months of the year showed a net increase of 19,282,000 pounds.

• In Ohio, a survey showed that butter customers have risen from 65.8 per cent last year to 72 per cent this year.

• This trend has occurred in spite of the removal of restrictions on yellow oleomargarine in some states. Increased promotion was noted by Stone as one reason for the increase, plus a return to a standard of value on the part of consumers.

• Import quotas set up by President Eisenhower for dairy products were also listed as an achievement. While the new quotas would allow some products to enter in greater quantities than before, it does restrict and cut down the import total by 375 million pounds of milk equivalent.

• Plans to dispose of surplus butter were announced in Washington to ease the pressure on accumulating stocks. The Department of Agriculture offered 430,000 pounds for sale on a bid and offer plan. The CCC also announced plans to dispose of some.

• The dairy industry moved this month toward coordinating its research activities in nutrition and promotion. Fourteen industry and producer groups joined to gather information which it is hoped will disclose what new scientific data is needed for nutritional research.

Predict 8 Traffic Deaths in State over July Fourth

Eight lives will be lost in traffic accidents in Minnesota over the 4th of July holiday weekend.

That was the prediction made today by J. E. P. Darrell, traffic and safety engineer of the Minnesota highway department. He based his forecast in records of similar holiday periods of recent years and on the fatalities experienced in the state so far this year.

"Traffic deaths on Minnesota's streets and highways so far this year," he said, "are almost 25 per cent ahead of those reported in 1952 during the comparable period. Futhermore, the 4th of July holiday has always resulted in a great number of motor vehicles accidents and fatalities. Last year, for instance, there were 498 accidents reported during the four-day holiday, with 12 of them resulting in 14 deaths. Another 3555 persons were injured in these mishaps."

Darrell said Minnesota motorists "could make a liar out of him" by coming up with an outstanding accident and fatality record for the coming weekend.

"Nothing would please me more," he said, "than to be able to record a death-free weekend for our state. It can be done if every motorist will take the little extra time and effort to drive carefully during the weekend, making proper allowance for congested streets and highways and driving with the same kind of courtesy he expects from other drivers."

Prize-winning Essay on "What the Flag Means to Me"

As the American people pause Saturday, July 4, to observe the nation's Independence Day, it is appropriate for The Times to publish the following essay on the topic, "What the Flag Means to Me." The essay, written by Shirley Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jensen of rural Thief River Falls, won first place in the local and Ninth district contests sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary.

What The Flag Means To Me

Sports, a major extra-curricular activity, play an important part in our life from elementary school through university level. We are especially proud if we have a team that honorably fights for and wins a trophy, whether it be for district, region state, national or international participation. This trophy will proudly stand in a show case of our school, for all to see, in memory of this great team.

You may wonder what this opening paragraph has to do with the title of my theme. It may seem off the subject to you, but to me there is a comparison that illustrates "What The Flag Means To Me."

Our flag, is the greatest trophy any team has ever honorably fought for and won. But who compose this team so proudly portrayed by The Stars and Stripes as it floats magnificently on high. Stop to think! No doubt your thoughts are similar to the ones I think and express. Yes, it's all the brave men and women who have been, and still are, at the front lines and in our defense factories; the proud but sorrowful parents at home, who rear their children, and then send them off, not to win the trophy this time, but to safeguard it against aggressive forces trying to wipe out the very thought of democracy in other lands as well as home.

We might call the men and women in the American Revolution period the "varsity line up," with George Washington as their captain. They were the ones by the help and grace of God who had courage to declare themselves free from England; thus unconsciously giving birth to our most treasured trophy. The Stars and Stripes.

Of course, we must never forget the founders of our country such as Columbus, John Rolfe, Raleigh and the pilgrams. From their hopes and prayers for a better future arose a structure that later challenged England, for the first freedom our country had ever known. Would our flag and its meaning exist, if it were not for these early, courageous pioneers, who left a built up civilization in England, for the wilderness, indian hostility, starvation and finally death that this country offered to so many.

It may seem cruel and insincere to say that these early people paved the way for the revolutionary War in America. However, I believe it was a justified war. It gave us, above all else, our country with its freedom loving people.

It is only natural that forefathers should want something to symbolize the courage, liberty, and loyalty they had so bravely shown. So the flag was made with the thirteen stripes for the original colonies and a star for each state.

Our schools have teams and trophies, songs and colors, so it is with our country. It has and will continue to have a great team, a beautiful and heart warming song, three common, but meaningful colors, and a trophy, over 170 years old, that I hope will be seen forever floating majestically "by the dawn's early light."

Marshall Co. Polio Chapter Headed by G. LaFond, Argyle

Robert Graham of Warren Is Appointed Chairman of 1954 Polio Campaign

Gayle LaFond of Argyle was elected chairman of the Marshall county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at the annual meeting held following a dinner at Hotel Warren June 23.

He succeeds Robert A. Graham of Warren as chapter chairman. Graham was appointed as campaign chairman for the 1954 March of Dimes fund raising drive, which work he handled in conjunction with the county chairmanship during the past year.

Other officers elected include: Clifford Nelson, Warren, vice chairman; Mrs. Lawrence Sundahl, Stephen, secretary; Oliver Tollefson, Argyle, treasurer; Wm. Wikstrom, Strandquist, Ervin Strandquist, Argyle and Mrs. Jan MacKenzie, Stephen, executive committee; Dr. C. H. Holmstrom, Warren, medical advisor; Mrs. Harry Sailor, Warren, woman's committee.

Graham gave a report on the campaign for the past year. He stated that the rural areas had raised $2,402 in the campaign, and that the cities had raised $3,202, making a total of $5,604 raised in Marshall county.

A recent newspaper survey reveals that today 56 per cent of America's 46,000,000 households are homeowners, compared with 43.6 per cent in 1940.

AROUND the COUNTY with RAY MITTENESS

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION AGENT

Much Weed Spraying

By this time weed spraying for this year has about been completed. This year I believe more chemicals have been sprayed on weeds in our grain fields than during any other season. As usual the results vary somewhat. A very important factor in success of weed control is the weather. These chemicals are also rather powerful and must be applied exactly according to directions. Have had a few reports of injury to grain. Paul Engelstad says he has some flax that shows signs of burning after spraying with TCA and Sidney Wilson told me about a field of grain that was hurt considerably due to uneven application of 2,4-D ester. Cases such as this each year bring out the fact that chemicals can make weed control much easier but they must be applied at the right time and in the right amount.

Tips on Saving Hay Crop

In traveling around the county the past week I have seen hundreds of tons of hay that lost much of its feed value due to weathering. There is nothing you can do to prevent rain during hay season but there are two methods of preserving this hay crop that will certainly help reduce the risk of losing this first cutting. First, using a forced air curing system and second, making grass silage. These systems not only shorten the field curing time necessary but also make it possible to cut that hay crop in the early bloom stage when digestability and protein are at their peak. By cutting early you also increase the possibilities of a good second crop. You lose less dry matter and protein as silage than as hay. The USDA Experiment Station at Beltsville found that cows fed alfalfa silage gave 12% more milk per acre than on field cured hay when there was no damage and 40% more milk when there was rain damage.

There are lots of different ways to handle grass silage: it can be put in regular silos, you can use temporary silos, trench silos, or just pile it on the ground. With any method you use if it is put in at the right moisture content and packed well you should have pretty good silage. The right moisture content is 60 to 70 per cent. For chopped hay this means when you squeeze a handful it will slowly break apart in chunks. Hay silage can be put up without chopping. The fact that more and more people are using this method of curing their grass and legumes every year is proof enough to me that it is a good method to use.

Addition to 4-H Building

Last week the Pennington county 4-H clubs completed a very important project that they have been working on several years. That is the addition to the north side of the 4-H building. This addition gives the 4-H clubs a space 50 feet by 10 feet to use for exhibits during the county fair. Now it will also be possible to have the 4-H demonstrations in the club building. The council has worked on different projects the past three years to earn money to complete this building and now in three days the job was done. Casper Moe of Steiner was in charge of the project and each club furnished a helper for ½ day or more, to assist him. Thanks to all of you who helped to make this job so easy.

Main ingredient of the celebrated French chowder called bouillabaisse is one of the Mediterranean's ugliest fishes, a spiny monstrosity called scorpionfish which has the ability to change color to match its background.

30 Visit Soil Conservation Area Monday

Group Sees Model Dairy Visits Seed Test Plots and Drainage Project

A group of 30 Thief River Falls businessmen and local farmers Monday morning enjoyed an informative tour of Pennington county soil conservation district, conducted under the direction of County Agent Ray Mitteness and Don Lawrence, farm planner with SCS.

First stop was at the flax and oats variety test plots maintained by Mitteness south of Goodridge, where six varieties of flax and eight kinds of oats are being tested. A plot of Missouri oats looked especially good.

The party made its next stop at the Harry Solberg farm in Star township, where a model dairy setup was shown, including a loafing barn, milking parlor and pipeline milking system, which makes it possible to milk 20 cows in less than an hour. Leonard Furuseth, who installed the equipment, demonstrated its operation.

The next point of interest was the Zimmer farm on the Clearwater river, where 300 acres of brush and cattail growth has been cleared and seeded to a fine-looking crop of flax. Deep ditches have been installed at half-mile intervals to remove the surplus water.

The last stop was made at a point south of the Glenn Tass place in Hickory, where Herbert Holthusen of Grygla is digging an off-take ditch from Judicial Ditch No. 1.

Ralph Hauswirth, SCS engineer, explained the water management plan for the area, which includes a dike on the reservation line between the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers to prevent overland flooding from the Indian reservation, in addition to seven outlets for a drainage ditch, leading into the Clearwater river.

The entire cost of the drainage project is $55,414, amounting to an average cost of $2.34 per acre of benefited land.

The tourists were favorably impressed by the excellent appearance of the crops thruout the area traversed.

Salvation Army's Home Being Razed

Building Was Erected 50 Years Ago in 1903

Work of razing the old Salvation Army building on Main av. N., a frame structure erected in 1903, got under way last week.

Arrangements are being made for the Army to occupy the Evangelical Free church building on Horace av. when the congregation moves into its new edifice now under construction on Kendall av. at Third st.

The building being razed, which has been occupied by the Salvation Army for the past 30 years or more, was built in 1903 by John L. Bean, according to the recollection of Martin Bothun, pioneer local resident.

Bothun recalled that at various times the building had been occupied as a grocery store and second-hand furniture store before being taken over by the Salvation Army.

Much Activity at Teachers Session

Arrange for Tour Today of Water, Sewage Plants

Last Wednesday as part of their work in conservation of natural resources, Dr. Hobson and the teachers attending the summer workshop at Lincoln high school went on a conducted tour of Pennington County to study the soil.

Gordon Nohre Heads Group Seeking Work for the Handicapped

A forward step in behalf of physically handicapped people in the Thief River Falls community was taken June 30 when the Thief River Falls advisory committee on employment for handicapped persons was formally organized.

Gordon H Nohre was named chairman of the group, with [illegible] Elseth as secretary. Other members and the organization they represent include Clarence [illegible]dsen, federal civil service; [illegible] Jorgenson, VFW; Donald [illegible]ard, local business; Dr. George T. Van Rooy, Pennington County Medical society; Hjalmer Rafteseth, Minnesota department of veteran's affairs; Elmer Anderson, American Legion; and Kalmer Ostby, local schools.

The Thief River Falls committee comes into being on invitation of Harry E. Simons. "In these days of manpower shortages," said Mayor Simons, "neither the nation's defense effort nor the country's need for civilian production can afford the loss of any available worker.

"When here, as elsewhere in the nation, employers have unfilled jobs, it is a matter of civic duty that we take such steps as we can, to help those with physical impairments find employment that assures highest possible production."

The newly formed committee, Mayor Simons said, will work closely with R. S. Eldevik and the local office of the state employment service, to accomplish two objectives, as follows:

1. It will take whatever steps are necessary to obtain suitable jobs for any handicapped workers who now may be ready for employment.
2. Attention also will be given to promote better utilization of any handicapped people who now may be working on jobs below their highest skills.

The new committee will serve continuously and will coordinate its work with the President's advisory committee on employment for the handicapped and with Governor Anderson's advisory committee on employment for handicapped persons. Its special job will be to handle the local observance of National "Employ the Physically Handicapped" week that, by federal law, comes the first week in October.

The Committee will operate on very broad lines and will follow the employment service defini-

Study Made of Work of State Legislature by Former Local Man

The results of a 15-weeks study of the state legislature during its 1953 session by a former Thief River Falls man were summarized in the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune by Carl T. Rowan, staff writer.

The study was made by Ralph S. Fjelstad, assistant professor of government at Carleton college in Northfield. Dr. Fjelstad was graduated from Lincoln high school in this city about 20 years ago, and later was graduated with honors from Concordia college, Moorhead. He then studied at the University of Minnesota and at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., where he received a Ph. D. degree in 1948.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Fjelstad, formerly of Thief River Falls.

The legislature is plagued by its own rules, poor organization and a tendency of many legislators to waste part of a session that is already far too short, says Dr. Fjelstad.

It is a legislature weighted down by too many members and two many committees—some of them with too many political axes to grind—he says.

Fjelstad says the legislature would be:

Far more efficient if the constitution were revised to permit the legislature to set its own meeting period, and to meet annually if necessary. The constitution nows calls for a 90-day session every two years.

Far more responsible if its members were elected under party labels.

Less troubled by end-of-session logjams if the governor and legislators enforced a rule to prevent a late flurry of new bills.

Less subject to charges of "undue influence" by "certain lobbyists."

Fjelstad received a Ford foundation grant so he could spend full time studying the 1953 legislature. He sat through hundreds of meetings and later read the records—such as were kept—of every committee meeting.

"I reached the conclusion that most legislators are conscientious men, trying to do a competent job under extreme pressures and some very difficult circumstances," Fjelstad says.

But he adds that many of the "difficult circumstances" have been created by legislators and that legislators can initiate action to remove other handicaps.

"As a whole, I could not help but doubt whether the legislature is serving the state well when it consistently is grinding out bills in the final days of the session," asserts the professor.

Observation of the legislature shows it is "completely unreasonable" to expect a body to conduct the business of the state by meeting 90 days every two years, he says.

But the short session is only

Parks Chief Plans Improvements to Old Mill State Park

U. W. Hella, Director, Says Sale of Stickers Will Finance Program

Extensive improvements are being planned for the Old Mill state park in the immediate future, U. W. Hella, director of the division of state parks, stated recently while on an inspection tour of the parks, says the Warren Sheaf.

The park division is planning to take over the maintenance and finish construction work on the replacement of the Old Mill. The major part of this construction work was made possible thru contributions of county residents to the Old Mill restoration committee.

Plans are also being formed to enlarge the refectory and may also include construction of an overnight mess hall, both of which are recommendations of the park advisory committee of the Marshall County Historical society. A tractor drawn power mower is also being purchased for use in park maintenance.

Superintendent of the park, Ernest Jewell, who has been employed only on a part time basis with a two or three month lay-off in the winter, will be given full time employment under the new program. Mr. Hella, who was accompanied on his tour by Mr. Reitan, district park supervisor, praised the work of Mr. Jewell, who has done much with little to keep the park in excellent condition for use of thousands each summer.

The improvements to the park are being made possible through the sale of $1.00 stickers for automobiles. Each car entering any of the state parks in Minnesota must have the $1.00 park sticker on the windshield. The one sticker is good all year at all parks in the state. In Marshall county, the stickers are on sale at all game license agencies, the county auditor's office or at the park.

The work has been sought for the past several years by residents of both the Grygla community and the road committee of the Thief River Falls Civic and Commerce association.

Hoffman also announced that Roy Benson & Son of Stephen submitted the low bid of $261,691 on grading and gravel base of 13 miles on Highway 92 from the junction with No. 32 south of Red Lake Falls to the junction with No. 59 at Brooks.

PMA Election Meetings to Start July 13

Location and Dates of Meetings to Be Mailed to All County Farmers

Farmers in Pennington county will elect the men they want to administer their national farm programs for 1954 at a series of election meetings starting Monday, July 13, according to Oscar J. Houske, chairman of the County Production and Marketing Administration committee. Notices announcing the date and place for each meeting will be mailed to all farmers.

In each township a PMA community committee, consisting of three regular members and two alternates, and a delegate to a county convention will be elected. At the succeeding county convention, the delegates will elect a county committee consisting of a chairman, vice chairman, member and two alternates.

The community and county PMA committees are charged with the local administration of such national farm programs as the agricultural conservation program, crop insurance, price support programs, and acreage allotment and marketing quota programs.

These elections are a means of insuring that farmers will have a voice in developing and carrying out national farm programs. Since these programs affect the daily operations of every farmer, it is important to have decisions and suggestions made by committeemen who represent the choice of a majority of farmers in the community. This will be certain if every eligible farmer votes in the elections.

Richard Burtness Addresses Lions

Young Livestock Breeder Recounts Experiences

Guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon meeting last Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe was Richard Burtness, young livestock breeder of this community, whose purebred Holstein heifer won the grand championship at Northwest Dairy Day June 9.

Introduced by Dr. E. S. Amesbury, program chairman, Richard said that the first Dairy Day in June, 1950, had given him the incentive to become interested in dairy herd work, and that his interest had been further stimulated by his affiliation with the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America. He added that he plans to make a career of livestock raising.

J. M. Roche, secretary of the Pennington county fairy board, briefly outlined the program to be presented at the 1953 county fair. Also introduced was Carl Marlo of the Marlo Shows, which will present the entertainment program in front of the grandstand this year.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor, Times:

The Swedish "Rigsdag" (same as our Congress) has enacted a law which states that in the year of 1955 it will be compulsory for all citizens to register for Health Insurance.

That insurance law states that 65 to 70 percent of all income losses caused by sickness will be refunded by the government; and also that all Sweden's inhabitants shall have free hospital care; and that three-fourths of private doctors' charges for services shall be paid by the government. The law provides for free medicines —or in certain circumstances—medicines at much reduced prices. That health insurance law covers transportation to hospitals, and most of the expenses that comes from costly travel to doctors or clinics. Families with children will get an extra daily allowance if one of the parents is sick.

Of the estimated cost of 738 million crowns 44 percent will be collected by insurance dues; and employers will pay 27 percent by donating 1.1 percent of the wages which is being paid to employes, and the government pays the rest.

Pensioners, crippled persons, and needy widows will receive daily allowances without paying any dues.

The social minister, in the government, Mr. Gunnar Sträng, said the other day in Stockholm, that the new law prepares the way for a national social insurance for all classes of citizens of Sweden; and that welfare costs will be considerably lowered.

For us here in our beloved U. S. it is interesting to remember, that president Truman suggested such a health insurance law. But the A. M. A. objected strongly, declaring that it would do more harm than good.

Sweden takes up the fight against Communism by giving its people social security; in other words: applying the "Golden Rule."

Local Ball Club Wins League Game from Viking 5-2

Thieves Hold 5 to 0 Lead at End of Fifth Inning of Game Friday

Wayne Gothe's "hidden ball trick," tagging Paul Erickson off third base for the game-ending out in the 7th inning, gave the Thieves a 5 to 2 win over Viking in a game played at Viking on Friday evening. The game was a Red River Valley league encounter, being the playoff of the postponed game of May 24th.

The Thieves held a 5 to 0 lead after five innings of play, picking up a pair of runs in the 1st and couple of tallies in the 3rd, and a lone marker in the 5th.

Gene Leslie, who had pitched a no-hit, no-run, and none-to-first game for four innings, was taken off the mound in the 5th inning, the "strategy" being to rest the speed-balling righthander for the important game against the Twins at Argyle on Sunday.

The maneuver nearly backfired, for Viking, noted for their late-inning rallies, touched lefty Phil LeGault for a base-hit in the 6th inning, breaking the no-hit string. And in the last half of the 7th, Chuck Barr opened with a single; Erlin Huglin, who pitched a fine brand of ball for Viking, poled out a double; Gene Hanson lined a single, scoring Barr. Paul Erickson was safe at first when catcher Swede Lund made a low throw after fielding Erickson's dribbler in front of the plate. Huglin scored on the miscue.

Gerry Potucek was out, LeGault to Perkins, with Hanson advancing to third and Erickson to second. Halvorson grounded to the mound, and Hanson was out at the plate, LeGault to Lund. Peters singled sharply to centerfield, but Al Williamson's accurate throw to the plate held Erickson at third base. Lund whipped the ball to Gothe in an effort to nab Erickson, who had over-run the bag. With LeGault strolling around the mound, Erickson moved away from third base and was tagged out by Gothe.

tion of what constitutes a handicapped person. Briefly, handicapped persons, in the committee's viewpoint, are those who have difficulty in securing jobs by reason of a physical ailment or for whom the job itself has to be modified. The committee will be concerned only with those who are employable.

It was brought out at the meeting that the problem of placement of handicapped workers is difficult in Northwestern Minnesota due to the general lack of industry. However, there are numerous jobs in retail and wholesale trade that can be performed by handicapped workers. The committee is interested in knowing of any available job openings as well as any unemployed disabled worker.

Warren-Argyle Twins Bow to Thieves 5-2; Shelly Here Sunday

The Thieves, with Joey Poole on the bench nursing a cut thumb, and Wayne Gothe having left town, were forced to reshuffle their lineup for their game at Argyle against the Warren-Argyle Twins. The locals protected their league lead by defeating the Twins, 5 to 2. The Thieves, with the five games remaining to be played on the league schedule due for the Fair Grounds diamond, will meet the Shelly team here on Sunday.

A walk, a hit batsman, a force-out, and a wild pitch gave the Twins a run in the 3rd inning of Sunday's game at Argyle. In the 5th inning, with two out, Gordy Olson drew a walk, stole second, and scored on Scott Matthews looping fly ball into short right field, giving Twins a 2 to 0 lead.

The Twins lead was short-lived, only an inning, for in the 6th Williamson, leading off, was safe on an error. After Williamson had stolen second, Phil LeGault was safe when first baseman Jerry Labine fumbled Matthews throw, with Williamson taking third on the ground ball and scoring on the error. Larry Perkins poled a double to the fence in right-center, scoring LeGault from second; and when Derwood Lund lined a single to right field, Perkins came in with the tie-breaking tally.

TURN TO PAGE 6 FOR ADDITIONAL SPORTS

Jack Hoppe's single, a wild pitch, and infield out, and Williamson's single added a run in the 7th inning. In the 8th inning, after Bob Nelson had given a walk to Larry Perkins and then been relieved by Bill Beck, the Thieves notched their final run. Lund forced Perkins at second; and Leslie sent a ground ball to third, with the play being made at second, forcing Lund for the second out. Don Perkins, playing first base for the Thieves, singled into right field, with Leslie stopping at second. Hoppe, playing second base in the absence of Joey Poole, singled to right-center, scoring Leslie with the Thieves' fifth run.

The Twins made a gesture at getting back into the game in the 9th inning when Duane Erickson and Gordy Olson beat out scratch hits. Matthews struck out; Beck flied out to Williamson; and Chuck Stewart sent a ground ball to Sid Vraa who made the toss to second to force Olson.

Jobholders in TRF Increase in June to Total of 2,632

Despite a drop in jobholders due to the closing of the schools, employment in Thief River Falls rose from 2,608 in May to 2,632 in June, due to increases in jobs in other fields.

R. S. Eldevik, manager of the local employment service office, reported that construction jobs are on about the same level as a year ago.

He added that a considerable number of students are in the local labor market, but that jobs for them are scarce.

Lively Competition Marks Golf Loop Play

This week's schedule in city golf league play will be featured by the match between the KTRF team and the Falls Theatre squad. Don Olson's KTRF team has a four-point lead over the runner-up Falls Theatre team in the American League, and will have an opportunity to increase that margin as the race enters its final week of play.

In the National League competition, the S. & L. Company team trounced by the Union State Bank squad last week, holds a two-point lead over the Bankers.

In the individual point competition, Roy Oen of the Falls Theatre and Dr. Wm. Feigal of KTRF, share the lead, with each golfer having scored 27½ points. Gust Craft, a member of the second place Union State Bank, has amassed 33 points, holding a three-point lead over the S. & L. Company's Phil LeGault.

Best in Junior Baseball

The double-header baseball series that has been scheduled for the Fair Grounds on Saturday should provide the local fans with some of the best junior baseball to show here this year. Irv Wilson has made arrangements for the Norton juniors of Winnipeg to come down here and play coach Ralph Skjod's local Legion juniors.

The age limitations for junior baseball in Canada is nineteen, and that means that the locals, who are playing under Legion eligibility rules, will be given away about two years in age per player. Age, though, won't over-awe the locals, for several of the boys—Jack Hoppe, Sid Vraa, and Joey Poole—have been playing with Thieves and against players that are double or triple their respective ages.

Don't forget, the first game of te Norton series will be played at 2:00 p. m. on Saturday, and the second game is slated for 6:15 p. m.

The local juniors won a pair of cherished victories this week when they marked up wins of 14 to 6 and 6 to 4 over Red Lake Falls. Sid Vraa, who pitched both games, gave up but one hit, that a single to Dick Williams in the 3rd frame, in the game played here on Thursday evening. On Friday afternoon, the Lakers touched Sid's right-handed slants for seven hits.

A Dream Team

It was a question as to whether or not that Red Lake Falls would put a Legion junior ball team on the field this year. If they hadn't, such players as Ken Bombardier, Dick Williams, Bozo Emard, and Ronnie LaChance would have been eligible to play with the local juniors. With that Red Lake Falls quartet joining such local players as Sid Vraa, Joey Poole, Jack Hoppe, Bobby Helgeland, and others, coach Skjod would have had a team with state championship possibilities.

Fact is, though, that it is better for junior baseball that Red Lake Falls decided to enter Legion competition. We'll hope that the Lakers are successful coming through their tournament schedule and that they, and the locals, will both gain the district tournament.

A Rhubarb

The last play of the game at Viking on Friday evening produced more rhubarb than pie-plant. And it was caused by a "hidden ball" trick. The Thieves aren't very proud of the fact that they had to resort to subterfuge in order to protect their lead and win the game. If the Viking batters, in the last half of the 7th inning, had gone up to the plate and made half-hearted swings at Phil LeGault's southpaw pitches and been retired in order, everything would have been peaceful.

Viking doesn't, and didn't play that way. Manager Chuck Barr led off with a single, Erling Huglin followed with a double, and Viking scored two runs and had the bases loaded with two out. Then came the tag on Paul Erickson for the game-ending out.

It is reported that Viking has forwarded a protest on the play to the league officials. Section 1 of rule 8.05 states that it is a balk if "the pitcher, without having the ball, stands on or astride the pitcher's plate or while off the plate, feints a pitch." From our point of vantage, Phil didn't appear to be within five feet of the pitcher's plate, nor did he make a move to pitch to the batter.

Vic Ties Course Record

Vic Jung, with a trio of paying witnesses — Phil LeGault, Lloyd Bennes, and Bob Bredeson — in attendance, shot a course-tying 31 on Thursday afternoon. That score equals the mark set by Minneapolis' Dick Evenson on June 27th.

Jung, who won the Fourth of July shortstop tournament at Crookston on Saturday, and who is playing some of the best golf of his long career, birdied the 1st, 5th, 6th, and 7th holes, and had pars on the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 8th, and 9th holes to score that 31.

Beginning on the short 4th hole, Vic carded a string of five consecutive treys. Jung was subjected to considerable heckling by the boys until they reached the 7th green, but when Vic made a three on that hole, Phil, Lloyd and Bob became believers and became reconciled to the fact that Jung's exhibition was going to cost them. At that, Vic, had an opportunity to break Evenson's record for he, Jung, took a five on the 9th hole. Vic can usually get a birdie on that hole.

3 Local Students at "U" M., Duluth

Three area students are attending the first summer session of the University of Minnesota, Duluth Branch which opened June 15.

They are: Jack H. Melby and John H. Stenerud, both of Thief River Falls, and Selma Strand, Trail.

Miss Strand, formerly a teacher in area elementary schools, took a position as fifth grade teacher in Carlton, Minn. in 1952.

Melby, a senior, expects to graduate in August with a B. A. degree in business and economics. His minor is social studies.

Stenerud, a business and economics major with a sociology minor, is also a native of Thief River Falls.

Thieves Take Red Lake Falls July 4 in Exhibition Tilt

Lakers Lose Saturday Night by Score of 7-5 Before Large Gallery

In a Fourth of July exhibition game played at Red Lake Falls on Saturday night, the Thieves, behind the southpaw pitching of LeRoy Aasland and the expert relief hurling of righthander Jesse DuChamp, defeated the Lakers, 7 to 5, before a near-capacity crowd.

After the Thieves, on a walk to Al Williamson, a stolen base, and Larry Perkins' single, had scored a run in the 3rd inning; the Lakers ripped off five runs in their half of the inning, with Archie Sele booming a base-clearing homerun over the left field fence.

The locals, on singles by Phil LeGault, a double by Gene Leslie, an error, a pair of walks, and a single by Williamson, tallied five runs in 6th inning, taking a 6 to 5 lead.

The Lakers threatened to break up the game in the 7th inning when Dick Williams opened with a single; a fielders' choice sent Howie Johnston to first and Williams to second. Emard single to load the bases. With Jesse DuChamp on the mound, Larry Turgeon bounced to Gothe, and Williams was forced at the plate. Sele struck out, and Ronnie LaChance bounced out, pitch to first to snuff out the rally.

Lund's double and Sid Vraa's single provided the Thieves with an "insurance" run in the 9th inning.

Stickers Required in State Parks July 1

Motorists are reminded by U. W. Hella, Director of the Division of State Parks, that it is necessary to have a "state park sticker," on the lower right hand corner of the car windshield to enter a tate park after July 1, 1953.

Hella urges that vacationers intending to visit any state park should procure the sticker, if possible, before starting on their trip as there might be a slight delay at the park entrance, especially at times of heavy traffic.

The park officials wish to emphasize the fact that a $1.00 sticker purchased for the car will admit the car and its occupants to any park in the state for the balance of 1953. The $1.00 investment is all that is necessary. Stickers may be obtained at any county auditor office.

For those who do not obtain the sticker, they will be on sale at the park headquarters or contact stations at the park entrances.

Owners of cars found within state parks without a windshield sticker will receive a warning notice which says, "The law requires for each motor vehicle entering a state park, an annual permit in the form of a windshield sticker costing $1.00, to aid in the maintenance of state parks for public use."

Minnesota 4-H'ers Go Overseas

Four young people from Minnesota, all 4-H club members, will be spending the coming months as "grass root ambassadors" to Finland, Australia and India.

The four have been selected as delegates under the International Farm Your Exchange program which seeks to promote international understanding among rural people. They will live and work with farm families in the countries to which they are assigned for four to six months. Under the two-way exchange Minnesota rural families are acting as hosts this summer to IFYE delegates from Australia, India, Nigeria and the Netherlands.

New Rules Govern Loans to Veterans

Credit Restrictions on Home Loans Removed

Veterans applying for GI loans today are confronted with different conditions and requirements from those which prevailed only a few weeks ago.

In response to many inquiries Leo. L. Haley, contact representative of the Veterans Administration office in Grand Forks, explained the two main changes affecting the veterans are:

1. The maximum allowable interest rate on GI loans guaranteed by VA has been raised to 4½ percent from 4 percent effective May 5, 1953.

2. Credit restrictions on GI home loans have been removed making it permissible for veterans to obtain such loans with no down payment and with a repayment term up to 30 years at the discretion of the lenders.

In addition veterans who now plan to seek GI loans from private lenders for homes, farms or businesses should apply to VA regional offices in advance for certificates of eligibility.

Haley emphasized that the new 4½ percent interest rate will apply only to loans closed on or after May 5, 1953. The new ruling does not affect the rights of any veteran who has a firm commitment from a lender to make a loan at a lower rate.

All loans closed prior to May 5, 1953 will be continued at the 4 percent rate under which they were negotiated.

Haley explained that even though the law now permits no down payment GI loans, veterans seeking loans are apt to find that many lenders will require down payments in varying amounts or percentages.

The amount of down payment and the length of the repayment period are matters to be agreed upon between the veteran and the lending institution making the loan.

Masons to Stage Annual Picnic at Walhalla, N. Dak.

Masons of northeastern North Dakota, southern Manitoba and northwestern Minnesota and their families will gather Sunday, July 12, at Walhalla, N. D., for their seventeenth annual picnic and outdoor meeting. Feature of the day's program will be the tiled evening meeting on Masonic Lookout Point, marked by the gigantic emblem erected in 1951 on the brow of the hill.

The members and their families and the general public are invited to the afternoon service at 3 o'clock in Riverside park, when Rev. Homer R. Harrington of Grand Forks, grand chaplain, will give the sermon.

Features of the afternoon program will be vocal music by the Khartum Chanters from the Winnipeg Shrine temple, directed by Arthur A. Gill, and a "Tribute to the Flag" by Paul Sherbina of Minot.

The service will be followed by the family picnics in Riverside Park, with members of the Walhalla lodge handling local arrangements and preparing coffee for the picnickers.

Crookston Wife Faces Charges in Death of Infant

A hospitalized Crookston woman was under arrest on a first-degree murder charge Wednesday accused of strangling a baby born unattended in her home.

The woman, Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, 28, wife of the Rev. Kenneth Johnson, was indicted by a Polk county grand jury Tuesday of last week. A bench warrant was served on her in the hospital by Sheriff Vernon Espe.

The child, a girl, was born June 6, apparently in the basement laundry.

Mr. Johnson found his wife unconscious and she was hospitalized. The body of the child was found later under a pile of clothes.

Dr. H. E. Nelson, coroner, said an autopsy showed the child had lived after birth.

June 12, County Attorney F. H. Stadsvold issued a warrant charging infanticide. The Johnsons have three other children.

Fruitless Search Made for Vikings at Detroit Lakes

Party Finds No Trace of Scandinavians Reported in Area in 14th Century

A three-week hunt for the remains of 10 Scandinavian explorers who were supposedly massacred by Indians in the Cormorant lake area near Detroit Lakes ended fruitlessly Friday.

An archeological party, headed by Marshall McKuisick, graduate student at the University of Minnesota, and Otto Zeck, curator at the Becker County Historical Museum, dug about three-fourths of a mile of trenches over an area of about two acres without turning up any bones.

The search was made on a terrace along the northwestern shore of the lake, which is in southeastern Becker County. The digging was an attempt to substantiate the authenticity of the Kensington Runestone, found in 1898 near Kensington, Minn., and purportedly telling of the massacre.

The crew, which dug a series of shallow, 5-foot trenches on the terrace, was comprised of McKusick, Zeck and Detroit Lakes youths.

Site for the digging was selected by Hjalmer R. Holand, Ephraim, Wisc., historian who organized the fund raising campaign. Holand, who wrote several books about the ill-fated expedition, believed the Scandinavians left Norway in the 14th century, explored into Hudson Bay, down the Winnipeg and up the Red River, then up Buffalo River to Cormorant lake.

Holland said two mooring stones found in the area in 1879 and a medieval battle ax and fire steel found in 1871 gave foundation to the Runestone account of the massacre.

Soo Line Revenue Down During May

As reported Friday by G. A. MacNamara, President, the Soo Line's operations for the month of May resulted in a deficit of $203,006 before contingent bond interest and sinking fund charges, as compared with net earnings of $402,804 before such contingent charges in May, 1952.

Comparable figures for the four month period in the two years are deficits of $875,305 and $566,640, respectively.

Gross revenues in May 1953, were $3,336,868, a decrease of $330,299 as compared with May, 1952, whereas operating expenses showed an increase of $253,454 from the May, 1952 figures. For the four month period in the current year both revenues and expenses decreased— $675,857 and $379,237 respectively—as compared with the similar period in 1952.

Weed Law to Be Enforced, Says State Supervisor

That the state law requiring cutting of weeds will be enforced was emphasized today by Sig Bjerken, supervisor of weed control for the Minnesota department of agriculture, dairy and food.

Bjerken said that local weed inspectors have been instructed to take measures necessary for enforcement of the law. He cited the case of a southern Minnesota farmer who refused to comply when asked to cut weeds. The farmer was brought into court and fined $25 and costs.

Bjerken suggested that anyone needing answers to weed control problems consult his local weed inspector or county agent.

THOSE JUDGES' SALARIES

Our government is a government of laws, and "We, The People," are the sovereign power.

That is what we have been taught.

Our state Constitution provides for three branches of government, the legislative, the executive and the judicial. Each branch is independent in certain specific fields of authority. Each branch in turn provides specific limitations on the authority of the other two. It is a system of checks and balances and, as governments go, works out fairly well.

There occasionally is disagreement on a question of authority. We now are in the process of deciding a controversy over the governor's right to veto bills, passed by the legislature, pertaining to the salaries of judges. The powers of all three branches are therefore either directly or indirectly involved.

The question is based on a state bar association appeal on the governor's right to veto two bills passed by the last legislature increasing the salaries of supreme court justices and district court judges. A district court judge has held that the governor's approval is not necessary to the enactment of laws fixing these salaries. He ruled that the bills providing for such increases, passed by both houses of the legislature, have become laws despite the governor's veto.

The language in the Constitution is clear on how a bill for an act becomes a law. It states:

> "Every bill which shall have passed the Senate and the House of Representatives, in conformity to the rules of each house and the joint rules of the two houses, shall, before it becomes law be presented to the Governor of the State." The Governor's authority and the procedure for his approval or rejection are then recited.

There is no exception to this specific provision that "every bill" must go to the governor. To hold that merely because the Constitution provides that the salaries of the judges shall be fixed by the legislature this type of legislation does not have to follow the prescribed procedure for "every bill" borders on the ridiculous.

The Constitution provides no other way for the two houses of the legislature to pass a bill except to direct it to the governor for approval or rejection. "A Bill For An Act" does not become a law until this specific procedure has been followed, and in the language of the Constitution itself that means "every bill."

Our courts deserve the respect of all citizens. Governors and legislators are fair prey for the critics of government. We expect them to be torn to shreds in the heat of our partisan political wars. Judges, however, are properly held to be immune from criticism of this kind.

We expect a finer and a higher type of service from our judges than we do from other public officials. We expect them to be informed and impartial and fair. We expect them to withdraw from any case in which they have a personal interest.

Obviously, when the interests of all judges are involved, some judges must preside and make decisions. But under such circumstances, when their own interests are involved, the judges who must make the decisions should lean away from their own personal interests. When their own personal interests are in conflict with the interests of good government and the preservation of our system of checks and balances it is better, if a doubt exists, that they err in favor of good government.

The judges and justices might keep in mind that they have more legislative sessions and more governors ahead of them to deal with. A future legislature can make amends for the shortcomings of a past session. Another legislature would have the right to act and to override a governor's veto. But for the judges to force a pay raise for themselves, by an extremely doubtful interpretation of our Constitution, is not good, and can result only in a breakdown of the confidence of the people in the integrity of our courts.

The majority group that assumed responsibility for the actions, good or bad, of the 1953 legislative session, followed pretty well a hold-the-line policy on expenditures and taxes. Some meritorious legislation failed to pass because it involved increased spending. Requests for salary increases for state employees, in some brackets undoubtedly justified, were rejected.

The favorable action on the salary bills for justices and judges came as a result of terrific pressure from the organized bench and bar. Lawyer members of the majority group, who had supported the hold-the-line policy generally, voted grudgingly for these salary bills because of fear of the consequences of failing to follow the direction of those who cracked the whip for bench and bar. Those who practice law don't want to go into court with the feeling that the judge has a mad-on for them.

And the judges and justices might keep in mind that the governor's vetos of their salary bills were extremely popular thruout the state. In the silent but enthusiastic cheering section were many good lawyers.

The judges have won a lower court decision on these salary bills. There is a possibility that our Supreme Court too may show bad taste when the question comes before it. It is not conceivable however that a self determined victory could be more than a temporary gain.

Our government is a government of laws. That government is divided into three branches under a system of checks and balances. This system of checks and balances may not always operate as it should. There is always the possibility that one branch may get out of hand and become a little too grabby for the overall good of the state.

Fortunately there always is a final court of appeal that these matters can be referred to, a court that is greater than all our courts of law. In our government it is "We The People" who are the sovereign power. The courts of law may distort our Constitution by interpretations. By their power to amend, however, the citizens of the state may repair the damage in language so clear that even the lawyers will be able to agree as to the meaning.

Fire Insurance Rates

Cy Sheehan, our new state insurance commissioner, made an announcement this week that will be good news to home owners throughout the state. Cy disclosed that fire insurance rates on homes will be reduced from 12 per cent to 25 per cent. He made the announcement in approving a schedule of rates embracing the changes filed by the Fire Underwriters' Inspection Bureau.

Cy explained:

"The reductions will vary with construction, locality and kind of fire protection available. Biggest reductions will apply to homes in 17 Northern and North Eastern Minnesota counties, including Duluth and the Iron Range cities. Average reduction in this area will be 25 per cent and in the rest of the state around 12 per cent. For many years, ever since the Hinckley fire, as a matter of fact, owners of homes in the 17 counties have been required to pay an added premium of 4 cents per $100 of protection, as compared with home owners in the other counties. This differential now is being eliminated, and home owners in these 17 counties are being put on the same basis as the rest of the state."

Cy explained in making his announcement, that the cost of dwelling windstrom and hail insurance has increased tremendously, due to the increase in frequency and severity of windstorms and the increased expense of repair—and it has been necessary to increase the premiums for this protection 50 per cent.

Authorization is being made for the writing of a $50 deductible coverage for windstrom and hail damage, however, and for home owners taking advantage of this plan the present rates will not be increased. Under this plan, the policy holder stands the first $50 of wind or hail damage to the insured dwelling. In other words, the home owner can take the $50 deductible plan and avoid the increase in rates on wind and hail damage.

22 Counties Surveyed

G. Howard Spaeth, state tax commissioner, reports that teams working on the Equalization School Aid Review are making good progress. Field studies have been completed in 22 counties, and only brief analytical work is needed to round up the study in these counties. In nine counties, on whom survey reports have been made public, wide variance in assessments has been disclosed. Reports on survey in all 87 counties will be ready in time for consideration of the next Legislature, it is planned. Sponsors of the assessments study are hopeful that it will be helpful in developing a uniform basis of assessing property.

10 Commandments of Water Safety Listed

Because of the vastness of its recreational areas, offering every outdoor attraction, Minnesota has an unusually serious problem in the safeguarding of the hundreds of thousands of people — residents and visitors alike — who avail themselves of these facilities. Here are ten commandments for water safety, suggested by the department of conservation, that should be heeded by everyone who goes vacationing in Minnesota this summer.

1. Before you rent a boat, inspect it carefully. See that it is of good design, construction, and condition.

2. Remember that any boat is dangerous when overloaded. Backlash McSnag, who holds forth on safety matters at the slightest provocation, says, "There ain't no safety in numbers — especially when you're fishing in a boat." The moral is: It's lots more fun and twice as easy to fish two men in a boat than fishin' eight men off the lake bottom.

3. Always row toward shore at the first sign of a storm.

4. Never stand up or change seats in a boat.

5. Take the advice of the man from whom you rent the boat. He knows the hazards.

6. Always swim at designated beaches. Don't take the chance of falling into a drop-off you can't see.

7. Always under-estimate your swimming ability. Don't try to demonstrate your prowess by swimming to distant rafts or to sand bars that usually disappear when you reach them.

8. Never let children out of your sight when near the water. Teach them to respect the water and to be aware of the dangers that it holds.

9. If your boat capsizes, stay with it as long as it floats or until help arrives.

10. In casting from a boat in which there are other people, remember that a fish hook is sharp and if caught in the eye or face may cause serious injury.

First shipments of government surplus powdered milk released to Church World Service and its Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) for distribution to needy children and undernourished refugees in 14 countries are beginning to leave storage centers in Wisconsin and Minnesota. CWS-CROP was allocated 14,500,000 pounds out of a total of 90 million pounds released by the government through its Commodity Credit Corporation to all accredited voluntary foreign relief agencies.

No. Central Sets New High Record for June Traffic

More person were carried by North Central Airlines in June than in any other month in the airlines' five-year, four-month history.

Preliminary traffic figures show the airlines carried 23,712 revenue passengers last month, exceeding by 5,938 persons the previous monthly record set last August 17,774 were carried on the system.

This represents an increase of 65 per cent over June, 1952, when 14,333 flew North Central.

238 Die in Six Months, 45 More Than Last Year

Death came to 46 motorists and pedestrians on Minnesota's streets and highways during June of last year the toll for the first six months continued well ahead of last year's record. A total of 238 deaths were reported through June 30, 45 more than during the first six months of 1952.

The one fairly bright spot in the June record, based on preliminary reports received by the state highway department, is the reduction of pedestrian deaths. Only seven deaths in this category were reported, three less than in June of last year and and three below the average for the first five months of this year. Four youngsters were included in the toll, with two of them six years of age, one three years old and the other only 16 months of age.

The 24 deaths resulting from vehicles running off the road, hitting fixed objects or colliding with railroad trains at grade crossings accounted for more than half of the month's entire toll. In almost every one of these instances, according to the Highway Department's safety experts, death was due to driving too fast for conditions. Several fatalities were attributable to conditions resulting from storms, but even these could have been avoided with proper caution. Five lives were lost in two railroad grade crossing mishaps, while two deaths resulted from passengers falling or jumping out of cars.

815 Million U. S. Property Razed in Fires in 1952

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has reported that estimated destruction of property by fire in the United States during 1952 rose to a new peak of $815,134,000, an increase of 11.6 per cent over 1951. The loss estimate exceeds by 3.8 per cent the board's preliminary one of $784,953,000 made public earlier this year.

In accounting for the continuing high trend in fire losses, the National Board said that various factors in the nation's economic life are responsible, among them rising prices, mounting production and greater values exposed to fire.

Just 25 years ago property loss in the United States approximated $473 million, so that dollar-wise in that time losses have increased over 70 per cent. In these same years the population of the United States has grown by 35 million people.

Dinner is served—on Lake Superior

ORE BOAT COOK John Martin slides a pan of tender beef out of the stove, ready for the crew's dinner. Good food is a tradition among hard-working Great Lakes seamen, who race against time hauling Minnesota iron ore to the steel mills. On the iron ranges, our state's mining industry is making every effort to keep the boats supplied with ore—and still conserve our state's ore resources. This is being accomplished through increasing use of low-grade ores and taconite which today are being concentrated into usable material for the blast furnaces. Concentration, however, is costly, and these ores must compete with ores from other areas. They can do so only if our mining industry is treated as fairly as other Minnesota industries.

Let us show you how good baled hay can be
The best way to judge hay quality is to examine it in the barn this time of year. Here are some things you will notice about rolled bales:
1 The hay is bright and green — just like it was baled.
2 Leaves are sealed inside the bale — almost no leaf loss during handling.
3 Bales that have been rained on are still good — they shed the showers.
4 Rolled bales handle without waste — won't buckle, break or fall apart.
5 Rolled bales are easy to feed — rolled out, cut open or fed whole.
Let us show you why hay in rolled bales is winning blue ribbons for quality at leading shows. Your livestock needs the best.

Court Says Governor Erred in Veto of Pay Increase for Judges

An appeal is expected to be taken to the state supreme court from a ruling by District Judge Gustavus Loevinger that Gov. Anderson lacked authority to veto a bill giving Minnesota district judges a $125 monthly pay boost.

Attorney General J. A. A. Burnquist, who was studying the ruling Monday, said he "assumes" the state will carry the case to the supreme court.

In his ruling, filed in Ramsey county district court Friday, Loevinger held that Anderson's "pocket veto" of the measure passed by the 1953 legislature was "ineffectual." He ordered state officials to pay the increased salaries.

Loevinger held that the legislature sets the salary of district court judges and that such action is exempt from veto by the governor.

Anderson refused to sign the measures giving district and supreme court judges a $1,500 annual raise, noting that the legislature, in the name of economy, refused to raise the pay of civil service workers in the lower brackets.

The governor said it didn't seem right to increase the pay of the state's highest paid employes while refusing to hike the wages of lower bracket workers.

Loevinger's action came after the Minnesota Bar association challenged the governor's action.

If Loevinger's ruling is not overturned by the supreme court, it will have the effect of granting the $1,500 annual raise to the justices of that court also, since the same raise was granted to them in a companion bill also vetoed.

Loevinger based his decision on the wording of the Minnesota constitution.

He pointed out that in the case of such offices as probate judge, clerk of district court, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general and auditor, the constitution provides the stipend shall be set "by law" — that is, by the action of the legislature taken in conjunction with the governor's power of veto.

Only in the case of the judges does the constitution use the phrase "by the legislature," Loevinger noted.

Shows to Be Presented at Minneapolis Event Slated to Open July 15

The most extensive list of Olympic swimming and diving celebrities in the 14-year history of Aqua Follies blend with the most versatile stage program Producer Al Sheehan has thus far developed to make the magnificent water carnival that opens at Theodore Wirth Pool Wednesday, July 15, in connection with the 1953 Minneapolis Aquatennial ending July 26.

The three-pointed Olympic setting sparkles with these three water gems: Ann Curtis, with three world records, 38 American records, and several Hawaiian and French standards, in addition to helping the United States to a smashing victory in the 1948 London Olympics . . . Vicki Draves, only woman ever to win both the springboard and highboard Olympic driving championships, also in 1948, now returning to Aqua Follies after a three-year absence . . . Bruce Harlan, men's springboarddriving champion in the same 1948 Olympics, long an Aqua Follies favorite.

Producer Sheehan has featured performers signed up for a well-rounded stage program.

To many fans the Aqua Dears water corps and the Aqua Darlings stage troupe are the hits of this annual production. They are the water and stage counterparts of the internationally famous Ice Follies precision ballet. Directed by Helen Starr and Dorothy Lundstrom these two groups are the unfailing foundation for all the water and stage acts and activities.

This 14th annual water festival will run 14 performances July 15 through 26 with a show every night at 8 o'clock and an extra at 11 p. m. each of the two Saturdays.

Mayors Guests at Aquatennial in Minneapolis

Invitations have been sent to 805 Minnesota mayors to visit Minneapolis Aquatennial Wednesday, July 22.

A busy schedule has been planned for the mayors and their wives beginning with 9:30 registration the morning of Mayors Day, July 22, at the Nicollet Hotel. Wives will be guests that noon at a Nicollet luncheon sponsored by General Mills, Inc., and the mayors will be guests of Land O' Lakes Creameries.

The visiting dignitaries will then be taken by special busses to excelsior Amusement Park, where special entertainment will be provided during the afternoon, ending with a smorgasbord supper.

From Excelsior Mayors and wives take their fleet of busses to the Parade Stadium on Wayzata Boulevard, where they will have choice seats for the illuminated Aquatennial evening parade.

TORMENTED CONSCIENCES!

Man's soul hangs in the balance between eternal chaos and everlasting bliss. Along comes a false teacher and tells him that no man can know for a certainty whether he stands in the favor of God or not. With such a teaching they torment men's consciences, excommunicate Christ from the Church, and limit the operations of the Holy Spirit of God.

Saint Augustine (Catholic) observed that "every man is certain of his faith, if he has faith." This biblical truth many in the Roman church deny. They exclaim piously, "God forbid that I should ever be so arrogant as to think that I stand in grace, that I am holy, or that I have the Holy Spirit."

Then also, many in the Lutheran and Reformed churches are led to believe that "You can never know until you leave this earth whether or not you have eternal life" . . . "perhaps the good that you do in this life will somehow balance out the bad."

To such philosophy, Martin Luther said, "We ought to feel sure that we stand in the grace of God not in view of our own goodness, but through the good services of Christ. As certain as we are that Christ pleases God, so sure ought we to be that we also please God, because Christ is in us."

John, the Apostle said, "Hereby know we that we dwell in Him, and He in us, because He hath given us of His Spirit." It is not presumptuous for the Christian to say "I KNOW I have passed from death unto life."

Co-ops are far out front in spreading ownership of American business!

More and more people are buying stock in American businesses these days.

Spreading ownership in this way is a good thing. When millions of people have a vote in the affairs of a business, they help make sure that the business will be operated in the interests of the people.

In a cooperative, every customer is an owner and has a voice in shaping the policies of his cooperative. Each co-op member has but one vote regardless of the number of shares he owns, and he makes good use of his voting privilege.

62 Days of Room and Board for Only $25!

A Minneapolis homemaker recently reported she received all her room and board costs in a Minneapolis hospital for only $25.

Mrs. Eleanor Kingston, 4516 Washburn Avenue So., Minneapolis, says, "My hospital bill was $1,174.06—62 days in the hospital and I paid only the $25 deductible and 84c for phone calls."

All board and room costs in a hospital room with two or more beds are paid by this outstanding new plan. It also covers many vital hospital services. Subscribers pay only the first $25 of the total allowances on their hospital statement, regardless of the amount.

The Blue Cross plan is non-profit, sponsored by 169 Minnesota hospitals. A companion non-profit plan for medical-surgical care protection, in which 2,800 Minnesota Doctors of Medicine actively participate, is Blue Shield. You need both.

Complete free details may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-5, 2610 University Avenue, St. Paul 14, Minnesota. A postcard will do.

Welfare Board Again Headed by M. Lindberg

Board Approves Budget of $395,000 for 1954; Levy Cut to $82,377.76

At the annual reorganization and budget meeting of the Pennington county welfare board held Thursday, July 9th, all officers were re-elected for the coming year. They are Merle Lindberg, chairman; Mrs. Otis Wold, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, secretary.

The board approved a budget for the year 1954 in the amount of $395,000. Of this amount said John X. Lynskey, executive secretary, it is estimated that $369,000 will be paid out by the county treasurer on the order of the board, with the remainder being issued from other funds which do not pass through the county treasury.

It will be necessary to levy local taxes in the amount of $82,377.75 in order to meet the county share of this budget. This compares to a levy of $100,000 each of the past two years. Costs have gone up rather than down but for the past several years it has been necessary to levy more than current needs in order to build up an operating surplus.

Old-age assistance is the largest part of the budget, calling for a 1954 expenditure of $210,100. Aid to dependent children will cost $78,184.00; the poor fund $31,250; the administration fund $25,646.00; and aid to the disabled $3,050. Payments to be made on the order of the board from funds other than the county treasury are aid to the blind $18,000; war veterans relief, $3,000; and the social welfare fund, $5,000.

Open Bids on $932,000 Hospital Project in Auditorium Thursday

Bids for the largest building project ever undertaken in the city of Thief River Falls will be opened at a letting in the municipal Auditorium Thursday afternoon when trustees of Northwestern Hospital association will consider proposals for an expansion program that is estimated to cost nearly a million dollars. The large number of requests for plans and specifications indicates that many contractors will compete for the job. Architect's estimate of the cost of building and equipment totals $932,000 and favorable offers are expected.

The Thursday letting will open at 2:00 o'clock under the direction of S. L. Stolte of the St. Paul firm of Architects Bettenburg, Townsend & Stolte. Members of the building committee who will represent the trustees are Frank Rinkel, chairman, Judge Paul A. Lundgren and Norman Peterson. Eleven general contractors and 17 special contractors have secured copies of the plans and specifications, indicating a great deal of interest in the project and that probably many bidders will submit offers.

Plans for the expansion provide for 110 beds, 24 bassinets, two major operating rooms, two minor operating rooms and two delivery rooms. The facilities will be adequate in every respect, giving Northwestern a top classification as thoroughly modern.

Arrangements have been made to finance the expanded facilities, according to Paul Lundgren, in charge of a fund raising drive that is still carrying on. A federal government grant of $419,000 and a city of Thief River Falls contribution of $200,000 leaves approximately $300,000 to be raised mainly by private contributions. Cash, pledges, and guarantees by a few individuals enables the trustees to satis-

World Traveler Speaker at Tent Mission 3 Weeks

Evangelist Swanson of Chicago to Give Report on Fighting in Korea

Thief River Falls area residents will have the opportunity to hear an eye-witness report on Korea, according to the Union Gospel Tent Mission board.

Evangelist Everett Swanson of Chicago, who has recently returned from a six-month tour that circled the globe, will be the featured speaker in a three-weeks union tent campaign at LaBree av. and Fourth st., which is scheduled to begin with services at 2:30 and 7:45 p. m. Sunday, July 19.

Beginning in Alaska, Mr. Swanson toured mission fields in Japan, Formosa, the Philippine Islands, India, Assam and Ethiopia before returning by way of Rome and London. Originally not in the schedule was a visit to Korean battle lines.

His most exciting experience was in Korea. When an army officer suggested the possibility of a visit to the front lines, even the thought seemed ridiculous, since civilians are not allowed in the danger zone. Somehow, however, permission was granted. This privilege is so rarely given that Evangelist Swanson has since his return been featured on several nationwide radio programs such as "Welcome Travelers."

Wearing an Army uniform and with a Korean guard and driver he started for the battle front in a mail truck. High on the mountain they suddenly spied a column of ten Communist guerillas, fully armed. "Frankly," says Swanson, "I was scared."

For some unknown reason the guerillas didn't fire a shot, which is almost a miracle since Communist troops are known to be quite trigger-happy. For two days Evangelist Swanson preached to front-line GI's as shells soared overhead. Many of his experiences will be seen in color film to be shown each night of the tent campaign here.

Pastor Brenneise of First Baptist Church also reports that with the evangelist will be a song leader and soloist, Jesse Leise, of Bremerton, Washington.

Mashall Co. Fair to Open Three-day Run on Thursday

Horse Races on Friday, Motorcycles Saturday and Automobiles Sunday

Marshall county's 47th annual fair is all set to open Thursday afternoon at Warren for a three day and four night run which will close on Sunday.

Superintendents in the numerous departments of the fair are anticipating a record number of entries this year, continuing the steady trend noted each year since the war.

Thursday is entry day at the Fair, with entries to be received from one p. m. to 9 p. m. Judging will start on Friday morning at 9 a. m.

The opening night attraction features the WDAY Talent Parade and Radio Revue as the grandstand feature. Auditions for the talent hunt will take place at the City Auditorium at 5 p. m. with the five best entrants chosen to take part in the evening program. Winner in the talent contest will be given an all-expense week's trip to Fargo where they will broadcast daily over Station WDAY.

Grandstand programs for the last three evenings will be presented by the Grossman-Sun Agency of Des Moines, Iowa with a big variety performance of 10 outstanding circus and vaudeville acts.

Each afternoon will bring an entirely different type of entertainment to the fair. Friday afternoon features horse racing with expectations that more than 25 horses will be entered in the seven heats of racing.

Saturday afternoon's program will consist of motorcycle racing and stunt riding with cycle clubs from Winnipeg and Fargo joining forces to bring out a full afternoon of thrills. There will be 51 laps of racing in addition to the stunt performances.

Sunday, the closing afternoon program brings stock car racing to the track. Drivers from Fargo, Grand Forks, Winnipeg, Grafton, Crookston and Thief River Falls are entered in the big race meet with modified stock cars, assuring fair visitors another big afternoon of thrills.

Marshall County 4-H club members will present several grandstand numbers on Saturday night, which is 4-H night at the Fair. The Style Queen revue will be a grandstand feature Saturday night and numerous special awards will be announced.

Co. Board Makes Reduction in Its Budget for 1953

for the court house sinking fund, replacing last year's levy of $10,000 for the building fund; and a reduction in the levy for bonds and interest from $35,000 in 1952 to $23,865 for 1953.

The board at its meeting voted to reinvest $100,00 of the proceeds of the sale of $250,000 court house bonds in interest-bearing short term government certificates, and the remaining $150,000 in certificates of deposit, indicating that there is little likelihood of an early start on construction of the new building.

A large delegation from Reiner and Star townships presented a petition asking the county board to designate as a county aid road a north-and-south route thru the townships connecting Highway No. 1 with State Aid Road 1. A hearing on the petition was scheduled for Friday evening, August 28, at 8 o'clock.

A petition also was presented by property owners in School District 12 at Hazel calling for dissolution of the district and its attachment to District 102, St. Hilaire. A hearing was set for Tuesday, August 4, at 2 p. m.

The board voted to buy from Harold Dietz a three-acre plot near the east end of Long's bridge to be used for culvert storage, replacing the present storage lot near the dump-ground south of this city.

Other business transacted by the board included the drawing of a list of 48 more names to be placed on the petit jury list, and the receipt from Martin Bothun of a plat of Oakland Park addition.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Who Picks Up Toys at Bedtime?

"Waaa! I won't, I won't," screamed Sue; she stamped her feet with emphasis. "But Sue, honey, you played with them, and now it's bed time. You should put the toys away," pleaded Mrs. Jones, trying to be conciliatory and avoid a bedtime scene. But Sue felt anything but conciliatory; she screamed again and ran from the room.

"That's the last straw," fumed Mrs. Jones. "That child won't have dolls to play with for a week if I have anything to say about it!" But she knew, and so did Sue, that she really didn't mean it. The same thing had happened other nights.

It is difficult to know what to do at a moment like this. It is easier to plan to keep such moments from arising. Learning responsibility is a long job for the child, and it is best started early. Two year olds love to imitate what their mothers are doing, and this is a good opportunity for a mother to make quite a thing of returning a toy or doll to the toy shelf or box.

Little urging will be necessary to get the youngster's eager assistance but the catch often is that the two year old's performance is poor, and the mother's patience is not geared to the slow rate of accomplishment and, from the adult viewpoint, the inadequate product. If, however, the mother can see the process as a source of fun her youngster has a chance to build up some good habits in the most painless of ways.

If a child who has been doing quite well with the "picking up" process suddenly balks, this is probably a good time to accept the refusal cheerfully and casually; the parent who refuses to let the task become a real issue generally handles it better over the span of a few days' time. Being fairly lenient about perfection of the performance, too, helps cut down conflict over carrying out the task. Lots of approval adds to the child's feeling of competence and parental appreciation of the gradualness of learning and growth will further smooth the path to more responsible behavior.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

The Minnesota state legislature was on the receiving end of some rather severe criticism last week.

Two studies—one by a Carleton College professor of political science and the other by the Minnesota Institute of Government Research, Inc. — sharply rapped state lawmakers for their failure to improve their own organization of the legislative sessions and to adopt the "little Hoover" recommendations for improving state administration.

The studies were separately conducted but happened to be reported coincidentally, focussing a rather unusual amount of attention on the legislative process during this off season period.

Plagued by Own Rules

The first study mentioned here was made by Dr. Ralph S. Fjelstad, assistant professor of government at Carleton college, who devoted 15 weeks to observing the legislature in action during the last session.

His findings were summarized at length in a long article by Carl T. Rowan in the Minneapolis Tribune. Rowan described the Fjelstad findings as showing that "the legislature is plagued by its own rules, poor organization and a tendency of many legislators to waste part of a session that is already far too short."

It has too many members (131 in the house and 67 in the senate) and too many committees—"some of them with too many political axes to grind"—the Fjelstad study showed.

Improvements Suggested

The legislature could improve its operations, Fjelstad believes, if it restored party designation in the election of its members, as a means of achieving more party responsibility. He believes the lawmakers should have the power to determine the time and length of the sessions, instead of having to jam its work into the 90-day limit set by the constitution.

Fjelstad is also in favor of a lobbyist registration law. He says he found no evidence to support the loose charges often heard that lobbyists for special interests were "exercising abnormal influence on legislators," but, he contends, a law requiring lobbyists "to list the money spent and to reveal to whom any money is paid" would clear up some of the charges frequently made.

He also believes that the legislators should enforce the rule that prevents introduction of bills in the last days of the legislature without the Governor's consent. He was especially critical of the extensive wasting of time during the early weeks of the session, which, he believes, could be avoided if committees were fewer in number, small in size, and got down to business sooner in the session.

Conservatives Criticized.

Fjelstad was critical of the conservatives' management of legislative organization, pointing out that the conservative majority does not select committee chairmen on the basis of merit—as is presumed under non-partisanship— but rather on the basis of party.

The conservatives, he said, act like "the party in control" and "give the liberals greatest committee representation on committees which matter least." He added, however, that if liberals were in control they would probably "organize in the same way." The solution, he feels, is to restore party designation.

Reorganization Failure

The main brunt of the criticism leveled by the Institute of Government Research—a non-profit, non-partisan agency supported by private contributors—fell on the legislators' failure to adopt the recommendations of the "little Hoover" commission.

The commission's findings were before both the 1951 and 1953 sessions and were backed, the study pointed out, by broad-based citizens committee and both major parties. Adoption of the commission recommendations, the Institute reported, "Would give the states' antiquated organization structure a complete modernization."

The Institute blamed the legislators' fear of "a strong executive branch" as the main reason for failure to take action.

Earmarked Funds Scored

The Institute report singled out the continuing practice of earmarking income tax receipts for school purposes for special criticism. "If the dedicated income tax school fund has been abolished," the report said, "or even if a larger amount had been diverted from it this year, appropriations for the University of Minnesota, mental health, teachers colleges and other activities might have received more liberal treatment.

"In other words, maintaining surpluses in the income tax school fund for local school aids affects the spending policies for other equally important state services."

The Institute also criticized the legislature for removing several positions from civil service, a move which "is not in harmony with good civil service practice," the report stated.

It is estimated that U. S. railroads have in place about one billion wooden ties, and over nine million lineal feet of timber trestle.

In 1952 man scanned farther over the heavens, climbed higher up mountains, and plumbed greater ocean depths than ever before in history.

Prepared by the Minnesota Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with University Farm, St. Paul

Tree for Better Living—There's a better farm living in your future when you have planted trees and shrubs in a shelterbelt around the home, barn and other buildings, says Marvin Smith, University of Minnesota extension forester. Aside from the material benefits, almost everyone will prefer a farm home nestled in the protection of trees to one exposed to the rigors of our climate.

Why some persons succeed in their tree-planting efforts and others fail is due to several causes. One that occurs often is the lack of land preparation before planting. The evidence is plain, says Smith, that whenever trees are planted on the heavier agricultural soils in southern and western Minnesota without ground preparation very few trees survive beyond the first year. This very month is not a bit too early to plow and fallow ground scheduled for tree planting next spring.

Conservation Farmers Named—Soil conservation districts in many parts of the state have chosen winners in the contests for top soil conservation farmer of the year. Among the winners are Carl Johnson of the East Goodhue Soil Conservation District, Forrest Patterson of the South Goodhue SCD, George Kotilla for the Wright SCD, and Harold Searles of the Upper Zumbro SCD. All the winners have done outstanding work, according to the judges.

This bit of verse was passed along by H. L. Thomas, associate professor of agronomy at the University of Minnesota:

When it is one-tenth in bloom,
Cut alfalfa just as soon
As the weather settles down
And the skies have ceased to frown.
Clover when about one-half
Of the flowers nod and laugh.
Grasses should be taken soon
After they begin to bloom.
Higher protein is the pay
For early cutting of your hay.
Every day you leave it longer
Makes the skim and fiber stronger.

Crabgrass Control

Crabgrass is probably the number 1 lawn pest in most areas. Although crabgrass is easy to recognize in its mature stage, it is a little difficult to distinguish in its early stages. Since effective chemical control depends on early application of the sprays, it is important to learn to recognize the young crabgrass plants.

Crabgrass is an annual that comes up each spring as soon as the weather gets warm. The leaf blades are quite broad and usually somewhat hairy. It should not be too difficult to distinguish these seedlings from the permanent lawn grasses.

Several materials are recommended for the control of crabgrass. PMAS, which is sold under a variety of trade names, and potassium cyanate have given good control. Apply as soon as the crabgrass seedlings are observed and make repeat applications at 7 to 10 day intervals until crabgrass is killed. Use the rate and method of application recommended by the manufacturer.

Good lawn care can also discourage crabgrass. Since crabgrass is an annual that grows best in hot weather, a good vigorous growth of bluegrass that shades the ground will do much to discourage crabgrass. Set the mower high so a good growth of grass remains to shade the ground after each cutting. The cutting blade should be set to mow at least an inch and a half above the ground level.

Restrict fertilizer applications to early spring or fall. Fertilizing the lawn at this time would encourage the crabgrass since bluegrass does not grow much during hot weather. Heavy watering will also encourage crabgrass. Use a grass catcher on your mower after crabgrass starts to mature.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, N. Dak.

Q: If I sign up for institutional on-farm training under the Korean GI Bill, how much actual instruction will I get?

A: You will receive a minimum of 200 hours of group instruction in school, plus at least 100 hours of individual instruction. A minimum of 50 hours of the individual instruction will be on your own farm.

Q: I'm the widow of a World War II veteran, and I've been getting a pension. However, it stopped because I forgot to mail in the questionnaire asking about my annual income that VA sent me. Is there any way I can get the payments to start again?

A: You should submit the questionnaire, or other evidence of your annual income to VA. If VA receives this within one year from the date it originally issued the questionnaire and if your income does not exceed the legal maximum, the pension may be payable from the date of the last payment you received. If more than a year elapses, the payments if otherwise in order will start as of the date VA gets the new questionnaire or a new claim.

Q: I understand that with credit controls lifted it's possible to get a 30-year GI loan with no down payment. But I can't find anybody who will lend me the money on those terms. Aren't lenders required to do that, under the law?

A: No. Although such terms are permissible, it's still up to the lender to make his own decision as to the terms of the loan.

Q: I've just been separated from service. I haven't yet applied for the GI term insurance available to Korean veterans. How long will I be covered by the free indemnity that protected me while I was in uniform?

A: The free indemnity protects you for 120 days after your separation from service. If you want the GI term insurance, you must apply to VA for it and pay your first premium within that 120-day period.

An oil well 5,000 feet deep was rare in 1925. Today, it is considered a relatively shallow hole because many modern wells are drilled to 12,000 feet and more. At least one test well has gone below 20,000 feet.

Viking Victorious in 18-inning Pitchers' Duel against Locals

Righthanders Gene Leslie of the Thieves and Erling Huglin of Viking engaged in an 18-inning pitcher's duel here on Sunday afternoon, and Viking, scoring a run in the 18th inning, won the Red River Valley loop contest by a 2 to 1 score.

The Thieves, who are in a first place tie with the Crookston Pirates in the league standings, will meet the Shelly team on the Fair Grounds diamond on Sunday afternoon.

In Sunday's epic extra-inning struggle the Thieves opened the scoring by racking up a tally in the 3rd inning. Jack Hoppe drove a single into right field, getting the first hit off Huglin. Jerry Stevens sacrificed Hoppe to second; Sid Vraa struck out; Al Williamson drove a triple down the right field foul-line to score Hoppe. Wayne Gothe grounded out, short to first, to end the inning.

The locals' Gene Leslie had a three-hit shutout going until the top of the 9th inning, when Viking scored to send the game into extra innings. Gene Halvorson bunted down the third base line, and was safe when Larry Perkins dropped Gothe's throw. Huglin struck out; Gene Hanson singled to left-center, with Gene Halvorson stopping at second. Potucek singled to left-center, scoring Halvorson with the tying run. Leslie retired Ken Halvorson and Wayne Peters on strikes.

The Thieves had a golden opportunity to win the game in the 13th inning when Sid Vraa, the locals' lead-off batter in the inning, got a life on an error by Viking' third baseman. Al Williamson's sacrifice moved Vraa all the way around to third base. A "squeeze play," with Vraa breaking for the plate with the pitch, just failed in scoring the winning run when Gothe's bunt was foul to the right of the plate. Gathe lofted to pitcher Huglin for the second out; and Perkins grounded out, third to first, to leave Vraa stranded on third base.

Viking made a threat to break up the game in the 15th frame when, with one out, Chuck Barr doubled to left field. Gene Halvorson struck out; Huglin was given a base on balls. A wild pitch advanced Barr to third base. Barr, on an attempt to steal home, was out at the plate to retire the side.

The Viking Oilers marked up their winning run in the top of the 18th when, after Barr had popped to Vraa for the first out, Gene Halvorson was nicked by a pitched ball. Huglin sent a ground ball to third base, and when the ball went through Gothe, Huglin was safe at first and Halvorson moved around to second and advanced on third, making the bag in safety when Vraa's throw to Gothe was late. Hanson was given an intentional walk, loading the bases. Jerry Potucek sent a line drive to centerfield, which was taken on a one-handed grab by Williamson. Ken Halvorson was hit by a pitched ball, forcing Gene Halvorson in with the game-winning tally. Peters was Leslie's eighteenth strikeout victim to end the inning.

Viking's Huglin, after giving up a single to Hoppe in the 9th inning, the eighth hit that the Thieves made, hurled no-hit and no-run ball for the balance of the game, tossing nine innings of near-perfect baseball, with only two Thieves reaching base, both on errors.

Saints Hold Lead in Northern Minny

Win over Plummer Team While Fosston Loses

Northern Minnesota League

St. Hilaire	7	1	.875
Fosston	6	2	.750
Erskine	4	4	.500
Plummer	3	5	.375

Clearbrook	2	6	.250

Plummer, 3, at St. Hilaire, 14.
Clearbrook, 7, at Erskine, 7.
Fosston, 9, at Clearbrook, 9.

Schedule, July 19th
St. Hilaire at Erskine
Fosston at Plummer
Gonvick at Clearbrook

The St. Hilaire Saints, defeating the Plummer Red Sox, 14 to 3, at St. Hilaire on Sunday moved one game closer to "nailing down" the Northern Minny league title. Nicky Drees' Saints will face a dangerous opponent on Sunday when they play the Erskine Merchants at Erskine. If the Saints are successful in winning Sunday's tilt, the probabilities are that St. Hilaire will win the league championship, for the Saints conclude their schedule by meeting Clearbrook at St. Hilaire on July 26th.

In the first game of the series between Erskine and St. Hilaire, the Merchants, by a first inning outburst, defeated the Saints 12 to 9, at St. Hilaire. The probable starting pitchers for Sunday's game are Woody Almquist for the Saints and Red Groven for the Merchants.

Midget Ball Team Wins and Loses in Games Past Week

Coach Bob Nick's midget baseball team recorded a win and a loss in the two games played during the week. On Friday, in a game played on the East Side diamond, the locals defeated the Red Lake Falls midgets by a 13 to 3 score.

On Tuesday evening, also on the East Side diamond, coach Harlan Grubb's St. Hilaire team scored a 12 to 10 win over coach Nick's squad. Southpaw Freddy Jensen hurled both of the games for the local aggregation.

This week's schedule will find the midgets playing a return game against the St. Hilaire club, meeting coach Grubb's club at St. Hilaire on Friday evening. Arrangements are being completed for a game with the Red Lake Falls midgets at Red Lake Falls next week.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

One for the Book

That eighteen-inning game played here on Sunday afternoon between the Viking Oilers and the league-leading Thieves, and which was won by Oilers by a 2 to 1 score, will go into the record books as the longest game in which a local senior baseball team has participated. As far as we can recall, the precious record was that sixteen-inning game at Gatzke in the early 40's, and which after being scoreless for fifteen innings, was won by the Thieves, 3 to 0, in the sixteenth.

Sunday's epic struggle, which should be given rating as the state's amateur baseball game-of-the-week, was featured by sparkling defensive play and sturdy pitching. The two pitchers, both righthanders, went the distance, and they turned in stout-hearted performances.

The locals' Gene Leslie allowed eight hits, gave up four bases-on-balls, two of which were intentional, and struck out eighteen batters. Viking's Erling Huglin also gave up eight hits, struck out eight batters, and walked but one man. From the 9th inning on Huglin pitched no-hit and no-run ball, with only two Thieves batters reaching base, both on errors.

During the eighteen innings of play, Only one earned run, that a score by the Thieves in the 3rd inning when the singling Jack Hoppe scored on Al Williamson's triple, was recorded. Viking, played the game without the services of Paul Erickson, their clean-up hitter, left sixteen runners stranded on bases. The Thieves, meanwhile, left nine runners on the bases.

Our nomination for the game's best defensive play goes to Jerry Stevens and his catch of Jack Hoppe's overthrow to third base in 9th inning. With a runner on first base and one out, Gene Hanson singled to right field. Phil LeGault fielded the ball and threw in to second-baseman Hoppe. Hoppe, in a hurry to prevent Gene Halvorson from advancing from first to third, made a heave to third baseman Wayne Gothe, but the ball sailed off over Gothe's head.

Stevens, who had begun to race in to the diamond when he sensed there was to be a play at third base, made a spectacular gloved-hand catch of the throw, holding the runners on second and first. If the throw had gotten away from Stevens, Viking would have scored on the error and had a runner on third base, and would have ended the game when Gerry Potucek singled. As it was Potucek's hit scored Gene Halvorson with the tally that sent the contest into extra innings.

Well, Sunday's game was one that will provide plenty of fuel for next winter's Hot Stove league. And on this particular Sunday, Viking had the better team.

Replace the Divots

Vic Jung, playing in the city league golf matches on Wednesday evening came close to breaking Dick Evenson's course record. Vic, playing in a foursome with Bob Bredeson, Jack Madsen, and Don Olson, and matched against Bob, was on the 9th green in 28 strokes, having a 25-foot put for a 29. Vic, after surveying the line of the putt, rolled the ball five feet past the cup, and then missed the return putt, taking a six and carding a 31.

Vic's near-record scoring on Wednesday showed a card like this: 343 234 336—31. Vic stated that Wednesday's round marked the second time in his career that he had putted for birdies on every hole.

Incidentally, there should be considerable excitement on the local course this evening as the city's two golf leagues—the National and the American—wind-up their seven-week schedule. It appears that the S & L team, in the National league, and the KTRF squad, in the American league, will win the league titles. But the individual point honors in both leagues are "in contention" and the first place money, for high-point play, won't be decided until late this evening, for Commissioner Harmon will check and double-check the score cards.

Last week's play in the American league was featured by the duel between Frank Tunberg of the Tunberg Motors and Lloyd Bennes of the Lincoln Life, both their respective team's number one golfer. Bennes, who carded a 36 the previous week, came in with a "horrendous" 47 as he lost the decision to Tunberg.

The week's play in the Red River Valley baseball loop was featured by the extra-inning marathon between the Viking Oilers and the league-leading Thieves, and which was won by the Oilers, by a 2 to 1 score, in eighteen innings.

In spite of their defeat by the Viking Oilers, the Thieves managed to cling to the league lead when the Crookston Pirates divided two games with Warren-Argyle. The Pirates hold the runner-up position, being one-half game behind the Thieves.

With but three weeks of the schedule remaining to be played, playoff position are "wide open". Four teams—Red Lake Falls, Viking, Nielsville, and Warren-Argyle — are tied for fourth place in the league standings, with each team playing .500 ball. The Alvarado Farmers, in third place, are in a fine position for the "stretch" run, having a pair of first-rate pitchers — lefty Don Hagglund and righthander Orv Bergman—on their staff.

Pretty Girls in Revue at Pennington County Fair

"Fair Vogues of 1953," the grandstand attraction at the 52d annual Pennington county fair in Thief River Falls July 30, 31 and August 1, will be presented by Marlo Show Productions, which scored a hit with its presentation at the 1952 fair. Pictured above are the Rhythmettes, a chorus line of pretty girl dancers, who will be featured in the production along with a dozen spectacular circus and vaudeville acts.

Drivers Licenses Made Alter-proof By New Process

A new safeguard which hereafter will make it virtually impossible to alter the "date of birth" record of any Minnesota driver's license has been adopted by the drivers license division of the State highway department.

New equipment has been purchased by the department, at a nominal cost, with which the date-of-birth figure showing the age of the license will be stamped into the card with perforated, inked numbers similar to those placed on checks by a check protector.

This feature will not only make the Minnesota driver's license card a more reliable instrument for identification and age determination but it is also expected to eliminate the occasional, although infrequent, cases of driver's license forgeries, which have been detected in the past. The specially designed equipment is on order for delivery and installation by the latter part of July.

Annual budget of Minneapolis Aquatennial Association runs about $100,000, nearly half of which is realized by the sale of voluntary memberships in the summer fun organization, the rest from sale of Skipper Pins, a percentage of the receipts from paid events and concessions where the largest crowds gather.

The coronation took place at the semi-annual party held in the Furniture Club of America during the summer furniture market in Chicago.

Miss Hedrich is a Ward employee. She was selected from 12 contest finalists, who were chosen as the furniture industry's fairest by a board of newspaper columnists and other celebrities.

Farmers Can Cut Toll of Accidents

Farm Bureau Head Asks Observance Safety Week

"Safety campaigns as carried on through newspapers and the radio save lives," says J. L. Morton, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

"The death toll on the highways over the Fourth of July week-end was tragically high, but somewhat reduced percentage-wise from the past," he points out.

"The fine work done by press and radio in putting across the messages of safety councils and other safety agencies held the midwest traffic death toll to about the level of a year ago, despite a noticeable increase in traffic, the Farm Bureau leader asserted after conferring with Alfred Luecke, executive secretary of the Minnesota Safety Council.

Because safety work gets results, Mr. Morton urges rural Minnesota people to take an active part in National Farm Safety Week July 19-25. "Safety can become a habit," he declares, pointing out that emphasis on safety during Safety Week will save lives and prevent crippling accidents in the months ahead. Olmsted and Kandiyohi counties proved several years ago the value of campaigns against corn picker accidents. Right now two of the things to guard against are the pothole and flooded ditch drowning of children; the Safety Council reports that 17 children met death in such mishaps this season. Parents who permit little children to ride on tractors or play around operating machinery also are inviting trouble, the safety council asserts.

A VICTORY FOR PATIENCE

If patience is a virtue then the Eisenhower administration has proven its virtue by its patience in dealing with the South Koreans. Sitting back here three miles west of section 37 we have been tempted time and again to toss our crutches out the window and tell this fellow Syngman Rhee off. In our language he has been a stupid obstructionist good for nothing but throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery of progress.

Fortunately the administration has looked upon the President of ROK in a different light. Officially Mr. Rhee is the head of an Asiatic free government. As such he is representative of all free governments in Asia and in dealing with him we are dealing not only with South Korea but with all the nations of Asia that hope to maintain their identity and remain independent nations.

In dealing patiently with Syngman Rhee the administration has done much to win the confidence of all of Asia. While it is not as spectacular as a brilliant military victory, it is the kind of unspectacular progress that will eventually win the war.

BIGGER DEFICIT DID IT

A couple of months ago there was strong opposition in Congress to President Eisenhower's appeal for a six month extension of the excess profits tax. Last week, however, the House voted in favor of such an extension by a one-sided 325 to 77 vote, and the measure is expected to pass the Senate without further argument.

It was not the President's persuasiveness that brought about this changed attitude. The change came with the realization tax revenues were falling far below estimates and that the deficit for the year ending June 30 would be much greater than had been anticipated. For the month of June alone the tax receipts were two billion dollars less than had been expected.

And this steadily increasing drop in tax revenues during the last two quarters of the past fiscal year will mean that tax cuts are not likely for the year that started July 1. Certainly there will be no substantial decreases such as the more hopeful observers had predicted. We now are farther from a balanced budget than we were six months ago and President Eisenhower properly looks upon that as a pre-requisite to any tax cutting.

A CHANGE — PROBABLY FOR THE BETTER

There is funny business behind the Iron Curtain but observers are not agreed as to what is happening or whether, from our standpoint, the results will be good or bad. The three-man government that was created following Stalin's death is now reduced to two, and it is safe to assume that the two will be reduced to one. A dictatorship is always a one-man deal.

Until out of the present "reorganization" that new dictatorship emerges, we probably will not have to worry about a Red menace. It is what may happen after the one strong man has established his authority that gives us cause for concern.

We do have a right to rejoice over the revolt of the workers in the satelite states. Our own experience in Europe has been anything but encouraging. There have been times when all our attempts to be helpful seemed completely futile and several times we have had doubts as to whether further effort could be justified— But whether or not those whom we have tried to help have responded as we thought they should, we now may find a measure of consolation in the realization that they are not responding as the Reds would like them to.

That the difficulties the Reds are having within their own household is temporarily helpful to the cause of free government there can be no doubt. The Iron Curtain has never been an impenetrable barrier and the knowledge that there is unrest and revolt and that the Russian rulers are no longer secure in the mastery of even their own country has been a serious blow to their prestige. The exposure of this internal weakness, for instance, probably would induce the Chinese to be a little more independent in their policies and a little more inclined to want peace in Asia.

The change that is in the making probably is for the better. Out of that change, however, could come another man on horseback even more ambitious and ruthless than his predecessors. The change could be for the worse and until there is more assurance than we now have that the Red menace has destroyed itself we should not let our guard down.

Comrade Beria, for many years Joe Stalin's hatchet man, now knows how it feels to settle down for a long nap under a rapidly falling axe. Maybe the axe has already fallen. Following the example of so many of his own victims the old purgemaster himself will no doubt oblige the new bosses with a full confession before he is liquidated.

The Texans adopted him and called him Hogan and now the Scots changed the name of our national hero, Ben Hogan, to Benjamin MacHogen. He will not be a truly great golfer however until we are assured by the source of all truth that the family name is Hoganovitch.

The kind of baseball that is being played here deserves a better field for the fans. Night baseball, we are sure, would be very popular. Lights would pay off.

four REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD INSTALL A Surge
SYSTEM of MILKING COWS

1 LABOR
No stooping, walking or carting; you milk standing up.

2 SANITATION

3 HERD HEALTH
Comfortable cows give more milk; there isn't the danger of teats and udders resting on cold concrete where they are sometimes stepped on.

4 ECONOMY·EFFICIENCY
You profit in time saved, in labor saved, and in your investment in buildings and equipment.

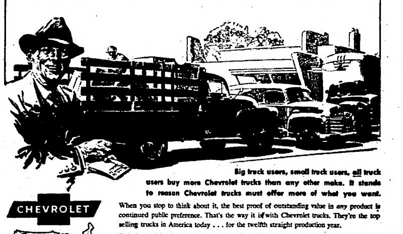
Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!



Big truck users, small truck users, all truck users buy more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. It stands to reason Chevrolet trucks must offer more of what you want.

When you stop to think about it, the best proof of outstanding value in any product is continued public preference. That's the way it is with Chevrolet trucks. They're the top selling trucks in America today . . . for the twelfth straight production year.

This is a mighty important fact to consider before you buy your next truck. You'll also want to consider that, while Chevrolet trucks give you more features you want, it's the lowest-priced truck line of all! Come in and talk it over with us.

Ford Master-Guide
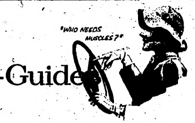
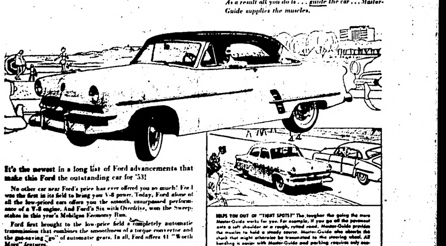
Power Steering!



"WHO NEEDS MUSCLES?"

Master-Guide applies hydraulic steering power automatically . . . and in varying degrees as required . . . right at the steering linkage, close to the wheels. At the same time the system serves as a hydraulic shock absorber to keep road jars and jolts from your hands. As a result all you do is . . . guide the car . . . Master-Guide supplies the muscles.



HELPS YOU OUT OF "TIGHT SPOTS!" The tougher the going the more Master-Guide works for you. For example, if you go off the pavement onto a soft shoulder or a rough, rutted road, Master-Guide provides the muscles to hold a steady course. Master-Guide also absorbs the shock that might otherwise be transmitted to the steering wheel. All handling is easier with Master-Guide and parking requires only one-fourth the normal effort. Should Master-Guide ever lose its power, the standard steering mechanism will operate just as usual. Thus, Master-Guide provides new ease with full security, wherever you drive. Optional on all V-8 models at extra cost.

It's the newest in a long list of Ford advancements that make this Ford the outstanding car for '53!

No other car near Ford's price has ever offered you so much! Ford was the first in its field to bring you V-8 power. Today, Ford alone of all the low-priced cars offers you the smooth, unsurpassed performance of a V-8 engine. And Ford's Six with Overdrive, won the Sweepstakes in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

Ford first brought to the low-price field a completely automatic transmission that combines the smoothness of a torque converter and the gas-saving "go" of automatic gears. In all, Ford offers 41 "Worth More" features.

And now, in addition, Ford brings you the newest and finest in power steering . . . Master-Guide, a system exclusive in Ford's field! It's no wonder, then, that Ford is the "Worth More" car . . . worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it.

Test Drive Ford with Master-Guide Power Steering!

An Honest Night's Sleep

Slim Johnson, just back from a business trip, tells about a hotel he stayed at one night.

"I hit town late and went right to the hotel. There was no clerk at the desk, but there was a sign that said: 'Gone to bed. Rooms $3. Take a key. Pay when you leave. Sleep Well.'

"Upstairs, the room was real clean, the bed comfortable, and I slept like a log. Came down in the morning—still no clerk. So I left three dollars at the desk and went on. Can you imagine folks that trustful?"

From where I sit, running a hotel on the honor system shows a real trust in people. And people always appreciate being trusted. Letting your neighbor follow his personal preference is a kind of trust too—trusting in his good judgment. I like a temperate glass of beer occasionally. You may prefer buttermilk, but let's hope neither of us "registers" a complaint against the other.

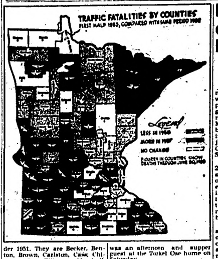
Traffic Fatalities in All but 20 State Counties in 6 Months



TRAFFIC FATALITIES BY COUNTIES
FIRST HALF 1953, COMPARED WITH SAME PERIOD 1952
Legend
LESS IN 1953
MORE IN 1953
NO CHANGE
FIGURES IN COUNTIES SHOW DEATHS THROUGH JUNE 30, 1953

Less than one-fourth of Minnesota's 87 counties completed the first half of 1953 with death-free traffic records, according to the Minnesota highway department. The above map of the state shows that only 20 counties had perfect records as of June 30.

Deaths attributable to traffic accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways during the first six months of this year numbered 238, as compared with 193 in the first half of 1952. The increase of 45 deaths came in the 42 counties which have had more deaths so far this year than in the comparable period of last year.

Another 29 counties have come up with better records than they had last year, while 16 counties "held their own" in the battle against traffic deaths. It must be remembered, however, that among these latter counties there are seven counties which could not improve upon their 1952 records becaus they had no deaths in the first six months of last year and have repeated their performances in the first half of this year.

Counties showing the greatest numerical increases in traffic deaths so far this year include Hennepin, Ramsey, Anoka, St. Louis, Mower, McLeod and Winona, whose combined increases total 50 fatalities. Anoka and St. Louis counties lead these counties with an increase of nine deaths each, followed by Hennepin, Ramsey, Mower and McLeod with seven each and Winona with four.

Greatest gains were earned by Blue Earth county, which saved seven lives under its six-month toll of last year; Rice, 6; Dakota, 5 and Itasca, Mille Lacs and Morrison 4 each, for a total saving of 30 lives.

Even more important, according to safety experts, is the continuing downward trend recorded by eleven counties which again had fewer deaths in the first half of 1953, just as they had reduced their deaths during the first six months of 1952 under 1951. They are Becker, Benton, Brown, Carlston, Cass; Chisago, Clay, Fillmore, Marshall, Otter Tail and Washington counties.

Reductions Set on Fire Insurance Residence Rates

Windstorm and Hail Insurance Rates Rise, Commissioner Reports

In the opinion of M. B. Ryon, manager of the Fire Underwriters Inspection Bureau, improved fire fighting facilities together with a growing consciousness of fire safety on the part of Minnesota householders, are to be credited with the reduction in fire insurance rates on homes just announced by Insurance Commissioner Cyril C. Sheehan, St. Paul.

Reductions range from 12% to 25%, and vary according to construction, locality, and nature of public fire protection. Greatest reductions apply to homes in the northern 17 counties of the state, including Duluth and the Range. Summer cottage rates also are favorably affected by the new schedule.

The growing frequency and severity of storms has resulted, on the other hand, in an increase in wind and hail insurance costs. For dwellings the rate will go up 8c per hundred per year; on public, mercantile, and industrial properties the increase will be about 15%. An alternative program is available to householders, however, whereby existing rates will continue to apply when a $50.00 deductible clause is attached to the policy. Under this plan the policyholder stands the first $50 of wind or hail damage to each dwelling or outbuilding insured. This plan is offered only to householders.

Numerous wind and hail storms in Minnesota have proven the rates for this type of insurance to be inadequate. During the past five years claims of this type on dwellings alone, plus the expense of doing business, amounted to $16,864,000 in Minnesota, compared with premiums paid in of only $13,400,000.

Results of Cattle Tests

One year ago about this time a number of veterinarians were in Pennington county testing all the cattle over 6 months of age. At this time the cattle were tested for both tuberculosis and Bang's disease. A complete summary of the test results has been made by the Minnesota Livestock Sanitary Board which is in charge of this program. As a result of this test Pennington County is again designated as a modified accredited tuberculosis free area.

There were 925 herds tested for tuberculosis. This included 20,167 cattle. Of this they found one reactor and 9 suspects which gives the county a very good record as far as TB is concerned. Although the Bang's test results were not as good it still shows Pennington county in an excellent position as far as this disease is concerned. There were 920 herds tested including 17,785 cattle. Of this number they found 31 reactors and 84 suspects in 74 different herds. Percentages also in the test disclosed a .174% of the cattle infected. This is much lower than any area of the state where the program to eradicate Bang's disease has been in effect.

At the present time the number of infected cattle would be much lower since practically everyone having a suspect or reactor disposed of them and has since retested. If such a program were in effect over the entire state the amount of Bang's disease would, no doubt, decrease to about the same percentage as TB at the present time.

Showing Livestock

This time of the year we usually get a number of questions in regard to health rules and regulations for showing livestock. These regulations are much too long to be mentioned in detail but generally speaking the rule is any livestock shown or exhibited at a public place must be accompanied by a health certificate signed by an authorized veterinarian stating that they have been examined and found disease free.

Grain Variety Plots

Have you seen either of the grain variety plots as yet this year? They are located on the Edgar Naplin farm in Polk Centre township and the Ed Geving farm just south of Goodridge. These plots are established to give you a chance to compare different grain varieties under ordinary local conditions. They are not experimental plots like at the University and no yield tests are taken. They are there so that the different characteristics of the grain varieties can be observed.

Fly Control

About this time of the year fly control really becomes a problem and each year more and more insecticide resistant flies are developing. If DDT and methoxyclor still do the job for you, fine, but if not you will have to try some of the other chemicals. Lindane can be substituted for methoxyclor, chlordane can be used for livestock building surfaces but not in dairy barns or milk rooms.

There are some quick kill materials such as pyrethrum and allethrin which are effective for a short period of time that may be used inside buildings. Insecticides will do the job only if good sanitation around the farm is practiced. Provide enough breeding grounds and you will always have a fly problem.

HAIL! HAIL!

The Hail Insurance selling is drawing to a close for 1953 and I wish to thank all those who have bought this protection through my agency from the MINNESOTA FARMERS MUTUAL.

As the season advances the wonderful crop in Pennington County is improving every day and promises to be the finest we have harvested in at least the last 13 years.

This is your income for this year and you expect to pay expenses and debts if you have any (and who hasn't) so it seems like good business to protect this income with Hail Insurance as Hail is almost the only thing left of disasters that can destroy your crop.

Remember: The Minnesota Farmers Mutual is TOPS in settling Hail losses.

It May Cost Less than the Car You Own!

The beautiful motorcar pictured here is actually priced lower than twenty-two different models of other motorcars built and sold in America.

Its gasoline economy is so extraordinary that it will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline than many cars of far less stature and size.

Its dependability is so great that, over a normal span of ownership, it will probably cost as little to operate and maintain as any car you could buy. Records of certain fleet operators indicate this.

And authoritative records reveal that the Cadillac may be expected to return a greater percentage of its owner's investment, at the time of resale, than any other motorcar built in America.

Perhaps your surprise has changed to concern. For if you happen to own one of the twenty-two cars priced higher than this magnificent Cadillac—or if you own one of the many, many other cars which are very close in price—then you've been needlessly depriving yourself of some of the greatest satisfactions in all the world of motordom.

You've been depriving yourself of Cadillac's brilliant performance . . . its superlative handling ease . . . its marvelous riding comfort . . . its great and inspiring beauty . . . and the deep and abiding pride which comes with ownership of so beloved and respected a possession.

You'll surely agree—that's a lot of things to miss . . . especially when it costs no more to have them in this wonderful, wonderful car!

If you think we might be talking about you—come in and see us. You've already waited too long!

Thrill Tournament Set for July 29, 30 at Pennington Co. Fair

Competition is the backbone of American fairs, whether it be race horses, automobiles, livestock, home products or horticulture and now those daredevils who smash and crash automobiles in the movies and with the thrill circuses will change their daredevilitry from exhibitionism to competition.

The Tournament of Thrills will be a grandstand feature at the 52d annual Pennington county fair Wednesday night, July 29, and Thursday afternoon, July 30, when a dozen or more of the top stuntmen of the country will compete in a series of death-defying events for gold, glory and points toward a national seasonal championship.

Points will be awarded in the tournament to individual competitors and to teams representing some of the top stunt shows. Among teams to compete will be the Chitwood Daredevils, Texas Tornadoes, Hollywood Thrill Drivers and Scottie Krashmen.

The daredevils will test their skill in slides from speeding automobiles, deliberate roll overs of stock automobiles, crashing motorcycles and cars thru walls of fire. They will also, as teams and individuals, compete in exhibitions of skillful and precision driving.

The events are sanctioned by the International Stuntmen's Association of Hollywood, California, to which most of the top daredevils of both the movies and the auto stunt shows belong.

North Central Adopts New Airplane Trim

A unique feather design characterizes the new airplane trim adopted by North Central Airlines. The transport above, commissioned this week as the 16th in the airlines' standardized DC-3 fleet, is the first to display the new red, white and blue artwork.

The trim, chosen after experiments with several other designs, will be applied to all the company's aircraft as they report for major overhaul or modification.

A brilliant red is the dominant color. The feather design appears in red and white with the name "North Central" lettered in blue. Tail and fuselage stripes are red outlined in white. Propeller tips are trimmed in red, and the wingtips are painted red in a sweptback design. The mallard duck insignia is blue over a white full moon outlined in red.

PLEASE HELP ME MAKE A TELEPHONE CALL

Service Representative Kay Wallace scanned the note. Puzzled, she looked at the man who had brought it to her desk in the telephone business office. He touched his mouth and his ear, then shook his head.

"You're deaf and can't speak?" she wrote on a slip of paper. He nodded, reaching for the pencil.

Mrs. Wallace soon learned his need. The handicapped man's wife was ill; he wanted to call relatives out of town.

Quickly she put the call through. "I'm speaking for Mr. Samson . . ." she began. Then as pencilled notes were exchanged, she continued a six-minute conversation.

When the call was finished, her customer's gestures conveyed his thanks. Kay smiled and wrote a last note. "You're welcome. Always glad to lend a hand—or a voice!"

The story you've read here was taken from telephone files. Names have been changed to protect the privacy of people in it. You might meet Kay Wallace, the service representative, in your telephone office. You're sure to meet someone very like her—for her helpfulness is typical of telephone people in every town we serve.

To attract and hold good workers like Kay Wallace, to provide them with proper training to serve you well—your telephone company must have reasonable rates for service. We must stay financially sound to continue to bring good telephone service to everyone who needs it… to continue to make your telephone worth more than it costs.

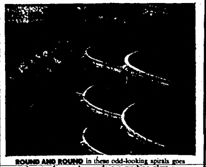
PANNING FOR IRON ORE



ROUND AND ROUND in these odd-looking spirals goes wash water from a low-grade ore washing plant near Crosby, Minn. Plant foreman Andrew Filla is adjusting the water feed. Most of the iron ore has already been recovered in other concentrating machines. Here only the very fine particles, which otherwise would be lost, are reclaimed from the waste. This is just one example of the way Minnesota's iron mining industry seeks to use every bit of available ore. Today, with the ever-increasing use of once-worthless low-grade ores and taconite, there is the promise of an ore supply in Minnesota for generations to come. But these concentrated ores must compete with ores from other areas. They can do so only if the mining industry is accorded fair treatment by the people of Minnesota.

Minnesota Legion Meets August 1-5 at Minneapolis

2,000 Delegates Expected to Attend Convention; Three Parades Scheduled

Three giant parades, drum corps contest, presentation of a score of awards for a variety of activities — these are some of the highlights of the annual convention of the Minnesota Legion in Minneapolis August 1-5.

More than 2,000 delegates are expected to attend the business sessions of the Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary, and the 40-and-8 Legion fun organization.

The big scheduled parades are the spectacular torchlight procession of the 40-and-8, the solemn memorial parade followed by traditional memorial services at the Minneapolis auditorium, and the gigantic convention parade. The latter, scheduled August 4, is expected to attract more than 100,000 spectators to the festive streets of the convention city. Drum corps, bands, marching units, and floats from all parts of the state will be in the line of march.

Convention business program will deal with a variety of problems, including Americanism, subversive activities, youth programs, conservation, rehabilitation, veterans legislation, and child welfare.

Hospital Board Recommends Acceptance of $832,054 Bids

At a meeting Monday night, the board of truste[illegible] Northwestern Hospita[illegible]ation went on record fav[illegible]e letting of contracts to [illegible]w bidders for the constr[illegible] of the addition to Northw[illegible] Hospital and the purch[illegible] equipment included in [illegible] letting held Thursday aft[illegible]. These bids, with the re[illegible]dation of the board, hav[illegible] referred to the state b[illegible] health, representing the [illegible] Public Health Service, fo[illegible]val and for the release of federal matching funds.

Low bids, itemized elsewhere in this issue, total $832,054.87 and are approximately $18,000 in excess of the estimates. This is well within the three per cent margin desired by state and federal officials and no difficulty is anticipated in getting favorable action and authorization for an early start on actual construction. Frank Rinkel, chairman of the building committee, stated that in view of the highly competitive bidding the board was well satisfied with the result.

Nine bidders submitted offers for the general contract, the low bid being below its nearest competitor by more than $10,000 and more than $65,000 below the highest bid. There was much competition for all of the items with five contractors making offers for the plumbing and heating and five for the electrical installations.

The federal grant is adequate to provide for 45% participation in the excess over the estimates, which means that only 55% of this amount will have to be met locally. The hospital board has been assured too that some additional federal funds will be available for contingencies that may occur and that some items of equipment, heretofore excluded in the planning, may now be included if the association is able to match the increased grant.

Paul Lundgren, chairman of the fund raising drive, and Frank Rinkel are meeting with the architect and members of the state board of health today. They also expect to complete financial arrangements with the First National bank of St. Paul, cooperating with local banks in financing the expansion program.

The letting Thursday did not include an item of $62,500 as the estimated cost of equipment and expenses such as architect's fees and other incidentals. With the inclusion of additional equipment and an allowance for contingencies the total cost would run close to the million dollar mark.

Joyce Williams, Robert Apostal Wed at Trinity

Bouquets of white gladioli and lighted tapers in candelabra provided a lovely setting for the wedding of Joyce Ann Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Williams of Thief River Falls, and Robert A. Apostal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Apostol of Duluth, at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 18. Approximately 100 wedding guests witnessed the double ring ceremony, which was solemnized in Trinity Lutheran church, with Rev. G. S. Thompson officiating. Bouquets of pink and white glads decorated the chancel and huckleberry foliage marked each pew.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Art Hamilton, and preceding the ceremony, Miss Katherine McDonnell of Duluth sang Grieg's "I Love Thee" and "The Lords Prayer." As the couple knelt at the altar, Miss McDonnell sang "O Perfect Love." The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was used as the processional and the recessional was from "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon tulle and imported French Chantilly lace over slipper satin. The snug bodice of lace over satin was fashioned with long lace sleeves and a bateau neckline edged with lace and pleated tulle. The full skirt of tiered lace and tulle over satin ended in a chapel train. Her headdress was a pearl-edged Elizabethan crown of Chantilly lace with a fingertip veil of nylon tulle. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink Rumbrum lilies and white glamellia with silvered English ivy. The traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue" was included in the bride's attire.

Attending the bride was her cousin, Mrs. Jerry Mickley of Moorhead, matron of honor, and Mrs. Jean Swanson of Duluth, sister of the groom. The former wore a gown of blush pink, styled with strapless bodice of flocked nylon net over taffeta and was worn with a net stole. The full hoop skirt was of double nylon net over taffeta and featured a "bustle" bow at the back. She wore gauntlets of net over taffeta and a matching net eye veil trimmed with pink daisies. The bridesmaid's costume was identically styled in sapphire blue. Each wore a choker and earrings to match their gowns, gifts of the bride, and carried baskets of asters and daisies with silvered English ivy.

Gregory S. Raymond of Duluth was best man and Ronald Pontinen, also of Duluth, was the groom's other attendant. Robert Campaigne of Duluth and Donald LaSalle of Roseau served as ushers. The men of the wedding party wore formal dinner costumes.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Williams chose a summer suit of ice blue with white accessories and the mother of the groom wore a suit of light gray with navy and white accessories. Each had a corsage of pink Rapture roses.

For the reception following the ceremony, the church parlors were decorated with baskets and bouquets of pink and white gladioli, carnations, and roses, and the bridal table featured a three-tiered wedding cake topped with pink asters and daisies. Hostess was Mrs. Henry Ristau, aunt of the bride. Lorraine Olson cut the wedding cake, Marguerite Bender provided reception music, and Miss Pat Lane poured. Mrs. Elmer Christianson and Miss Arlette Kleinvachter were in charge of gifts. Miss Nadine Rodger poured punch, while Mrs. Don LaSalle registered the guests. Waitresses were Mrs. Glenn Peterson, Mrs. Derwood Lund, Mrs. Harley Wagner, and Mrs. Julian Lendobeja, Jr. A luncheon for members of the wedding party and out of town guests was held at noon in the Terrace Room of the Rex cafe.

As the couple left on their wedding trip to Niagara Falls and the east coast, the bride was wearing a light blue and white suit, with navy and white accessories and the corsage from her bouquet. They will return August 5 to make their home in Duluth, where the groom will receive his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch, in June 1954. Kern Olson of Thief River Falls, who presided at the meeting, was nominated as a regional vice president to be official delegate to the state federation of conservation clubs convention in August.

Local Scout Tells of National Jamboree

An interesting account of the experiences of the local Boy Scouts attending the national Jamboree near Santa Ana, California, is contained in the following letter written to The Times Saturday by Gene Bratsch, senior patrol leader:

Santa Ana, California
July 18, 1953

I have been chosen to cover the National Boy Scout Jamboree for The Times. It is my duty to send you the news of this encampment.

Yesterday, July 17, was the official opening day. The third National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America officially opened at 9:00 with all troops raising the troop colors on their own campsites.

Then last night at 8:30 all 50,000 scouts and leaders from every state in the union and seventeen foreign countries massed in the natural amphitheater here at Irvine Ranch on the shores of the Pacific for the first convocation. After various greetings from Scout officials and officials of the State of California, the main part of the program commenced with a pageant depicting the "Westward Movement" from the time after the Revolutionary War to the present. This concluded at 10:30.

Then all scouts moved very orderly back to their various campsites.

This was but the first of four mass groupings here. The second is tomorrow, Sunday night, at 8:30 and is based on the theme "My Duty to God". Vice President Richard Nixon is to speak and all 50,000 scouts will light candles and re-dedicate themselves to their obedience to the Scout Oath and Law.

Tuesday night is Hollywood All-Star night, when the scouts will get a chance to see many of their favorite stars in person. There will also be fireworks.

Then Thursday night, the last of the mass ceremonies will be held; the closing ceremony called "The Cavalcade of Scouting."

The three nights when there are no convocations are reserved for sectional, unit, and inter-unit campfires, where the scouts supply the talent.

Day-time hours are spent swimming in the ocean, hiking, visiting, trading, campfire rehearsals, sectional and unit demonstrations, and working for Jamboree Achievement awards in various crafts and skills.

That is the complete Jamboree program; here are a few things on the mechanics of the Jamboree. The camp is being held on the Irvine Ranch just south of Los Angeles, near the towns of Balboa, Newport Beach, and Corona del Mar.

The scouts are using 3,000 acres of the ranch for the camp free of charge. The 3,000 acres are divided into 38 sections with about 30 troops in every section. A troop is made up of 32 scouts and three scoutmasters. The scouts are divided into four patrols with eight scouts in each.

The duties of eating, sleeping, and cooking are all performed in patrols, with all the duties rotated among the scouts in the patrol. All cooking is in two-man tents.

First in rank of the troop is the senior scoutmaster, followed by the first assistant scoutmaster in charge of physical arrangements and the second assistant in charge of program. Next in line is the boy leader of the troop, called the senior patrol leader, followed by the patrol leaders and their assistants.

The scouts from the Thief River Falls area are members of the Lake Agassiz Concil contingent. The leaders are Morris Owen, Thief River Falls, senior scoutmaster; Paul Dahl, Grafton, first assistant, and Neil Mattson, Warren, second assistant. The senior patrol leader is Gene Bratsch of Thief River Falls and the four patrol leaders are Tom Krolak of Stephen, Carl Lisdug of Roseau, Chesley Sommers of Warren and Ron Burt of Cavalier.

Sen. Thye Urges Farmers to Vote on Wheat Quotas

Referendum on Question of Marketing Quotas Is Scheduled for August 14

Senator Edward J. Thye of Minnesota has issued the following statement urging eligible farmers to participate in the referendum August 14 on the question of marketing quotas for the 1954 wheat crop:

"Although Congress has acted to permit wheat growers to plant 62 million acres next year, instead of the previous minimum of 55 million acres, it was mandatory under the law for the Secretary of Agriculture to proclaim marketing quotas for the 1954 crop. There are no wheat marketing quotas now. There have been none since 1942. They are invoked, subject to a referendum of wheat growers, when the surplus is more than 120% of the normal supply. The supply of wheat on June 30 148% of normal, as a result of recent record harvests, and marketing quotas for the 1954 crop were proclaimed.

"The acreage for wheat this year is estimated at more than 78 million acres. Congress acted to place the new minimum at 62 million acres because we realized that the previous minimum national acreage allotment of 55 million acres would have required a 30% reduction from the present acreage. This would have been too severe and would have proved uneconomical for many producers.

"Marketing quotas and acreage allotments provide an equitable method by which the producers of the country can reduce their production in order to adjust the supply to the demand. Congress has found it necessary to authorize marketing quotas in order to carry out an effective reduction while continuing to make the price support program workable.

"With the adjustment by Congress in placing the minimum national acreage allotment for 1954 at 62 million acres, the marketing quota program which will be voted upon should prove to be the best method by which wheat producers can maintain their prices and farm income. If the marketing quota is approved in the referendum, price support will be at 90% of parity. If the quota is disapproved, price support would be at only 50% of parity on the 1954 crop. In other words, if the quotas fail to carry in the vote, government price supports would drop from about $2.21 a bushel to $1.23 a bushel.

"I urge very strongly that every farmer eligible participate in this referendum. We have too much wheat and there is only one way to correct this and that is to reduce the overall wheat acreage that will be planted for the 1954 crop."

Council Receives Pleas for Water Service in City

It also was voted to call for bids to be opened August 18 on two sidewalk, curb and gutter projects recently petitioned for.

Approval by the council were building permits with a stated value of $67,000. Included in the proposed construction is a $5,000 warehouse to be built by the Pure Oil company on Main av. S. on the Great Northern right-of-way, and six new residences to be built by Harold Langseth at 340 Tindolph av. N.; Susie and Matt Schalz on State av. N.; John Ranum, Crocker av. S.; John Scholin, Riverside av.; Verner B. Johnson, Kneale av. S.; and Roy Ranum, 206 Merriam av. S.

City Clerk P. G. Pederson reported that a petition filed in June objecting to the condition of a junkyard maintained by the Phillips Auto Wrecking Co. on the Great Northern right-of-way bore the signatures of more than half the property owners within a radius of 300 feet. City Attorney Robert A. Wurst was instructed to serve notice on the owner or lessee of the property that a hearing will be conducted next Tuesday evening, July 28.

Judge Paul A. Lundgren of the Northwestern Hospital board told the council that low bids on the hospital addition had been accepted subject to approval of federal authorities, and that he felt it was in order for the council to proceed with the sale by the city of a $200,000 bond issue to aid in financing the project.

The council voted to end confusion in authority by placing W. Jablinski in full charge of mosquito-fogging operations for the remainder of the summer.

Acting favorably on the recommendation of Police Chief Ken Judy, the council promoted Larry Runger from patrolman to captain.

C. W. Pope, commanding officer of the local Civil Air Patrol, was given authority to install a radio receiving and transmitting antenna on the roof of the front part of the arena. The equipment, he pointed out, will be used in connection with civil defense activities.

L. A. Ihle, president of the Civic and Commerce association, received a favorable reaction from the council when he asked the opinion of its members as to the advisability of a group of citizens petitioning district court to appoint a charter commission to study the city charter with a view to bringing it up to date.

Civic & Commerce in Joint Session with Jr. Chamber proved street lighting, particularly on trunk highways passing thru the city.

Wm. Scott of the Westinghouse Electric Co., who was present stated that a mercury vapor system giving a great deal more light than the present system would cost approximately $1,600 to $2,000 per city block to install, but that it would pay for itself over a period of years thru the saving in current consumption.

Following the discussion, in which Carl Gjernes voiced doubt that a start could be made on the project this year, those present adopted a resolution offered by Dr. Blasskow requesting the city council to study the proposal.

Walter Kavanaugh, Jaycee president, reported that the group had recently completed its city-wide house-numbering project, and that it will soon initiate a project calling for the Scotchliting of automobile bumpers as a safety measure when driving at night. He also stated that Miss Gail Thieling this week is representing the local chapter as a contestant in the Queen of the Lakes contest in connection with the Aquatennial in Minneapolis.

Public Opinion

Editor the Times:

We note the editorial in the Times in which Syngman Rhee is categorically called a stupid obstructionist and good-for-nothing but throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery of progress.

We must be confused. As we understand it, Syngman Rhee was the man who was at the head of a nation threatened by Communism. A pugnacious Truman, feeling particularly chesty that morning in June of 1951, ordered our troops to move in and help this Syngman Rhee and his people repel the Communist forces which threatened their country.

Now, after three years of war, hundreds of thousands of American casualties, destruction to Rhee's nation, we want to leave his country, destroyed beyond measure, and overwhelmed by a foreign foe, the Chinese which he did not have at the onset of this Truman's war.

Because this man Rhee voices strong protest at this desertion of principles on the part of the United States, he becomes a vicious and unprincipled character.

Let us now, Mr. Editor, be consistent. When George Washington fought a losing battle against the forces of the British no American called him a stupid obstructionist because he opposed the wishes of the British Crown. Without the help of the French he may have gone down in defeat. The French did not decide that Washington was a stupid dolt and leave him deserted on the battlefield.

We know that we should never have permitted this politician from Missouri to lead us into a war which we could never win. We further know that the United States must retreat from this battlefield ingloriously and without honor. By all that we hold dear however, honor, love of liberty and freedom, let us refrain from casting words of vituperation at an old man, who is standing amid the ruins of his country, deserted and abandoned by all those noble allies who spoke big words but when the going got tough, ran like yellow dogs.

Sincerely
Henry Iverson

Editor Times:

The mosquito and fly situation in our city has become almost unbearable, so I investigated and found that the machine that we taxpayers have bought for the purpose of controlling these pests has stood still the past three weeks.

This machine sits idle in the city garage and alongside of it are hundreds of gallons of DDT concentrate. Why?

Further investigation revealed that the mayor and council have had a quarrel about how this machine should be run, and therefore they can't agree so we must suffer. So it sits idle.

Why can't these grown men iron this out and start spraying or turn their jobs over to the Boy Scouts.

If you doubt the above go to the Street Garage and ask some questions. The machine belongs to you and me. Maybe next winter, they will argue about our snow plows or our water works or sewer works—What then?—Mrs. Inman Nelson, 1216 N. Arnold.

How to Control Overweight to Be Shown at Avalon

How to control overweight pleasantly under your doctor's approval—that's the message of the entertaining cartoon short, "Cheers For Chubby." The film will be shown at the Avalon Theater on July 29 and 30.

House Passes Bill to End Movie Tax

The House of Representatives in Washington Monday overwhelmingly passed a bill to repeal the 20 per cent federal tax on motion picture tickets. President Eisenhower had opposed the legislation.

Passage came after supporters painted a dark picture of distress among small town and neighborhood theaters, caused chiefly by competition from television entertainment.

The proposal now goes to the Senate.

Attend The Fair

Next week one of the most important 4-H events of the year takes place — the Pennington County fair. 4-H members from all the clubs will be competing for trips to the State Fair and blue ribbons. I hope every member can take part in one of the many activities from Wednesday through Saturday. At the fair 4-H'ers have an opportunity to compare their work with others and to learn how to do things better. This can be one of the most educational events of the year for every member as well as the most enjoyable.

Farm Safety Week

This week, July 19-25, has been proclaimed as National Farm Safety Wek. The slogan this year is "Farm to Live and Live to Farm." Each year we have quite a number of farm accidents which are avoidable if we'd but take a little more time to do a job. Many are guilty of operating tractors with a small child riding with them; others let children who are not yet capable to run tractors, trucks, and cars. Stop and think before you do anything that seems unsafe —there may be a safer way to do it.

On-the-farm Storage

It's good business to have adequate on-the-farm storage, especially in years of big grain supply such as 1953.

With adequate storage, you are in a position to spread your marketing, taking advantage of any price increases later in the year. Without it, you may be forced to sell on a low-price market at harvest time.

1. Satisfactory bins can be built at 35-50 cents per bushel capacity. Less costly temporary structures are adequate for ear corn to be fed during the year.

2. The increase in prices for grain crops stored and sold later in the year, as contrasted with sales at harvest time, often runs as much as 25-50 cents a bushel. This would pay for a lot of storage.

3. Capable farm managers often pay for on-farm storage bins or cribs in two or three years—and have the bins left for future use.

4. You can borrow up to 80 per cent of the cost of the structures, with four years to pay and at 4 per cent interest. Consult your banker or PMA office.

Plans concerning farm storage of grain are available at the office through the Midwest Farm Plan Service. Information on resealing, facility loan and other government program aids may be obtained from the county agent and local farmer committeemen.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

THE VETERAN ASKS:

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration Offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: I am the widow of a World War I veteran, and I'm drawing Civil Service retirement benefits based on my husband's employment in the Government. Am I supposed to count this money, in figuring my annual income for the purpose of getting a VA pension?

A: Yes. The retirement benefits, which you get on the basis of your husband's employment, must be considered in determining whether your annual income comes within the ceilings set by law for VA pension purposes.

Q: I've just gotten out of service and I've gone to work with an aircraft company as a test pilot. I plan to take out the special term insurance for Korean veterans, but first I want to know if the policy contains any restrictions as to hazardous occupations.

A: Your GI insurance ploicy contains no restrictions as to hazardous occupations. You may engage in any job, without altering the terms of your contract or the amount of your premiums.

Q: I understand that under the Korean GI Bill night law courses are counted as part-time training, and may not be measured as more than three-quarters time. Are there an exceptions?

A: Yes. Night law courses approved as full-time courses under standards set by the American Bar Association may be considered as full-time training for purposes of the Korean GI Bill.

Q: How much money will VA pay a veteran taking correspondence training under the Korean GI Bill?

A: VA will pay the established charge which the correspondence school requires nonveterans to pay for the same course.

Aasland Hurls 1-hit Game as the Thieves Swamp Shelly 17 to 0

With lefty LeRoy Aasland giving up but one hit, that a scratch single in the 6th inning, the Thieves mauled the Shelly team, 17 to 0, in a Red River Valley league game played on the Fair Grounds diamond on Sunday afternoon. The victory maintained the local club's one-half game lead over the runner-up Crookston Pirates in the league standings, with the Pirates scoring a 11 to 2 triumph over Viking.

On Sunday evening at 8:15 the Thieves will be placing their league lead "on the line" when they meet manager Ken Dupuis' Crookston Pirates on the Red Lake Falls diamond. On Friday night, the locals are slated to travel to Warroad for a game against the Warroad Lakers, playing the exhibition contest under the lights.

Except for the 1st inning, when a pair of walks, an error, and a fielder's choice put Shelly runners in scoring position, LeRoy Aasland hurled nifty ball for the Thieves. Sharp defensive play, with Joey Poole making a throw to the plate to nip Bill Groafield after fielding Dennis Satermo's ground ball; and Swede Lund's accurate throw to catch Satermo as he tried to steal second, being the factors in erasing the Shelly threat.

An error on Sid Vraa's fly ball to right field and Poole's double gave the Thieves a run in the 1st inning. With two men away in the 2nd inning, a single by Gerry Stevens, an error, a walk to Williamson, a single by Sid Vraa, an error, a triple by Gene Leslie, and single by Larry Perkins, shoved six runs across the plate. Vraa's single came with the bags loaded and accounted for three scores, with the runners taking off on the three-two pitch. Swede Lund doubled to right-center, moving Perkins around to third, but Jack Hoppe ended the frame by lofting to first base.

The Thieves added a pair of runs in the 3rd inning, with Al Williamson's triple and Sid Vraa's single being the pay-off blows. The locals marked up a three-run cluster in the 4th inning, and padded their scoring total with two-run rallies in the 5th and 6th innings, closing out their game scoring with a singleton in the 7th inning.

While the Thieves were pounding the southpaw slants of Shelly's Kenny Stellon for nineteen hits, the visitors were having difficulty in solving Aasland's assortment of pitches. In the 6th inning, with two men out, Dennis Satermo scratched a hit that Aasland knocked down but did not recover in time to make a play for an out.

The Thieves' young keystone combination, shortstop Sid Vraa and second baseman Joey Poole, came up with a first-rate double play in the 5th inning. With Larry Doeden on first base on a walk, Ames Holte sent a ground ball to Poole. Joey flipped the ball to Vraa at second, and Sid's whiplike throw to Perkins completed the double play. Sid Vraa, moved up to second place in the batting order, snapped a season-long slump by pounding but three hits in four trips to the plate and driving in five runs.

Thieves Win in Exhibition Tilt with R. L. Falls

In an exhibition game played under lights at Red Lake Falls' Riverside Park on Wednesday night, the Thieves marked up a 11 to 9 triumph over the Lakers, with lefty LeRoy Aasland going the distance for the locals.

Leading the Thieves' hitting attack on the Lakers' imported hurler, Orv Bergman, was Gene Leslie, who clubbed Bergman's righthanded slants for five safeties. The local club had the services of Bud Olson behind the plate, and the former Karlstad coach turned in able game with the mitt, and proved a power with the bat.

Schedule, July 26th:
Crookston vs. T. R. Falls at Red Lake Falls.
Nielsville at Shelly.
Warren-Argyle at Alvarado.
Viking at Red Lake Falls.

An important change was made in the Red River Valley league schedule for Sunday. There is a possibility that several of the Thieves' young and important members will be playing with the local junior Legion club in the sub-district tourney at Argyle on Sunday afternoon. The Thieves' business manager, Harold Johnson, has made arrangements whereby the Crookston Pirates vs. Thief River Falls game, which was to have been played here, will be transferred to Red Lake Falls' Riverside game and played there under the lights on Sunday night, with game time at 8:15 p. m.

Thunderstorms forced postponement of two of the four league games on last Sunday's schedule. In the two games that were played, the league-leading Thieves, by trouncing Shelly, 17 to 0, protected their half-game lead over the runner-up Crookston Pirates, who defeated Viking, 11 to 2, at Viking. Sunday night's game between the Thieves and the Pirates at Red Lake Falls could prove to be the most important of the season, with the league championship being at stake.

Legion Juniors to Meet EGF Tonight

Locals Take Alvarado 9 to 1 Tuesday Evening

Coach Ralph Skjod's Legion junior baseball team defeated the Alvarado Juniors, 9 to 1, in a game played on the Fair Grounds diamond Tuesday evening. This evening, with the game scheduled to start at 6:15 p. m., the locals will wind-up their pre-tournament schedule when they play the East Grand Forks juniors on the Fair Grounds diamond.

On Saturday afternoon at Argyle, with game time at 1:30 p. m. the local juniors will play their first round game in the sub-district tourney, meeting the Warroad juniors. At 3:00 p. m. Alvarado will play Roseau in a first round elimination. On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. the winners of the Saturday games will play for the sub-district title.

Last evening's game was featured by a triple play completed by the locals in the 2nd inning. With the bases loaded, Dennis Bergman, who played in the Alvarado lineup even though he is over the age limit, smashed a line drive at pitcher Sid Vraa. Vraa made the catch, whipped the ball to Rodney Collins at third base to retire Bob Bergman, and Collins threw to first baseman Darryl Durgin was in time to complete the triple play.
